

REPUBLICANS WILL BE FORCED TO ENTER THE JUNE PRIMARY

(Continued from page one) aries, and unless Mr. Newell's friends take the time and trouble to go to the polls on primary day and vote for Newell, the Shelby man might be nominated by default. The primary results will be binding, and if DePriest should be given more votes in the primary than Mr. Newell receives, he would be declared the Republican nominee for United States Senate.

DePriest is running on a "wet" platform. He wants the prohibition laws repealed. Mr. Newell is noted as an ardent dry, and the State platform adopted at Charlotte by the Republicans contains a dry plank.

Some Democratic leaders have had a notion that the Republican leaders placed DePriest in the primary in order, they say, that the Republican judges would have to be used in the June primary elections.

Some Republican leaders, on the other hand, express belief that some of Senator Morrison's friends are backing DePriest in his race for the Senate, hoping thereby to weaken Bob Reynolds, running for nomination on the Democratic ticket for the Senate on a wet platform, and to cause a split in the Republican party on the wet-dry issue.

Best informed men, however, seem to hold to the belief that Mr. DePriest, a worn-out politician of the diehard type, is in the race on his own hook, craving notoriety and the limelight.

NOSTALGIA

(By Mrs. Carolyn Thrash Dorsett) I see the hills—high for hills— That shadow the seeping plains. I can see the mountain brush and pine, Dripping in the wintry rains. The rugged bridle trail— When I ride in the City streets, To catch a song from a spoken word—or sit at a Pagan's feet. I feel the whip of the mountain winds and the sting— While I choke in the fog and smoke. I can hear the songs of the Mountain streams— I bartered for the babble of City folks— I lose the grip on the God I know— To mumble among the creeds— Oh! rocks and pines and far—high hills— Hear the cry of a broken reed.

PRESIDENT JEROME CALLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO MEET

(Continued from page one) according to the will of the members. Plans will be made for a secretary of the body to be employed to take charge of the tourists work during the summer season. A large number of citizens have expressed themselves in regard to the prospects for the summer season and the majority of the predictions are optimistic, the writer not having heard any to the contrary.

Plans are to be made for obtaining just as much tourist business for the summer season as can be brought to Transylvania county, and the importance of this work is found in the fact that the only promise for financial and business relief within the immediate future for this community lies in the amount of tourist business done here during the rapidly approaching summer season.

Property owners who have houses and apartments for rent, hotels and boarding house proprietors, farmers, truckers and dairymen with produce and dairy products for sale, business houses catering to the public, camp officials, and all people directly or indirectly interested in the increase of business during the summer months should be at the meeting Friday evening and take part in the big task that is to be performed.

This community has prospects of having the biggest summer season it has ever known, from the standpoint of numbers of people coming to this section for the summer vacation.

There are advantages favoring this community never before possessed by Transylvania county. Completion of highways leading into and through the county opens up vast possibilities. Interest created in upper South Carolina through completion of the Brevard-Greenville highway will result in bringing hundreds of people to this section who have not been coming here in past years. Work on the county roads that will enable the summer people to go far back into the beautiful sections of the county, off the main highways, will prove of great value. The moderate cost of board and rent here will bring many people who have been going to places more expensive, but who cannot now spend the summer months at their accustomed resorts.

But there is work to do by the people here, if the community is to reap the benefits of these conditions. Certain facts must be made known to the public, if the people are to know about all of the great advantages to be found here. That is what the meeting is called to plan this Friday evening. The summer season of 1932 will be exactly what the people of this community make it.

Every man and woman who is interested in making this coming season a great success should attend Friday evening's meeting.

BASEBALL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED HERE FOR SUMMER SPORT

(Continued from page one) Rosman on Little River will select a manager at an early date. All the members of the different teams represented Saturday night expressed themselves as being delighted with the organization and showed much enthusiasm toward a successful season in baseball.

The playing will be done on the plan of a split season, the winners each half to play off the "little world series." There will be approximately 18 games played during the season if present plans are fulfilled. The opening game will be played at the McLean field Saturday May 7, schedule to be announced later.

Saturday evening of this week has been set for a meeting of the managers and officers to schedule games for the season and make other necessary plans.

Saturday afternoon, Penrose and Brevard will play a practice game on the McLean field.

SENATOR MORRISON IN HARD CAMPAIGN

Appealing To Voters In Eastern Carolina For Support In Primary

Raleigh, April 27.—Senator Cameron Morrison dropped down from Washington long enough last week to visit several eastern centers, give the lie to the traducers who say he is controlled by the interests in which Mrs. Morrison has investments. He said that he sought to influence the 1931 General Assembly to postpone revaluation, and defend his support of Frank R. McNinch as a member of the Federal Power Commission, explaining that McNinch was as good a Democrat as a Republican President ever appoints and that the post would have gone to another state if he had not supported his neighbor.

Robert E. Reynolds, Asheville, "most" candidate and looked upon as Senator Morrison's most formidable opponent, flew down to Raleigh to file notice of his candidacy and post the required $50, continuing into the east for speaking engagements. Thomas C. Bowie continues his campaign on relief for land owners and Frank D. Grist is calling for a return of the government to the people. All are expected to be very active for the next five or six weeks.

The gubernatorial race has settled to a steady hard pull. None of the candidates are hurling the stones, or even moss, at each other as they were a few weeks ago, or at least it does not get into print. R. T. Fountain has now opened a Raleigh headquarters, in charge of James L. DeLaney, Charlotte, steps taken early by J. C. B. Ehringhaus and later by A. J. Maxwell. Commencement addresses of the three candidates have been interposed with political speeches.

The Ehringhaus forces have been engaged in county organization in recent days. Manager L. P. McLendon announcing chairman and managers in several counties.

There are the main State-wide political activities, except that Senator J. R. Baggett, Harnett, has decided not to run for Attorney General, leaving that race to Dennis G. Brummitt, incumbent, and Senator Peyton McSwain, Cleveland. Insurance Commissioner Dan C. Boney is opposed by D. W. Morton, Beaufort.

Fur is flying in the new Sixth Congressional district, where half a dozen are seeking the new seat, with Solicitor W. B. Umstead, Durham, probably leading. Rivers D. Johnson, Warsaw, is giving Rep. C. L. Abernethy a race in the Third, and J. Q. Gilkey, Marion, may make it warm for Rep. Zebulon Weaver, in the new Eleventh. John H. Folger will not oppose Rep. Frank Hancock in the Fifth.

BREVARD GIRL AT GREENSBORO MEET

Miss Beddingfield will represent the counties of Henderson, Transylvania, Buncombe, Polk, Madison, Yancey, and Mitchell. She won 2nd place in the contest last year and her friends of musical talent predict for her a second victory in this contest.

The party will return Sunday.

CALL ISSUED FOR CONVENTION HERE

Call has been issued for the regular county convention to be held in the court house at Brevard on Friday, May 20, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. District meetings are called for Saturday afternoon, May 14, at 3 o'clock, when delegates will be named to the county convention. The convention call is going out to precinct officers throughout the county this week.

This will be the regular convention for nominating candidates for county offices, the selection of a county chairman and a county executive committee.

Rev. Harry Perry of the Episcopal church read the Invocation and Rev. R. L. Alexander of the Presbyterian church read the benediction.

The play was carried out through three distinct acts, a camp scene, Court room, and farewell banquet. Between acts the Grammar Grade Harmonica Band rendered several numbers, as did Misses Anita Gallows and Dorothy Everett and Miss Rheumma Beddingfield.

The principal features of the Campus scene were the Welcome Song by the Class, the President's Address by Jane Pearce, and the Class Poem by Louise Gillespie.

The Court room scene was carried out in very formal and legal manner the case being that of the Senior Class of Brevard High school versus the Faculty for their diplomas. The case was tried before a bearded Judge, this part being acted by Frisco Sentell. The lawyer for defense was Walter Ashworth, and the prosecuting attorney Miss Thelma Johnson. Representative seniors were Wilson Middleton, Leslie McGuire and Floy Ponder, Essie Norton as Mrs. Pat Kinzey, John Collins as Prof. Jones, and Brona Sharp as Miss Bromfield were the defendants. All the witnesses were called to the stand and tried before an empaneled jury.

The court scene was entirely complete, with lawyers, court reporters, Clerk of Court, sheriff and other officials taking part.

The jury made their verdict in favor of the Seniors and the Judge ruled that they be allowed to receive their diplomas, Friday evening.

The Farewell Banquet scene drew the careful attention of the audience with Miss Emma Deaver, Toast Mistress, Mildred Hayes, Giftorian, Randall Lankford, testator, and Winifred Nicholson, Prophetess.

Generous gifts were made to the sponsors of the Senior Class, Miss Jessie Copp and Miss Sarah Keels, in addition to a check for $40.00 which was presented to the school to be used for scenery for the stage.

The Class Mascots played an important and interesting part in the program. Little Miss Carolyn Kinzey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinzey read "Little Orphan Annie", in a charming manner and George Simpson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, sang one of the latest song hits.

Marshalls for the three Commencement exercises were: Ruth Pickelstimer, chief; Hla Mae Scruugs, Justine Wright, Mary Willis Burgett, Robert Pearce, Merrimon Shuford and Clyde Shuford.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN MAKES EFFORT HAVE TAX SALE POSTPONED

"It is true, of course, that it costs much less to pay taxes when due, and thus avoid the penalties, the cost of sale, if the property is actually sold for taxes. But if the land or property is worth anything at all or worth more than the amount of the taxes, the owner or owners have ample opportunity to redeem it any time within three and a half years from the time the taxes were due."

Here is the procedure with regard to the collection of taxes and the sale of land for taxes, made mandatory upon sheriffs and county commissioners in the laws bearing on this subject enacted by the General Assembly:

Taxes become due the first Monday in October for that year. No penalty is assessed on these taxes until February, when the penalty starts at 1 per cent in February, 2 per cent in March, 3 per cent in April and 4 per cent in May.

The first Monday in May, the sheriff or tax collector must report to the board of County Commissioners the list of all taxpayers to date, and the names of these property holders must be advertised each week for four weeks, together with the amount of taxes due, to notify them that their property will be sold for taxes the first Monday in June. Any of these property holders may, of course, pay the amount of the taxes due plus the cost of advertising, before the first Monday in June and thus save their property from being sold.

If these taxes penalties and costs are not paid by the first Monday in June, the sheriff or tax collector has no other choice but to sell the property upon payment of the taxes and costs shown on the certificate of sale. If the purchaser of the property is a county or municipality, the original owner has from 16 to 24 months in which to redeem it, before a foreclosure suit can be started.

If the purchaser of the property is a county or municipality, as is usually the case, the law requires that a summons must be served on the original owner within 16 months after the sale of the property, and that a foreclosure suit must be instituted with 25 months. During this period the certificate of the sale bears 10 per cent interest for the first 12 months and 8 per cent thereafter until redeemed or until foreclosure deed is obtained.

After the foreclosure suit has been brought, another period of six months is allowed in which to give notice of the suit to any interested parties, so that the suit cannot be tried and judgment rendered, another 30 days must intervene before the judgment can be made final, to permit the advertising of the commissioner's sale. The law then requires that the bid shall be held open for another 15 days to permit any other higher bids to be offered. If no other bids are received and the property not redeemed by the owner, the judgment then becomes final and the foreclosure deed and title goes to the county municipality or individual who bid it in at the sale two years, seven months and 15 days before, and almost three and a half years after the taxes were first due.
