Public Schools Have Utilized University School of Education—More Than 1,800 Registrations.

According to a report given out by Dean N. W. Walker of the University School of Education, the public schools of the state have utilized to a larger extent than ever before the services of that institution.

Over 1,800 registrations by teachers and others were made in the Summer School of which Dean Walker is director, and 500 teachers were assisted in securing positions by the Teachers' Bureau, the report says. The High Journal now has a mailing list of 800 names, mostly public school officials and teachers.

In the matter of extension teaching, Professor Walker reports, that the School of Education in co-operation with the Extension Division conducted ten correspondence courses with a registration during the year of 150. This year, extension classes in many cities of the State have been a feature of the work of the school. Dr. E. R. Mosher, former Acting President of the Montana State Normal College was secured for this work with the rank of Professor of Education.

For the eight extension classes conducted during the Fall semester, 202 teachers were registered. The classes were held in the following cities: Reidsville, Sanford, Gastonia, Roanoke Rapids, Lexington, Salisbury, Concord, and Shelby.

Other extramural activities of the School of Education, explains the report, include lectures and addresses, co-operation with the State Department of Education, surveys of several county and city school systems, supplying reams of educational test material and answering hundreds of letters dealing with public school problems.

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this . . . I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a weak, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."
