This unlighted trailer, moving slowly along the darkened highway, was completely invisible to an overtaking motorist as he came suddenly upon it from around a corner. He crashed into it and was fatally injured. Just one more of the many bitter ironies of highway deaths, where a lawbreaker who was indifferent to his own safety and the safety of others escaped injury, while an innocent victim paid for that indifference with his life.

Young Mothers

Here's a hand to the young mother, who has
Courage to do what she knows to be right,
When she falls in the way of temptation—

She has a hard battle to fight;
She, who strives against self and her comrades,
Will find a most powerful foe;

All honor to her if she conquers,
A cheer to that mother who says, "no!"

There's many a battle fought daily
The world knows nothing about;
There's many a brave little mother
Whose strength puts a legion to rout.

And she who fights sin single handed
Is more a hero, I say,
Than he who leads armies to battle
And conquers them on their way.

When you are tempted, young mother, be steadfast
To do what you know is right.
Stand firm in the honor of motherhood,
And you will overcome in the fight.
May the right be your cry ever,
In traveling the rough road of life.

And dear God, who knows who are the heroes,
Will give you strength for the strife.

WHERE THOUSANDS DIE!

91 killed—3,150 injured! If that were the report of an explosion, wreck or other disaster, it would be front page news. People would be horrified! But worse—it's just one day's automobile casualty list in the United States. It happens every day, week in, week out. Four deaths, 131 injured—every hour. At year's end 33,500 lives snuffed out, over a million injured or maimed for life. That's what happened last year. This year's record threatens to be even higher.

Speed—reckless, wanton speed—drunken driving—defiance of safety rules and regulations—and careless, jaywalking pedestrians, top the list of causes for this grim toll.

What can you do about it? Will the speeding wheels of your car add one death to this mass murder of the highways? Not if you, the driver—and you, the pedestrian—take your individual responsibilities seriously. Drive carefully at all times, under all conditions, and be alert when walking.

Don't be one of the thousands to kill, or be killed. Drive safely—and live!
