

OVER-EQUIPMENT INVITES DEPRESSION

There are few persons in any walk of life who have not learned some lessons from the depression. To the extent that we have become wiser the damage it may have done is minimized. Lessons learned through experience are hard but they are lasting.

While many theories have been advanced as to what caused the depression, the most logical one seems to be that too many industrial plants became over-equipped. Every time an order was received the plant was not capable of handling the first thought evidently was to install the equipment necessary to produce it. As a result there are hundreds of plants all over the country which are over-equipped. They stand as mute testimony to over-confidence in the future which had it been carefully analyzed would have been found unstable at the rate we were going.

Just as we have learned lessons from past depressions and are better prepared to enjoy a new prosperity, so are we now prepared to meet the future and to make it more lasting than heretofore.

TURKEY CREEK NEWS

With a large number of the members present the Turkey Creek Baptist Church unanimously elected Rev. Walter Holtzclaw as pastor for the next year, beginning the first Sunday in September. Rev. Holtzclaw is well known among the people of this community, as his father was pastor of the Turkey Creek church for a number of years.

The B. Y. P. U. at this place has been taking the B. Y. P. U. study course for the past week, and under the leadership of the president and other officers of the Union, have been progressing nicely. The Union meets at 7:30 every Sunday evening and visitors are welcome.

Mr. P. M. Orr will soon have his new house ready to move into, and we are glad to report the splendid way in which the people of this community have rallied to his aid, as his former home was recently destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson, Mr. Douglas Ewing, and Miss Fanny Boggs, of Johnson City, Tenn., visited the latter's mother, Mrs. John Boggs, Saturday evening.

Mrs. John Alexander, who has been in ill health for the past several months, is somewhat improved, and Mr. D. E. Lyday is able to be out again after being practically bedfast for a considerable time.

Mr. Lyday is one of the oldest citizens of the community, and is, beyond a doubt one of the most loved. It is a great pleasure to listen to his stories of trapping and hunting as they were in the past, and of how some of the old timers could use those long, incredibly accurate "Hog Rifles."

ATTENDANCE LARGE AT ORR REUNION

More than 300 friends and members of the Orr clan gather at the Orr Camp, 2 miles west of Hendersonville on highway No. 28 for their annual reunion Sunday, August 28.

Rev. Oscar L. Orr of Plum Branch, S. C. made the principal address of the day and he held the interest of the large assembly throughout the length of his inspiring sermon. Other speakers were J. M. Orr of Pisgah Forest, E. H. Halsell of Muskogee, Okla. and J. C. Sales of Fletcher, N. C.

Musical numbers were rendered by Morris N. Orr's quartet, the Wilkie quartet and several others. Uncle Joe Orr sang several solo numbers with and without organ accompaniment. One of these numbers he composed himself "How I love those Transylvania Hills."

Other than the splendid program of music and speeches which had been arranged by Oliver H. Orr, chairman of the convention and Morris N. Orr, secretary, The Orrs and their friends were able to enjoy swimming, horse-shoe pitching and shuffle board during the day.

Picnic dinner was served at the noon hour and it was said by many that a more bounteous meal had never before been spread.

Oliver H. Orr and Morris N. Orr were elected Chairman and Secretary, respectively to make plans for the 1933 reunion which will be held at U. M. Orr's camp the fourth Sunday in August 1933.

ROBBERS GET $500 FROM JOINES CO.

Culprits Take Checks, Notes, Car, Escape—Car and Checks Recovered.

Robbers working with the dexterity and thoroughness of experts entered the office of the Joines Motor Company located on the corner of Seventh avenue and Grove streets in Hendersonville at four o'clock Saturday morning and got away with between four and five hundred dollars in cash, a number of checks and a Ford coupe. An officer appeared on the scene as they were making their get away.

The robbers entered the building through the service department, forced the door letting into the office and with tools stolen from Turner's blacksmith shop and the company's garage chiseled a hole in the safe through which they manipulated the combination. After taking the money, checks and other valuables from the safe they confiscated a 1930 used model Ford coupe and hastily left the scene of the crime.

The automobile was recovered by officers in a ditch near the Oteen hospital. It was not damaged. The robbers had evidently divided the loot and very "considerately" left the checks, notes and other valuables in the machine.

So far the perpetrators of the crime have not been located.

The total loss, originally placed at $2,000 has been lessened by the recovery of the checks and car, the four or five hundred dollars in cash being the only loss.

The crop of Burley tobacco in Madison County has been greatly improved by recent rains and gives promise of returning good yields of quality leaf.

The young people of the Methodist Church were given over the regular eight o'clock hour Sunday night and rendered a splendid program, presided over by Mrs. Trantham, who at the beginning of the program asked that those interested in the work of the young people offer criticism and suggestions regarding them. A box has been placed in the vestibule in which these are to be placed.

Invocation was by Nell Miller and was followed by the scripture reading and a few words of comment by Richard J. Poole.

Misses Bernice and Velma Sharp, Georgia Gallimore and Edna Mae Saltz sang a quartet.

There were three talks by the young people on the program, the first of which was given by Pio Sanchez, of Havana, Cuba who is a student at the Brevard Institute. This was followed by a talk by Miss Ressie Meece.

A splendid talk was given by Mark T. Orr who took for his subject, "How to Get the Most Out of Life." He spoke for approximately twenty minutes, bringing out many beautiful thoughts.

The program is the third of its kind rendered since the reorganization of the League. The Young peoples' division is given the regular preaching hour, 8 o'clock, each fourth Sunday in which to offer these splendid programs.

SHORTER WEEK TO END ECONOMIC ILLS

Item number eight of President Hoover's nine-point program for the recovery of prosperity is:

"I have under discussion with various agencies the question of a movement to further spread existing employment through reducing of working hours."

There has been considerable discussion recently pro and con regarding the shortening of the working week. Henry Ford was perhaps the first big industrial leader to suggest the reduction of the workers' hours without a reduction in pay, and he has said a great deal on this subject since sensing the approaching crisis some time back.

It was, of course, impossible for one industrialist to put in motion generally a program that must have the co-operation of everyone in order to render it effective. The only thing he could do was to point out the need and the remedy and put the plan into operation in his own plants. Others are following and the plan seems to be meeting with approval everywhere. Wm. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor is advocating the plan as the only apparent solution to the labor problems, not only of this nation but of the entire world.

Over-production, due to the introduction of numerous labor-saving devices, is directly responsible for the present situation. If this could have been foreseen a few years prior to the collapse there would have been a different story. It might easily have been avoided by the introduction of a shorter week at that time.

PAYING TAXES ON INSTALLMENT PLAN

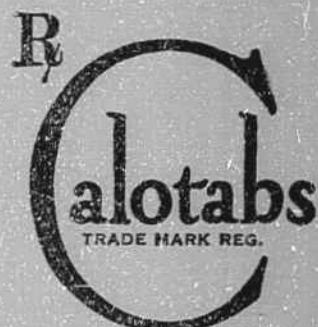

There is considerable agitation just now about the paying of county and city taxes on the installment plan. It's pointed out that it would make it easier on the tax-payers who would not find it so difficult to pay these taxes in small monthly or quarterly installments as they do to pay them in a lump sum. Installment paying is popular in this country and it has become something of a habit of the people to pay this way.

There are those who hold that the increased clerical work necessary to collect taxes in this manner would be too costly to render the plan worth while. If this is the only objection that can be found to the plan it might be taken into consideration that there must be considerable cost attached to the collecting of delinquent taxes of those who are unable to pay them in lump sums when they become due and it is to be wondered whether the cost of clerical work necessary to the collection on the installment plan would be any greater than the old method. The increased revenue would probably offset to some extent, this added cost.

There is room for a lot of discussion along this line. Like every other question there will be those who favor it and those who do not. But it is at least worth consideration.
