WPB Sets 1945 Pulpwood Goals In Area

A 1945 pulpwood production goal of 1,771,000 cords for the Appalachian region was set this week as Curtis M. Hutchins, chief of the WPB pulpwood production branch, announced that 16,000,000 cords of pulpwood will be needed this year to meet military and essential civilian requirements for paper and other wood pulp products.

The national goal is about 1,000,000 cords higher than total domestic wood receipts of all U. S. mills in 1944 and 2,000,000 cords above the original WPB goal for last year. The extra pulpwood is needed, Hutchins said, to match the recent step up of Allied military operations in Europe and the Pacific.

States included in the Appalachian region are: Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Delaware, Ohio and Maryland.

Hutchins said war needs for pulpwood are now at their peak, and he called on farmers and farm workers and all full-time and part-time pulpwood cutters to help industry to attain the 1945 goal.

"Use of every idle axe and saw now can produce the pulpwood for material that brings victory closer and loved ones home just that much sooner", he said. His statement follows:

"It will be necessary to produce 16,000,000 cords of domestic pulpwood if the heavily increased demands of the armed services overseas, and the essential home front war needs for pulp and paper products are to be met in 1945.

"The 1945 need is approximately 1,000,000 cords above the domestic production of 1944. The additional million cords is necessary to meet the step up in military action in war theatres throughout the world. The present tempo of war is chewing up material faster than it was believed possible a year ago. The packaging of food, ammunition, medical and a myriad of other supplies for shipment to men overseas requires increased amounts of pulpwood.

"The pulpwood necessary for the production of wood pulp for the manufacture of much of the packaging of military supplies, explosives, high tenacity rayon for the heavy duty tires which move our military forces overland both in Europe and Pacific war theatres and for other special military uses must be produced by each farmer and by each part-time and full-time wood cutter to the best of his ability.

"Pulpwood produced yesterday, today and every day has been instrumental in saving soldiers' lives on our many battlefronts. Use of every idle axe and saw now can produce the pulpwood for material that brings victory closer and friends and loved ones home just that much sooner.

"The need for increased pulpwood production was extreme prior to the great invasions of last Summer and Fall. Now the need is at its greatest and we must not let our men in the front lines down."

Standards of the Kingdom

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Jan. 21 is Matthew 4:23-6:18, the Memory Verse being John 11:42, "Thou hearest me always.")

IN OUR last lesson we read that Jesus went about teaching and healing the sick in mind and body. His fame spread through all Syria, and multitudes followed Him.

Our lesson today is the standards for living which Jesus set while He was among men on earth—in other words, the Sermon on the Mount. If we lived according to His rules so set down, we would be truly good people, those who bless the earth and do untold good to others. A life so lived would do more to convince people of the truths of Christianity than any other one thing.

"And seeing the multitudes, He went up into a mountain; and when he was set, His disciples came unto Him:

"And He opened His mouth and taught them, saying:—

"Blessed are the poor in spirit"—thus begin the Beatitudes. The first word is "Blessed" which means "Happy." Happy will the person be who is poor in spirit—not in our generally accepted meaning of that word. Not "yellow," not mean spirited, but poor in heart so that he feels the need of spiritual growth and strives to enrich his soul. Even the richest man in earthly wealth may feel this need for more spiritual riches and become an inheritor of the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed Are the Mourners

"Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted." So many are mourning now in this sad world, but those that, in spite of their sorrows, try to help others, shall surely be comforted.

Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. A meek person isn't boasting of his (or her) virtue; doesn't talk by the hour of what he has done and means to do. Doesn't insist that he is always in the right in a dispute but realizes and acknowledges he may be wrong, too.

Likewise "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled." It is easy to see that those who seek to know what is right and strive always to do it, will "be filled." Better than any earthly riches, this hunger and thirst bring peace and true happiness.

Likewise the merciful, those who do not condemn others, but are kind and understanding, and who treat their fellows, and all living things compassionately, surely will—or should—obtain mercy for themselves.

Peacemakers Called Blessed

Blessed are the peacemakers. They shall be called "sons of God." It may be right to fight in a just and righteous cause. After the battles comes the peace making. How the world needs just and righteous men and women to make peace that will last because no injustices are done. So in private lives, those who help to make and keep the peace are blessed.

Those who are persecuted and reviled because the world cannot understand the righteousness of their views or actions, shall also be blessed. "Theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

Christ also interpreted the ancient Jewish laws in a new way. His law of love was that if you have an enemy, instead of hating him, you should love him, pray for him, and do good to him. Is this too much to ask of us? No, it is not. Our neighbor may be our enemy, or the man or woman across the street, or members of our own family. Jesus told us not to go to church and pray or offer sacrifices until first we should be reconciled to this person with whom we have quarreled, and then we may, with clean hearts, offer our prayers to God.

Finally, Jesus says, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven"

Is that too high an aspiration? We may not attain to it, but we can try hard and all the time. It is our ideal, and if we do our best, surely God will be pleased and give us His blessing.

Mrs. J. H. Wilson

Hostess To U. D. C.
Mrs. J. H. Wilson was hostess for the January meeting of the B. H. Cathey Chapter of the United Daughters of Confederacy at her home Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. O. Soderquist, president, led in reading the ritual and presided over the business session. Plans were discussed for the year's work and committees appointed to serve were: Hostess and Program, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Dan Tompkins, Miss Bertha Cunningham and Mrs. M. Buchanan, Jr.; Memorial Day, Mrs. Harry Ferguson, Mrs. Felix Picklesimer and Mrs. Fred Williams; Credentials, Mrs. J. F. Freeze, Mrs. Hugh Monteith and Mrs. Jennings Bryson; Courtesy, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Felix Picklesimer, Mrs. T. O. Wilson and Mrs. J. H. Wilson; Flag Day Com., Mrs. John Parris, Mrs. Jennings Bryson, Mrs. Walter Jones and Mrs. Harry Ferguson; Custodian of the Scrapbook, Mrs. C. L. Allison.

Those taking part on the program were: Mrs. Dan Tompkins who discussed several articles in the U. D. C. magazine and read the sermon by the Right Rev. Beverley D. Tucker, D.D., Pastor of the St. Pauls Church, Richmond, Va., on Jan. 18, 1925, as a tribute to Robert E. Lee; and Mrs. Clarence Bales, visitor and former member, gave the reading, Jim's Defense.

Mrs. Wilson served a salad course at the conclusion of the meeting.

The family-size dairy herd is overcoming present day milk production problems much better than commercial dairymen. Farmers depending on hired labor are becoming discouraged.

The farm egg production goal for 1945 has been revised upward by 430 million dozen over the November estimate, says the War Food Administration.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

HOSPITALS WOULD IMPROVE SERVICES

Adoption of the recommendation made by the Governor's Commission on Hospital and Medical Care which calls for the building of rural hospitals and health centers in all counties not adequately equipped at present will also bring with it a number of other important medical services, says Dr. C. H. Hamilton, head of the rural sociology department at State College.

If the legislature carries out this recommendation, it would mean new hospitals in at least 20 counties, and the enlargement of those in at least 50 other counties. This recommendation is based on a well demonstrated fact: Rural hospitals do attract more doctors to rural communities.

Results of a survey, conducted by Dr. W. S. Rankin, trustee of the Duke Endowment and director of its hospital section, and reported by him in a lecture to the School of Hygiene and Public Health of Johns Hopkins University, prove this point, Dr. Hamilton says.

Dr. Rankin pointed out three ways in which the addition or improvement of these hospitals will also bring better medical services to the people of North Carolina.

These points are: The hospital attracts the young, highly competent physician with from two to five years post-graduate hospital experience. Second, the hospital improves an inadequate medical service by multiplying the professional capacity of the physicians in the community. Third, a rural hospital greatly improves inadequate medical care, especially for those of limited means.
