

USE CANNED FOODS TO BALANCE DIET

Not only does canning surplus vegetables and fruits in summer save money in winter and assure the family of an adequate food supply but it also improves the general health of the family by balancing the diet.

"Some 250 farm women in Pitt County have learned this important lesson," says Miss Ethel Nice, home agent. "We have been studying foods and nutrition in our 11 home demonstration clubs of this county during the past two years and we have found that good nutrition and canning go hand in hand. In 1931, there were 18 canning demonstrations given before the club women and as a result, 75,258 jars of fruits and vegetables were saved by canning and preserving. If this food was valued at only 20 cents a quart, the total would amount to $15,051.60. While this saving is an important item at a time when money is scarce, the more important thing is the better health of the farm families having a better balanced diet."

For two years now, Pitt farm women have studied the value of the different foods and the part they play in nutrition of the body. In 1931, the women studied cereals, vegetables and eggs. So far this year, the studies have centered about meats, salads and breads. There are few club women who do not know the essentials of a good diet and how to prepare meals that will supply the balanced diet necessary to continued good health. The women are now purchasing pressure cookers so that they may can surplus meats and other products. These canners are supplied by Greenville merchants and paid for in fresh and canned produce, Miss Nice says.

There are 3,721 white farm families in Pitt County and the goal of the home demonstration forces is to reach each of these this season so that they may serve a balanced diet next winter.

AS TO DRIVING

Editor Brevard News,
On Sunday afternoon upon the main street of Brevard one of the most tragic accidents was advertised by some means of Providence. This accident almost occurred at the intersection of West Main street and Caldwell Avenue. This is one of the most dangerous intersections in town. The view on entering both streets is obstructed by the buildings until anyone can not see the traffic on Main street or Caldwell avenue until after they have entered the intersection.

Now what I want to know is this: If Brevard is such a large town that she can write City on the limit boards that mark her boundaries, why in the world can't she have a few stop signs written in the streets or a few red lights erected? While we are trying to boost Brevard as the best town in Western North Carolina for the tourists to spend their vacation, and trying to get people located here from all parts of the world, we are making no provision what so ever to protect them while they are traveling upon our streets. Some say that you should slow down, stop, look, and listen; but what are you going to do when trying to be careful and the other fellow trying to bump you off and send you to H— sooner than you prefer going?

The town of Brevard has made a one-way street out of one of its dangerous streets, after three or four accidents had occurred. Why can't the town of Brevard take warning before some one is killed and some driver is sent to the penitentiary and make those intersections safer for the public? Are we going to sit calmly by until it is too late before we can get off the dime and do something that would protect us now, and in the future?

The Representatives and Senators sent from this county and others; each year pass numerous petty laws that are not for the good of all the people. Why don't some of them wake up and pass one requiring all drivers in the State of North Carolina to be examined by the Highway department and a driver's license covering a period of three or four years be issued. Then if he was in a wreck, or driving under the influence of liquor, or physically unable to drive, have the license revoked and if caught driving given a heavy fine with jail sentence. This would be one way to help rid the streets and highways of reckless drivers, and would help protect the traveling public.

Now let's get together and think this over and help make this county and Brevard one of the safest places to drive in, in Western North Carolina.

Very truly yours,
RALPH WALDROP

LEA APPEALS TO THE U. S. SUPREME COURT

Raleigh, June 22—Petition for appeal to the United States Supreme Court and stay of execution of sentences of Col. Luke Lea, Nashville, Tenn., publisher and former senator, and son, Luke Lea, Jr., is expected to be placed before Chief Justice W. P. Stacy, of the N. C. Supreme Court this week by General Albert L. Cox, Raleigh, attorney for the Leas.

The North Carolina Supreme Court last week upheld judgments in Buncombe county superior court against the father and son and Wallace B. Davis, president of the now closed Central Bank & Trust Co., for conspiracy and violating the N. C. banking laws, resulting in the collapse of the bank. Colonel Lea was given a sentence of six to ten years in State's Prison, Davis from four to six years and Luke Lea, Jr., to pay a fine of $35,000, while Davis also faces a sentence of five to seven years for publication of a false report on the bank's condition, also upheld by the N. C. Supreme Court.

Colonel Lea was decorated for gallantry in the World War and was greatly publicized for his plan to capture the Kaiser and deliver him to Woodrow Wilson in a cage at the end of the war. He was sent to the U. S. Senate at the age of 32. He and his son also face civil suits instituted by the N. C. Banking Department for recovery of $1,400,000 alleged to have been loaned them by the Central Bank & Trust Co. before it closed in October, 1930.

Chief Justice Stacy wrote the opinion upholding the judgment of the lower court in the conspiracy charge against the two Leas and Davis, to which Associate Justice W. J. Brogden wrote a dissenting opinion. Associate Justice G. W. Connor wrote the opinion upholding the lower court judgment in the case against Davis for publishing a false report of the bank's condition.

These are looked upon as two of the most important cases growing out of the general collapse of business which had something to do with the failure of the Asheville bank. It will probably be hard to get the U. S. Supreme Court to hear the appeal in the Lea case. Unless Colonel Lea comes to N. C. to begin his sentence voluntarily, after appeals are cleared away, it will require a requisition by Governor Gardner on Governor Horton, of Tennessee, to get him here.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PROGRAM AT B. I.

One of the most interesting Epworth League programs of the year was rendered at Brevard Institute on the third Sunday in May, under the direction of Miss Mary Floyd, teacher of Bible and director of religious activities. As far back as January, Mr. Pio Sanchez, in charge of the Missionary Department of the league, wrote to teachers and missionaries in the various foreign fields, requesting a reply from them setting forth significant facts in regard to the progress of work in their fields, the urgent needs, and other points of interest. Replies were received from six different countries in Latin American, Europe, Asia, and Africa.

From Cuba, President H. B. Bardwell of Chandler College, Havana, was the spokesman. Mexico was represented by Miss Eglantia Flores, of Colegia Robert at Saltillo. Miss No-rene Robben, from Wilno, Poland, supplied us with interesting information about that new field of work, while from Africa word came from Miss Edith Martin, Belgian Congo. The far Eastern fields were Korea and Japan, presented by Miss Susie Peach Foster, of Seoul, and Miss Lelia Bagley.

It is aside from our purpose to here review the messages from these fields, but it may be briefly stated that the variety of activities engaged in by our missionaries, extending from elementary instruction in sanitation and living habits, all the way to evangelistic work, was a revelation to most of the members of our league. Practically all the workers stressed the importance of at least maintaining our present strength in the fields where we have stations, saving the retrenchment at this time would constitute real disaster. In the words of Mr. Bardwell, workers who are "lovers of God and of men, possessing fine gifts and wide training" are needed now as much as ever before, and of course the financial support must go on.

As the letters from the various fields were presented, each one by a different leaguer, a girl appropriately dressed stood by her side and unfurled the flag of that nation. At the conclusion of the reading another girl standing behind the group, unfurled over all the Christian flag, while the League stood and sang "Christ for the World, We Sing." The apparent effect of the entire service was a vitalizing in the minds of those present of what often seems to young people a very prosaic subject, the subject of Missions.

HENRY'S PLATFORM IS CLEARLY STATED

all in my power to improve and strengthen this law.

I am opposed to the Primary Law as it is unsatisfactory and costs the taxpayers of the State a tremendous sum of money which they cannot afford to pay.

I favor allowing residents to fish in French Broad River from Rosman to the Henderson county line without license.

I believe in Education of our children, but am heartily in favor and will use my best efforts to reduce the cost of our Educational System and am in favor of a reduction of the expenses connected with our present school system.

I am in favor of legislation which will provide school books for the children either at a small rental, or to have school books furnished by the State free of any direct cost to the parents and the school children.

I am in favor of equalization of salaries from the Governor to Constable, for the man who is getting the same salary today which he received two years ago, has practically had his salary doubled, as he can buy twice as much now with what he receives, as he could have bought two years ago with the same amount of money and as the products of the farm have been reduced in value by a tremendous amount, I am heartily in favor and will use my effort to reduce all expenses of government in the County and State and including all salaries paid to any public official.

I am in favor of changing the system of the annual audits of departments of the County government and have an uniform system for the entire State, which, if I am successful in having put into law, will save the taxpayers of Transylvania County thousands of dollars per year.

I am proud that my efforts and my votes in the Legislature were used so as to enable the State Government to pay off over Twelve Millions of Dollars of the State indebtedness during the last two years, which is a record unsurpassed by any other State in the Union.

I will use my effort to secure such legislation as will effect an honest cash value of all property in the County, so that the farm lands will not be burdened with the terrific taxes now placed on them.

I will endeavor to secure such legislation as will enable our County to fund its present indebtedness and extend the payments of its bonds and notes over such a period as will not force our Commissioners to levy a burdensome tax for the immediate payment of said indebtedness.

I believe that the people of Transylvania county know my record and know that I have never allowed any influence to swerve me from doing all that I could for the upbuilding of the County and the lessening of these great taxes which have been placed upon the taxpayers in Transylvania.

I have always tried to help my fellow-citizens and will continue to do so, and I am always glad to have the benefit of the advice of the people of Transylvania County and if I am nominated and elected my every effort will be for the benefit, upbuilding and relief of Transylvania County and each and every citizen therein.

I belong to no "Ring" and the only interest which affects me, is the interest of all of the people of Transylvania County.

I am a Baptist, I am a Democrat and I am a citizen of what I think is the best County in the State and as such, I promise to the people of the County, if nominated and elected, I will give all my efforts to secure a reduction of all public expenses and to save the taxpayers every cent possible and as far as is within me, to secure Prosperity for our people.

Respectfully,
W. M. HENRY.

TYPHOID INCREASE ALARMS THE STATE

Diphtheria And Diseases Show Big Increase Among Children

Raleigh, June 22—An alarming increase in typhoid fever, diphtheria and intestinal diseases of young children during the past year and especially in the past four months is causing deep concern to the State Board of Health and has caused Dr. J. M. Parrott, State health officer, to issue a warning to the people and an appeal to local government agencies to help combat the diseases.

Giving figures to show the huge increase, Dr. Parrott calls on county and municipal officials to take vigorous action and supply more funds, else there will be a continued and very serious increase in typhoid, diphtheria and enteritis this summer and early fall.

"The State Board of Health is pleased to do whatever it can to cooperate in every way possible, Dr. Parrott states. "The people themselves must do something to help themselves. I solemnly and earnestly warn the public to be vaccinated against typhoid and diphtheria and to follow the advice of doctors and local health services about sanitary matters, particularly proper milk and water sanitation."

A Good Habit Is A Good Thing---

And we know of no better habit than that which directs so many people to our place. You would be surprised at the number of people in Brevard and Transylvania county who have the habit of coming here for their Flour, Meal, Bacon, Eggs, Chickens, Coffee, and all staple and Heavy Groceries.

But Habits Are Formed

And the people who have the habit of coming here for these things formed that habit when they found that they could buy these articles at a SAVING. So, after all, the habit of coming here

Is A Saving Habit

Then the Farmers of the County have the habit of coming here because they find all those things so needed in their work—such as Good Seed, Purina Feed, Fertilizers, Plants, Sprays, Poison for Beetles and Bugs, and everything that the Farmer needs. We are vain enough to believe that the Farmers enjoy coming to our place, for they know that we are glad to have them come; glad to talk with them about their problems; glad to have them simply come in and sit about and talk to us.

GET THE HABIT, PLEASE

Of coming here, where most of your friends come each and every week. You will enjoy it; you will profit by it. We shall enjoy your visit as often as you want to come.
