

TOWN ALDERMEN HAVE BUSY MEET

Wrestling With Problems of Budget Adoption And Routine Affairs.

Regular meeting, Tuesday, July 5, 1932. Present: Mayor Ramsey and Aldermen Clement, Galloway and Wallis. Budget as prepared by the Clerk and Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933 was filed for the inspection of the Board of Aldermen.

Minutes of meetings of June 20th and 23rd were read and approved. Lee Kilgore came before the Board and entered a complaint about Cafe that is being operated by Roy Whitesides on Cashiers Valley Road. He contended that this place was a decided nuisance and that the patrons of same raised such a disturbance constantly, that it was almost impossible to hold services in their church which is located on same street opposite Whitesides Cafe. He was advised by the Mayor that this matter would be thoroughly investigated and the facts produced by such investigation would determine what action should be taken in closing this place of business.

The following resolution was introduced by Alderman Wallis, seconded by Alderman Clement and adopted: Whereas, T. W. Whitmire executed a Note payable to the Town of Brevard on November 9th, 1920 in the amount of $400.00 in lieu of having an assessment for Street Improvements entered against certain property belonging to said T. W. Whitmire; and there still being an unpaid balance due on this Note in the amount of $200.00 plus accumulated interest; and whereas this Note was barred by statute of limitations on November 9th, 1930; Now therefore, Be It Resolved; that the Clerk and Treasurer be and is hereby directed to take up with the said T. W. Whitmire the matter of paying this Note or executing a new Note payable to the Town, secured by a first mortgage on the property against which the assessment should have been originally levied.

Motion adopted to take a recess to meet again at the call of the Mayor. Friday, July 8, 1932.

The Board reconvened from recessed meeting of Tuesday, July 5th, with Mayor Ramsey presiding and the full membership of the Board being present.

Mayor Ramsey stated to the Board that Mr. Ferguson who is in charge of the Highway Department in this district, had stated to him that they were contemplating directing all incoming traffic from the east, over

PROGRAM COMPLETE FOR SHORT COURSE

Four days of intensive study and supervised recreation has been planned for some 700 girls and boys who are members of the 4-H clubs of North Carolina and who have been selected to attend the annual short course at State College during the week of July 25.

According to L. R. Harrill, state club leader, the young folks will begin arriving at the college on Monday, July 25, and the first feature of the program will occur that evening on the campus. Between 600 and 800 young people have already been registered by their home and farm agents and indications are now that nearly 800 selected leaders will attend.

"We have arranged special courses to make the program for the week pleasant and profitable," says Harrill. "The young folks will begin their class room work on Tuesday morning, July 26, and for four days hereafter there will be instruction in club work, supervised recreation, entertainment and special educational features. Some of the unusual phases will include the state health contest, the song contest and a contest in dramatics. Two general assemblies, presided over by Selma Harris of Pasquotank County, president of the State club organization, will be held each day. Recreation activities will consist of organized play, sight-seeing tours, baseball and swimming."

Mr. Harrill announces that the faculty for the short course will be selected from leading members of the extension service staff and from the college faculty. Vesper services will be held on the campus each afternoon with various county delegations in charge.

Caldwell Street and that coming from the west, over Broad Street but further stated that, before taking definite action in this matter, they would like for the Board of Aldermen to approve the adoption of this rule. Action deferred on this matter until regular meeting in August.

On motion by Alderman Wallis, seconded by Alderman Ashworth, ordinance adopted on June 20th, 1932 authorizing the issuance of $77,000.00 Funding and refunding Bonds is hereby rescinded.

An ordinance authorizing an issue of $90,000.00 Funding and Refunding Bonds was adopted. Resolution introduced by Alderman Galloway and seconded by Alderman Ashworth. All members of the Board being present and voting in the affirmative for the resolution.

SAVES ON CHARITY BECAUSE OF CANNING

The place of the home and farm agents in the economy programs of the various counties is an important one because while one helps to produce food economically, the other aids in conserving this food for future use.

"I have been highly gratified at the important place given home agents in the present campaign against hunger in North Carolina," said Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, state home demonstration agent at State College, on her return from visiting several counties where she was at work with the home agents. "Recently at New Bern, 450 women from five counties met and passed only one resolution which was to the effect that they lauded the stand for economy taken by county commissioners in the counties and felt that nothing was more important in such a program than to retain the services of both the home and the farm agents."

County commissioners, public-spirited citizens and others are buying cans, pressure cookers and sealers to aid the home agent in promoting efficient canning in the various counties. Mrs. McKimmon said. The home agents are training experienced leaders who are in turn aiding others. The welfare officers say that this canning program is reducing the charity bill.

As an example of this, Mr. McKimmon gives information secured from Curry Lopp, welfare officer in Davidson County, who told her that had it not been for the 90,000 cans of vegetables and fruits saved by the farm women of that county last summer and their willingness to share it with those in want, he hardly knows what would have happened in the county last winter. Mr. Lopp had to buy no canned food and the county was saved many dollars in consequence.

In Pamlico County not a dollar was spent for food by the county because of home demonstration work, said Mrs. McKimmon.

Not So Much

"We don't print any such stuff as that," said the editor, loftily, as he handed back the poem.

"Well, you needn't be so haughty about it!" retorted the poet. "You're not the only one who won't print it."

ESTATE TAXES OFF MORE THAN A HALF

Inheritance Tax Less Than Half Anticipated--To Hamper State.

Raleigh, July 14.—Estates of 949 citizens of North Carolina contributed $452,545.27, with a slight addition for bad check penalties, to the general fund of the State during the fiscal year which closed June 30, as compared with 1130 estates contributing $1,006,068.70 the year before, and inheritance collections of $1,358,525.45 for the year 1929-30, figures in the office of A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, show.

The 1931-32 collections from the inheritance tax, less than half a million dollars, were far below expectations, the estimate being $1,000,000. This tax is dependent upon deaths of residents with property, of course. Ten of the 100 counties paid less than $100 and 18 counties, Alexander, Carteret, Cherokee, Chowan, Clay, Gates, Graham, Hoke, Jackson, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mitchell, Robeson, Transylvania, Tyrrell, Watauga and Yancey, paid nothing.

Burke, with only four deaths, paid the largest amount, above $120,000, while payments from Forsyth and Guilford, with Burke's account for almost half the entire amount. Their payments, with those of 10 other counties, Buncombe, Mecklenburg, Durham, Alamance, Cleveland, Rowan, Union, Catawba, Iredell and Davidson, the 13 counties, paid two-thirds of the total.

Last year Durham and Forsyth paid more than half the inheritance tax of that year, and with four other counties, Scotland, Stanly, Mecklenburg and Buncombe, paid more than two-thirds of the $1,006,068.70 paid that year. In 1929-30, two years ago, Forsyth, Guilford and Mecklenburg paid nearly one-half of the $1,385,525.45 in inheritance taxes collected, while they and five others, Buncombe, Scotland, Union, Surry and Henderson, paid two-thirds of it. Transylvania county had no estates which paid inheritance taxes for the year just ended, nor for the year before. For 1929-30 estates in this county paid $13.10 in inheritance taxes.

These taxes are collected from one to three years after the death of the owner of the estate. The tax is due at death, with a discount of 3 per cent if paid in six months, a charge of 6 per cent interest after one year and a penalty of 5 per cent if not paid in two years, but the commissioner of revenue has authority to waive penalties if the estate is in litigation.

WE'RE RUNNING OUR MILL Day and Night

Grinding Corn that we Buy From Transylvania County Farmers and selling the meal in South Carolina, bringing

SOUTH CAROLINA MONEY RIGHT BACK TO THE FARMERS OF TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY

The mill is but one of our activities for the farmers... We select the best seed grown for planting... We sell the best and most economical fertilizers to make the crop grow... We then buy back from the farmer, paying cash, the products of his field.

We furnish that matchless Purina Feed for chickens... Feed that will make them grow and lay... and then we buy the eggs and the chickens from the farmers... paying cash for same.

We handle all heavy Groceries... and many people have learned that they can make great saving by buying Groceries from us.

So, in every way, we serve the Farm population as thoroughly as it is possible for any one concern to meet a situation. Not only is our Grist Mill running 24 hours a day, but our entire organization in its every phase and influence is all the time
