including those of the Revoultionary soldiers and of the war between the States and the American "doughboy," and others. There will be a fine display by Bruce Webb, depicting the work being done by the 5-10 Year Farm Program being sponsored by the Asheville Citizen-Times.

There will be displays of livestock garden produce, poultry, canned goods, they work, hogs and many others, but especially interesting are the exhibits of the members of the vocational agriculture class and the products of both field and shop, showing what they are accomplishing in thier work in the class. Displays will he made by the home economics class, and this promises to be among the very best.

All of the inside displays will be shown in the large school gymnasium. Prof. Corbin says this year's fair will be better even than last year's fine display.
