

Annual Clean-Up Week Starts On 15th

Sugar Registration To Be Held 15-16th Throughout Jackson

Monday and Tuesday Of Next Week Only Time To Get Canning Sugar Here.

All persons needing more than five pounds per person of canning sugar, will have the 15th and 16th of May to make application to get up to 10 pounds per person, it was announced here by the war price and rationing board.

Those failing to make application on either may 15th or 16th, will have only five pounds.

The teachers and principals of Jackson county schools will register people for canning sugar on May 15th and 16th from 10 o'clock a. m. to 3 o'clock p. m., at the following schools: Sylva, Dillsboro, Beta, Qualla, Cullowhee, John's Creek, Tuckaseegee, Cashiers, Glenville, Balsam, Willets, Addie, Sol's Creek, Wolf Creek, Savannah, Webster, East La Porte, Oak Point, and the colored consolidated school.

Stamp No. 40 in War Rationing Book Four is good for five pounds only, and if more than that amount is required, then application must be made either May 15th or 16th on form R1323.

The regulation as received here this week, sets out that no extra sugar for canning can be granted unless applications are made either May 15th or 16th and on the special form prepared by OPA.

Any member of the family can make application for all the family, provided War Ration Book Number Four for each person accompanies the application. The registrars will remove stamp No. 37 out of War Book No. Four. If the stamp for any reason has been removed, no extra sugar will be given. The No. 37 is required before the certificate will be valid.

Sylva Girl and Boy Have Leads In W.C.T.C. Play

Miss Idan Jean Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Allison, and John Corbin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Corbin, both of Sylva, will play leading roles in the Western Carolina Players' production, "The Famous Mrs. Fair," at Western Carolina Teacher's college this evening, May 10th, at 8:30 o'clock.

A transfer student from Clemson, this is Corbin's first appearance with the Western Carolina Players. Miss Allison, one of the attractive twins in the "Great Big Doorstep," last fall, made a popular hit with the audience both in Sylva and Cullowhee.

Written at the close of the last war, the play is concerned with a problem raised by Woman's Participation in the conflict and intensified by their service in the armed forces in this war at home and abroad. It makes no attempt to settle the question, but does present one eloquent side.

Elizabeth Anne Hunter, president of the Western Carolina Players, plays the roll of Mrs. Fair. Professor Clarence Chrisman, head of the department of foreign language, plays the part of her husband, Jeffery Fair. Miss Allison is the young daughter about whom the plot revolves, and young Corbin is the son, a Captain in the army. Supporting members of the cast are: Phyllis Dillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dillard of Sylva; Louise Bryson, Winter Haven, Fla.; Helen Hartshorn, Asheville; Virginia Wilkinson, Gastonia; Clayton Ramsey, Franklin; Carolyn Blankenship, Asheville; Laura Ann McNeil, of West Jefferson, is student director. Miss Mabel Tyree is directing the production. Music for the occasion is under the direction of Miss Rachel Rosenberger and the college orchestra.
