WINTER SCHEDULE FOR U. D. C. LIBRARY

Announcement is made of the winter schedule to be maintained at the U. D. C. Library, beginning next week. The library will be open two afternoons each week, these days being Wednesday and Saturday, and the hours to be observed are from 3 until 5 o'clock on these afternoons. Miss Satie Parker will be in charge as librarian.

New shelving is being added to the library, and officers of the organization express the hope that many new books will soon be added. It is also hoped that many new members will be added to the list.

The U. D. C. Library has long been serving the community in splendid manner. It is one of the most popular places in the town during the summer season, and a little army of readers are enabled to have new books to read throughout the winter months because of the fact that the library is maintained here. The ladies who have so patriotically served the community through their work in the library will welcome all aid that can be given them by the citizen of the community.

MRS. DORSETT IS GIFTED POETESS.

Mrs. Carolyn Thrash Dorsett, of Washington, who is spending the summer in Asheville and often visits friends in Brevard, is becoming widely known for her literary talent. Some of her work has been published in the News and because of numerous requests from readers the following contribution is being reprinted:

NOSTALGIA

I see the hills—high, far hills
That shadow the sleeping plains;
I can see the mountain brush and pine
Leaping in the wintry rains,
The rugged bridle-trail—
While I ride in the city street.
To catch a song from a spoken word,
Or sit at a pagan's feet.

I can feel the whip of the mountain winds
And the sting—while I choke
In the fog and smoke.
I hear the songs of the mountain
streams;
I bartered for the babble of the city
folk;
I lose the grip on the God I know
To stumble among the creeds.

Oh rocks and pines and far high hills—
Hear the cry of a broken reed.

And the following is her latest contribution:

AMOR MORT

Come!
Lean to me lips I love
Phantom lips, red lips of peril my life has kissed.
Get me now,
Once more,
Their mad and avid bliss
Before I shall travel hence upon that sunless trail
Where only ghosts may tryst.
For long and lone I've wandered
By a plangent stream
In starlit hours of—an empty dream.

ASK the PRICE of PURINA

BEFORE you decide on any laying mash this fall, ask the price of Purina. Perhaps you haven't heard how low the Purina Laying Chow price is today. You'll be surprised at how little it costs to get the best.

* Today's bargain price on Purina is so welcome just at this time. If your hens and pullets ever lay, they must do so these next few months when eggs will make money. The family pocketbook needs that egg money a good mash will provide.

* Any old mash or just grain might get a few eggs in summer but it takes a mash built to make eggs to get eggs from now on. You know, just as your father before you knew, that Purina Laying Chows have always been built to make eggs. But your father never bought Purina at such a low price or got so many eggs in the bag as you'll get this fall and winter.

A WORD TO THE WISE

Looks like the full egg basket will be worth real money. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports the following favorable signs:

More than two million less cases of eggs in cold storage than last year.

7% less hens and pullets on farms than 5-year average.

Farm flock production 6.7% less than 5-year average.
