

MR. SINIARD'S PET CROW IN R. R. WRECK

"I am 73 today and feeling fine and dandy," said C. M. Siniard to The Brevard News Saturday when he dropped in for a little chat.

Mr. Siniard, a native of this county is widely known and admired.

Mr. Siniard was elated over his recent trip to Asheville for the annual Rhododendron festival. According to Mr. Siniard he looks forward every year to this celebration as it occurs on his birthday, and he has attended the festival for a number of years.

He referred to his pet crow, known as Tom, which recently had its right wing crushed by a motor car on the railroad, thus making it necessary to amputate the wing. The bird is improving rapidly however, Mr. Siniard asserts and is resuming its pep and enthusiasm.

"Tom" is the seventh crow which Mr. Siniard has raised and he now has another which flies about the farm tamer than the chickens. It will eat out of his hand and fly from the air to light on his shoulder to be talked to and petted.

"Before his accident," Mr. Siniard said, "Tom would take a bath each day using only clear water, however since losing his wing he has omitted his daily plunge."

Mr. Siniard believes that the crow is one of the most interesting and amusing pets and he can relate a number of incidents concerning his feathered friends to support his belief.

A TRAMP'S ELOQUENT LECTURE

Contributed by, GUY GALLOWAY.

Lake Toxaway, N. C.

A tramp asked for a free drink in a saloon. The request was granted, and when, in the act of drinking the proffered beverage, one of the young men present exclaimed, "Stop. Make us a speech. It is poor liquor that doesn't loosen a man's tongue."

The tramp hastily swallowed the drink, and as the rich liquor coursed through his blood, he straightened himself and stood before them with a grace and dignity that all his dirt and rags could not obscure.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I look tonight at you and myself, and it seems to me I look upon the picture of my lost manhood. This bloated face was once young and handsome like yours. This shambling figure was once as proud as yours, a man in the world among men. I, too, once had a home, friends, and position. I had a wife as beautiful as an artist's dream, and I dropped the priceless pearl of her honor and respect in the wine cup, and, Cleopatra-like, saw it dissolve and quaffed it down in the brimming draught. I had children as sweet as the flowers of spring and saw them fade and die under the blighted curse of a drunken father. I had a home where love lit the flames upon the altar, and ministered before it, and put out the bold fire and darkness and desolation reigned in its stead. I had aspirations and ambition that soared as high as the morning star; I broke and bruised their beautiful wings and at last strangled them that I might hear their cries no more. Today I am a husband without a wife, a father without a child, a tramp without a home to call his own, a man in whom every good impulse is dead, and all swallowed up in the maelstrom of drink."

ROSMAN WINS THRILLER FROM PENROSE TEAM

Some costly errors caused Penrose to lose to Rosman Saturday's game with score 6-4. Staton did some nice twirling for Rosman allowing only 3 hits. Williams more than did his part in striking out 16 and allowing 8 hits. Penrose fielders just didn't or couldn't get in and back him.

Score by innings:
Penrose 100 100 200-4
Rosman 002 103 00x-6

Penrose plays Pisgah at Penrose Saturday.

PISGAH FOREST TO MEET PENROSE SATURDAY

Pisgah Forest's baseball nine will play the Penrose aggregation on the latter's field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the Rosman boys will meet the Lake Toxaway team on the Toxaway diamond.

The four teams of the Sylvan Valley League under the direction of C. M. Douglas have played some very snappy and interesting games thus far in the season excelling even the expectations of the managers when the season was opened.
