Appalachian Mountaineers Down WCTC Catamounts 20-0

The Appalachian State Mountaineers exploded with two touchdowns in the third quarter to break a scoreless deadlock and whip the Western Carolina Catamounts 20-0 at Boone Saturday night.

Held completely at bay by the stubborn Cullowhee line during the first half, the Mountaineers had to take to the air to pave the way for victory. Their first score came by a 38 yard pass from Quarterback Pete Mills to John Caskey in the endzone. A Mills pass also paid off with their second T. D. From the 32 Mills flipped a two yard heave just across scrimmage to Duaber Akins who ran the remaining 30. Tom Boyette, one-armed guard, booted both extra points.

SHOOT THE MOON

Attention All High School Seniors

Senior day will be celebrated at Western Carolina Teachers college Saturday. Any senior of any high school will be admitted free of charge to the football game between the Eastern Carolina Teachers and their host—the Western Carolina Teachers. The game is to be played on Hunter Field with the kickoff slated at 7:30 p. m. All seniors who wish to see the game must register at the Administration Building sometime Saturday afternoon.

The Catamount Band will be on hand to furnish halftime entertainment, and will parade through Sylva about 2:30 Saturday afternoon. New bleachers have been erected on the north side of the field and a crowd of 3000 people can now be handled.

The game is a conference tilt and the teams are fairly matched, so come one—come all and we'll see a good game. Last-year the Cats beat E. C. T. C. 13-6 in the final 15 seconds of the game.

Now for this weeks predictions. We bettered our average by eight points last week so let's see if we can't boost it a few more now. First we'll take Western Carolina over Eastern Carolina. Then we like: Duke over South Carolina Wake Forest over N. C. State North Carolina over Maryland Wofford over High Point Catawba over Guilford Atlantic Christian over Campbell Appalachian over Milligan Lenoir-Rhyne over Elon VMI over the Citadel

A part of the wreckage of the Strato Freight Line's DC-3 cargo plane is shown on the wooded slopes of a mountain the Caney Fork section of Jackson county where it crashed sometime during the night of October 16 and was found by a group of bear hunters October 29. The bodies of the three occupants of the plane were brought to Moody funeral home and prepared for shipment. The plane carrying a cargo of 40,000 baby chicks was on a flight from Charlotte to Gainesville, Ga. It crashed some 75 miles off its course after running out of gas.

BASKETBALL

Opening game of season of the newly organized basketball schedule will be played Nov. 19 at 7:00 p. m. between Woodmen and Velt's teams.

Darrington, Wash. News

By G. W. CLAYTON
Well folks, I didn't wait so long this time. Rain, rain, such a month as the past October was, very few pretty days during the whole month. There is some snow on the high peaks, but in spite of the bad weather, we worked all month and will log until the snow gets too deep.

Deer season has just closed and almost everyone that wanted one got it. I have never known as many killed up the Sack river as was this year. These are a few of the boys from around Sylva who killed a deer: Fred Blanton, Rich Jones, Burke and Furman Henson, Tom Ashe, John Jones and Joe Stoney. In fact, twenty-seven tar-neels got their kill.

We hear that some of the folks are going south to spend the winter when the camp shuts down. Some are already gone. Charley Brown and his family are on their way now.

Well, for some local news — our city hall is beginning to look like a building, taking shape very fast now. It is surely going to be a nice building, something that we Darrington folks are going to be proud of.

Mrs. Cole Ensley is spending the week-end in Seattle with her niece, Mrs. Betty Hoyter.

Our fifth Sunday singing will be held in Marysville, Wash. Nov. 30. We expect to hear some good singing. Fate Shuler and his group are really good. Mrs. Harry Butler plays the piano for them. We will be looking for you folks from Lyman and Hamilton and of course for all who like to sing or hear some good singing.

Our church and Sunday school are doing fine. Our pastor, Rev. W. M. Breedlove, has just returned from Sylva. We have just met some more fine folks from Whittier, N. C. — Mr. and Mrs. Sutton. They come to our church every Sunday.
