B and P W Club Hears Talk On Farm Problems And State Assistance

ved by the Legion Auxiliary members prior to the business session with Mrs. Lillian Madison presiding. Mrs. Geneva Kircheng was named chairman of the finance committee. Miss Lucille Hunt gave a brief report on the Girl Scout meetings which have been held recently in interest of a full time Scout leader for the Area. She reported that the leader had been secured and will begin her work on March 6th with headquarters at Western Carolina Teachers College. The present project of the club is disposing of an electric washing machine and

The monthly dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held Monday evening at the American Legion home. A delicious dinner was served and the sale of tickets were discussed. The club members voted to accept the rule as adopted some time ago in enforcing the regulation that any member absent from a meeting without notifying Dr. Noracella Wilson on Saturday prior to the following Monday night meeting will be expected to pay the full price of the supper. Miss Evelyn Sherrill, treasurer, will be expected to mail cards notifying members who fail to comply with the ruling.

Miss Mary Johnston, program chairman for the meeting, introduced W. T. Brown, county farm agent, and Paul Laughrun, State field representative of the Farmers Home Administration, of Raleigh, the latter as the guest speaker of the evening.

Summarizing Mr. Laughrun's informative talk on the farmer and farm family problems and the part F.H.A. plays in dealing with the problems, he first pointed out the following problems facing agriculture today: 1—Need for higher education among farm families; 2—soil conservation and better land use; 3—unstable farm prices; 4—poor marketing and distribution of farm produce; 5—over production of certain farm crops; 6—weather; 7—pests (insects, bugs, diseases); 8—mechanization; 9—need for balanced economy in industry (opportunity to get industry to supplement farm incomes); 10—poor housing and sanitation of some farm families and animals; 11—lack of diversification in agriculture; 12—lack of credit (for half of lower half of farmer bracket).

To cope with these problems Mr. Laughrun mentioned the following assistances being offered by State agencies to farmer problems today: farm agents, home agents, 4-H club workers, and assistants to each of these three agencies; experiment stations; production and marketing associations; home economics and agriculture teachers in the high schools; and Farmers Home Administration.

March marks the first anniversary of the Sylva B. and P. W. club, and it was decided to have a party for the March 27th meeting. Miss Hattie Hilda Sutton was named program chairman, Misses Jane Coward and Dorothy Williams will be in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Noracella Wilson will be in charge of place arrangement.
