

Native Of County Comes Back After 50-Year Absence

C. W. Owens, of Broadway, paid Jackson county his first visit in 50 years last week.

The first thing he asked for when he arrived in Sylva, was "Where is the court house?"

"When I left here the court house was at Webster, and I've heard a lot about the new one here in Sylva. I had no idea where it was," the former Jackson county man said.

"I was born in Scotts Creek township, and later went to Haywood, and from Haywood to the Spanish-American war."

Someone told him the present court house was built in 1912, and he said:

"Why man, I had been to China, the Philippines, and half way back around the world before that time."

Mr. Owens is a farmer in Transylvania county, and had never found time to come back across the mountain to his native county.

Milk From Jackson County Goes To War

A solid car load of milk, much of it produced in Jackson County, is sent daily to large army camps in Florida. The milk is shipped by Pet Dairy Products Company in Waynesville. Shown here is R. B. Davenport, manager of the Pet plant in Waynesville, and County Agent Howard Clapp, who has been instrumental in working up interest in increased milk production. Mr. Clapp was formerly assistant county agent in Jackson County. The government is in need of more milk than ever, and every effort is being put forth to increase production in this and adjoining counties.

The Herald Will Gladly Publish Local Pictures

Pictures that are of interest to the general reading public are welcomed by The Herald for publication.

There is an acute shortage of metal from which the printing plates for pictures are made, and every consideration has to be taken to ascertain that the pictures are worthy of using this vital metal.

The publishers of The Herald have found by experience that it is impractical for them to try and pay the heavy costs of having the printing plates made. A plan has been worked out whereby the publishers will pay a proportionate part of the cost of each plate and the customer pay the other part. This does not bring about a financial burden on either party. Single column plates will cost customers one dollar and two column plates two dollars. The plates are preserved and can be used many times.

Pictures of men in service are of vital interest right now, and the publishers will welcome receiving them at any time; also pictures of brides, or brides-to-be.

For best results a glossy print is the best. Tinted pictures do not make as good printing plates as do the gloss finished pictures. Making a printing plate from a picture does not harm the photograph in any way.

Jackson County Man Given Silver Star Award

A silver star medal for repeated feats of daring heroism and courage while under fire during the dark days of Corregidor, has been awarded to Samuel R. Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve J. Owens, of Jackson County.

The facts of the award were recently given in the magazine "Our Navy."

Shortly after the fall of Bataan it was reported that Owens was missing, but recently his parents received notice from the Navy department that he was a prisoner of war in the Philippine area.

Cabbage, Beans And Potatoes In Jackson Are Fine

Jackson's cabbage and bean crops are splendid, according to a report of the county agent's office after making a survey of the county.

The famous Hamburg cabbage will be ready for market about the 15th, it was said, and the green bean crop will begin coming in about the same time.

Potatoes have produced well in the county, it was reported, and a large yield is expected.

Thus far, many sections of Jackson County have been spared the destructive tomato blight and wilt, which has played havoc with tomato crops.

Saw Logs Needed For War Purposes, Lackey Points Out

With many sawmills idle throughout the state due to shortage of labor and logs, G. R. Lackey, county agent, is urging all Jackson county farmers to cut and sell saw logs at this time.

The county has the services of J. Roy Orr, assistant county agent in forestry, who will gladly help all persons organize a "Sawlog For War Program" in every community.

"Lumber is a critical war material," Mr. Lackey said, "and it is urgently needed now for war purposes."

Mr. Lackey pointed out that there are a number of mills in the county buying logs, and in between the crop seasons is the ideal time to get out saw logs.

Jackson County WAVE Now At Air Station

Mary L. Dills of route 1, Sylva, has reported to the naval air technical training center, Memphis, Tenn., upon the completion of her WAVE indoctrination training at Hunter college, New York.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Dills. Wave Dills is a graduate of Sylva high school and Western Carolina Teachers college, with a B. S. degree. She taught in elementary school before enlisting in the Waves. Among her community activities, Miss Dills was president of the Y. W. A. in the Baptist church in her home town.

Cullowhee Club Studies Food At Recent Meeting

The Cullowhee home demonstration club sponsored a food demonstration and conservation meeting in the home economics room of the training school last Tuesday.

A discussion and demonstration of the latest methods of canning fruits and vegetables were given by Miss Margaret Martin, home demonstration agent for Jackson county. Recipes and instructions for food preservation were distributed by Miss Martin. Miss Daisy Caldwell, FSA home supervisor demonstrated canning food in the home.

Cullowhee Girl Takes Aeronautical Training

Betty Henson of Cullowhee, who is now a Curtiss-Wright engineering cadette at Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind., has just completed her first term of work on the special aeronautical engineering training program sponsored by the aircraft manufacturing firm.

Following the end of the training course next Dec. 15, she will join the engineering section of the Curtiss-Wright corporation's Louisville, Ky., plant which produces the Curtiss-C-76, a wooden cargo plane for the U. S. army.

WCFE Engineer Accepts Post At Mead Plant

N. H. Gurley, who has been engineer at the Western Carolina Teachers college, six years, recently accepted the position as engineer with the Mead corporation at Harriman, Tenn. It has been announced.

Before coming to Cullowhee, he was connected with the state budget bureau at Raleigh. Mrs. Gurley and their young son expect to join him at their new home early in August.

'Revenooers' Fight Rattlesnake Guard

ELKIN—Federal alcoholic tax unit agents in North Carolina have a new enemy. While raiding a Wilkes county whisky distillery, the agents found three spotted rattlesnakes on guard.

Officers say the largest was 54 inches long and has 13 rattles. Two of the reptile guards were shot, the third escaped.

Coffee Removed From Ration List

Coffee is off the rationed list. It has been announced that coffee would be removed from the ration list early in August, but the President used his address to announce to the nation that the removal date had been moved up.

While he did not announce that sugar would be removed from the list of rationed food items, he did say that the American people would also get increased quantities of sugar because the German submarines are no longer sinking ships in this part of the world.
