SCHACHNER OFF TO COLLEGE

Paul Schachner, popular member of Brevard's younger social set, left Monday for Weaver college.

Paul is a former student of Weaver and is looking forward in anticipation of another successful year at the institution, forming new acquaintances and renewing the old ones.

BOYS AND GIRLS ENJOY CAMPING TRIP

A jolly crowd of boys and girls left last Friday morning for Horse Pasture River where they enjoyed three wonderful days of camping. The time was enjoyably passed in hiking, swimming, kodaking and the preparation of delicious meals on the camp fire.

Those present were Elza Gillespie, John Collins, Rob Waldrop, Ray Waldrop, Arthur Orr and the girls, Anne, Hazel and Maxie Moore, Ruth Bryson and Gladys Gillespie.

POPULAR DANCE GIVEN AT CANTEN WEDNESDAY

Wednesday evening was spent by many of the young people of Brevard at a dance given by "Doc" Galloway at his popular place of business, called the "Canteen" on Main street. This dance was composed of many visitors and prominent citizens of Brevard, who enjoyed the evening by dancing to the tune of the latest recorded hits performed by Bob Tinson and his orchestra who have had such a successful season in this and other sections of the state.

Until here of late the law did not permit such dances in business establishments of Brevard, but due to a change which eliminated such law, brings entertainment to the young people of this section which will be a boost for the town of Brevard.

FRANKLIN HOTEL HONORS GUESTS

The Franklin hotel honored its guests with a dance in the spacious lobby of the hotel, on last Friday night, August 26, beginning at 9 o'clock and continuing until 12.

There were many prominent people of the younger set in attendance and music was furnished by the Brevard Rhythm Kings.

DELIGHTFUL HOUSE PARTY AT TOXAWAY CAMP

An affair of much local interest was the house party given by Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Grimshawe at their Lake Toxaway camp, honoring their son, Richard on his birthday, Saturday, August 27th.

There were about twenty guests, the majority of them arriving at the camp on Friday.

A continuous round of hiking, swimming, dancing and the playing of games kept the guests enjoyably entertained throughout the entire three days of the party. Mr. Harry Grimshawe and Mrs. Walter Orr of Asheville came on Sunday, bringing water-melons and a real old-fashioned melon-cutting was held.

Guests arriving on Friday were: Mr. and Mrs. Grimshawe, Patsy and Richard Grimshawe, Miss Edna Kennerly, Eloise Sheppard, Julia Bell, of Asheville, Evelyn Clemons of New York, Sarah Helen Smith of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Jennie Mudge of St. Petersburg, Fla., Claude McGehee of Macon, Ga., and Douglas Stoner, Jr. of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

These were joined on Saturday by Mrs. Opal H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Stoner and Austin, Eugene and Frances Stoner and Mr. Dewey of Thomsville.

The party will be long remembered by all those attending and Richard was given the heartiest wishes of his guests for many such happy birthdays.

REV. AND MRS. BRINKMAN ENTERTAIN

Honoring their house guest, Mrs. G. G. Ray of Charlotte, Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Brinkman entertained at tea from four to six on Monday afternoon at their home on Maple avenue. In the receiving group were also, Mrs. J. O. Williams, who has recently made her home in Brevard, her husband having the superintendency of the Pisgah Cotton mills; and Miss Daisy Ritter, the newly appointed superintendent of the Brevard Institute.

Shortly after their arrival the guests were served punch by Mrs. H. G. Haynes and Mrs. A. H. Houston.

During the afternoon about fifty guests called and enjoyed the beauty of lawn and flowers and the good fellowship incident to the occasion.

METHODIST PREACHING HOUR CHANGED

Until further notice the regular preaching service at the Methodist church will be held at 7:30, according to announcement made by Rev. West.

S. C. ELKIN

(Contributed)

On August 22, just as the sun was sinking behind the western hills, the shadows of deep grief hung over our entire community and especially over the home of W. M. George when the gentle spirit of our dear friend and neighbor, S. C. Elkin went home to look on the face of his dear Lord, whom he faithfully loved and served.

Mr. Elkin was 78 years of age. He was born and grew up among the granite hills of Madison county. In later years he came to Buncombe county and on into Transylvania. There he and Miss Martha Drake were married. The happy union was not long. His wife died in a short while after the marriage. Several years afterward he was married the second time to Mrs. Jane Couch, who with several step-children and grand children is left to mourn the loss. One brother, Bob Elkin, of West Asheville is the only one of the immediate family left.

Funeral services were held at Little River Baptist church Tuesday, August 23rd, the Rev. W. P. Holtzclaw and J. F. Scott officiated. The body was laid to rest in the Little River cemetery, witnessed by a host of sorrowing friends and covered with a mound of flowers.

Mr. Elkin had been a member of Little River Baptist church for more than twelve years. He was faithful in church work and interested in the upward tread of the community.

"Dearest one, thou hast left us. Here thy loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God that bereft us; He can all our sorrows heal.

"Peaceful are thy slumbers; Peaceful in the grave so low. Thou no more will join our number, Thou no more our sorrows know.

Still heart, pale hands, Thy tasks are done, The cross laid down, the Garden won."

A high school teacher shot his wife because he was tired of coming home every day and finding the sink full of unwashed dishes. And here we had always been taught that is the husband's job.

MONTVALE NEWS

One of the greatest events of the year was the revival held at "Travelers Rest church," here last week. This meeting was conducted by Rev. Proe H. Kelly of Pelzer, S. C. assisted by Rev. Clyde Smith of Williamston, S. C. This was the glorious meeting that has been conducted here in a number of years.

During this meeting we received ten new additions to our church roll.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grant are spending some time with the former parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hinkle.

L. M. Stephens of Pendleton, S. C. was visiting in our section over the week-end.

James Hinkle of Jocassee is spending some time with relatives in this section.

Mr. G. T. Beddingfield was a business visitor to Lake Toxaway Tuesday.

Miss Mamie Hinkle had as her guests Sunday, Rev. Proe H. Kelly, Rev. Clyde Smith, Mr. Sanders and Emily Hinkle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cash and family spent Sunday with Mrs. W. H. Hinkle.

Homer Chappell visited his mother Mrs. Clyde Chappell Sunday.

BEATING OLD MAN DEPRESSION

The fresh water swamper in the backwoods country have turned the capture of the lowly "croakers" into an industry that brought them $306,398 last year, and the cash returns are mounting steadily.

Purchasing companies of South Louisiana towns in the marshy coastal country are sending heavy shipments regularly to New York, Chicago, Detroit, and other metropolitan centers where the delicate white meat, tasting something like fried chicken, has gained favor with epicures.

Shipments from 44,457 pounds in 1926 to 1,856,354 pounds in 1931.

The bullfrog hunters work hard and under difficulty and the state department of conservation says experiments at artificial cultivation in Louisiana have met with little success. A good hunter, working diligently, can take 50 to 60 frogs a night, for which he is paid from $1 to $3 a dozen, depending on the size.

A state law prohibits the use of zigs and spears, so the frog hunter has to wade waist deep through the dark snake and alligator infested swamps armed with spotlights. The lamps are trained on floating debris, logs, and likely protruding land.

As the frogs are blinded by the light, the hunter stows them in a bag, to be sold to the purchasing companies and kept in fresh water pools until the slaughtering and shipment of the legs.

The Louisiana bullfrog reproduces from eggs laid during the months of March, April and May, hatching in about a week. The tadpoles, which sustain themselves by consuming their own tails, turn into frogs in the fall or early spring and reach maturity in about four years when they measure about 15 inches. About a pound of meat can be obtained from each. Only the legs are used.

Florida also ships a number of frog legs, chiefly from Arcadia. For barrels have been shipped from here to Detroit since the opening of the season May 1.

Sportsmen in Louisiana "fish" for frogs with hooks baited with red cloth or with bobs which the frogs take with a swift rush, but the connoisseur hunters stick to the hand and eye method of night hunting.

North Carolina claims the honor of being the birth place of three presidents of the United States: Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk and Andrew Johnson, the latter having been born in the city of Raleigh.

W. O. W. NEWS

Hendersonville Camp
White Pine Camp No. 213, Hendersonville, is now back in its regular lodge room. On account of fire a few weeks ago their meetings had to be postponed. We are glad that repairs have been made so they can attend to their regular duties as a camp.

They started their fall campaign off with a bang Thursday night 25th. It was a public meeting with music by male quartet and string band, speaking, and refreshments served by members of the Woodman Circle. Honorable James F. Barrett of Brevard and Hendersonville and Sov. J. O. Ingram were the principal speakers. S. M. Garren, John T. Wilkins, Jerry Steppe, Mrs. W. H. Grogan, Jr., Allard Case, W. H. Grogan, Jr., and others made short talks. Consul Commander Allard Case acted as chairman of the meeting.

The meeting was full of pep and enthusiasm from start to finish. We predict a large increase in membership as a result of this meeting.

Canton Camp

We attended meeting of Canton Camp No. 391 Friday night the 26th. This camp has three monuments to unveil during the month of September. Plans for the unveiling were discussed and dates for the unveiling will be decided on at the next meeting.

This camp has secured more applications this year than any other camp in western district. Sixty-nine applications have been written. If Canton can secure 69, all other camps should be able to secure a few if the members will extend an invitation to the prospects in their community.

Fall Campaign

We want every camp in western district to get busy at once and lay plans for a membership campaign.

Our fall district convention will convene at Hendersonville the last Thursday in October. Every camp should be represented there and every camp should be able to report an increase in their membership.

Business conditions are improving all over the country. More men are being given employment every week; therefore, our prospects are increasing in number each week. If we fail to get their business at once, some other company will get it. It is up to each of us to do our part for the upbuilding of Woodcraft.

IN MEMORY OF A NOBLE YOUTH

On July the 4th in Montreat, N. C., while playing with a cousin, L. E. Brown, Jr., was the victim of an accidental gunshot wound, which sent him to the Mission hospital in the city of Asheville where he uncompainfully suffered for about six weeks, and then the end of a beautiful life which came at the dawning of a day which typified the rest upon which he entered. He was approximately fourteen years of age, and was the son of Mrs. Onilee Brown for two years the dean of girls in Brevard Institute. She is also superintendent of Christian social relations in the Western North Carolina Conference, and a most efficient, and untiring leader. Mrs. Brown has been the recipient of multiplied expressions of sympathy, not only from friends and acquaintances in this state, but also from South Carolina where she resided for a number of years. L. E. Brown, Jr., was an unusual boy. He was a manly youth exhibiting traits of character not often seen in the life of one so young. His unselfishness was the most beautiful characteristic of his life. He with his Mother was a devoted member of the Brevard Methodist church. His body was carried to Waxhaw, N. C., the home of his mother before her marriage, and was laid to rest in the local cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their acts of kindness shown to us during the serious illness of our daughter and sister, Mrs. Walter McKinney. May the Lord bless and reward each of you.

MR. AND MRS. C. L. SANDERS,
MISS EDITH SANDERS.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKinney wish to thank their many friends for their acts of kindness shown to them during the serious illness of Mrs. McKinney and for their kindness at the death of their infant daughter, Dora Jean, who lived only two weeks and two hours, and for the beautiful vases of lovely flowers that always adorned the sick room. They hope God will reward their noble friends.
