Popular Hotel Owners Have Been Hosts To Thousands

Mr. and Mrs. R. Frank Jarrett of Dillsboro, who during the 51 years of their married life, have entertained an estimated half million guests at their Jarrett Springs hotel, celebrated their birthdays on Sunday July 23.

Mrs. Jarrett was 76 on July 12 and Mr. Jarrett reached his 80th milestone Friday, so they decided to make it a joint affair on Sunday, in order that their sons and families might be present.

Those spending the day with them were Dr. Ralph F. Jarrett and his wife and two children, Nancy and Charles, from Charlotte; Clyde H. Jarrett and his family from Andrews; Mrs. A. B. Chandler and her son. Bryon, great grandson of the Jarretts; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Jarrett and their daughter, Bobby Lou, from Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett, who say they would recognize 100,000 of the 500,000 guests they have entertained, are said to hold a national record of more than half a century operating a hotel in the same structure.

FITH THE FIRM ESTABLISHMENT of Allied armies in France, the third in a trio of daggers is pointed at Eerlin, and the doom of Nazidom is well under way. The approximate distances these armies, and the Red Army, will have to travel to reach the German capital is shown on the map. In the inset, the black line indicates the air path recently covered by a fleet of U.S. Flying Fortresses and long-range fighter planes in the first 7,000-mile shuttle mission. Taking off in England, the giant bombers struck at Ruhland, Germany, and landed in Russia. After reloading, the planes went aloft again, blasted Drogobych, Poland, and landed at bases in Italy. From Italy, they flew to drop their bombs on rail yards at Beziers, near Marseilles in southern France, and then went on to their home bases in England. Three fighters were lost; all the bombers came through safely. The flight demonstrated the extent of range of American bombers and proved conclusively that all targets in Germany or Nazi-occupied territory can now be reached. (International)
