Married In First Baptist Church

Dortha L. Hennessee Weds Malcolm F. McDonald

Miss Dortha Lucile Hennessee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woody Clifton Hennessee, was married to Malcolm Frank McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Annie of Forest Hill, Tenn., on Sunday at five o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Sylva.

The Reverend C. M. Warren, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with native greenery. Wicker baskets of white gladioli and six seven-branched candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers completed the church decorations.

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Elizabeth Stillwell, organist, and Jack Evans, vocalist. Organ numbers were Traumerel by Schumann, Romance by Rubenstein, Theme from Romeo and Juliet by Tchaikowsky, Sweetest Story ever Told, by Stults, and To a Wild Rose by McDowell. Elmhurst by Drewett was played during the ceremony. Vocal solos included Calm As Night by Bohn, O Perfect Love by Barnby, and The Lord's Prayer by Molotte was used as the benediction. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle length gown of imported lace over satin with a back-closing of tiny satin covered buttons and yoke of nylon illusion. Her finger-tip veil fell from a halo of illusion and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds centered with a white orchid and showered with lilies of the valley on satin streamers.

Mrs. Coy Carson was matron of honor. She wore a gown of white shadow organdy over green taffeta with matching sash and headband. She carried a bouquet of mixed asters in pastel shades tied with a rose satin bow.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Evans, Miss Peggy Ledford, Miss Carolyn Matheny, and junior bridesmaids was Miss Donna Hennessee, sister of the bride. Their gowns were of taffeta in pastel shades of pink, blue, and yellow, respectively, and each wore a headband matching her dress. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed asters with contrasting satin ribbons.

William McDonald, brother of the groom, was best man. Urshers were Jack Hennessee, brother of the bride, Bill Skinner, John Skinner, and Fred McDonald, cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. J. E. Barrett welcomed the guests, and members of the wedding party, Mrs. Hennessee, and Mrs. Annis formed the receiving line. Miss Elizabeth Stillwell showed the guests to the dining room. The table, covered with a handmade lace cloth, was centered with a tired arrangement of white mums in a crystal bowl flanked by crystal candleholders with lighted tapers. At one end of the table was placed the three-tiered wedding cake, encircled with white gladiolus.

loretts interspersed with fern and topped with miniature bride and groom. The crystal punch bowl, placed on a large crystal tray, was used on the opposite end of the table where Mrs. Roy Allison presided. The cake, cut by the bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Edward Mayfield, aunt of the bride, assisted by Mrs. E. P. Stillwell. Others assisting in the dining room were Miss Bonnie Lindsey and Mrs. W. L. Jones. Mrs. John Morris was in charge of the gift room, and Mrs. Olen Bell presided at the guest register. Lovely arrangements of white gladioli placed in front of large mirrors over the mantels added to the attractiveness of the home. A tall silver vase holding yellow chrysanthemums was also used in the living room.

Mrs. Hennessee, mother of the bride, wore a gown of navy lace over taffeta with coral and navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of black lace over taffeta with chartreuse and black accessories. They wore identical corsages of cymbidiums.

After the reception the couple left by motor for a southern wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with matching velvet trim and with beige and

TODAY'S TELEPHONE RATES BASED ON OPERATIONS OVER 23 YEARS AGO

Your Telephone Company has not had nor asked for a general rate increase since its organization. Our wages and cost of materials have continued to advance as have all other industries.

At last we find that we can no longer operate and expand our facilities without being able to show a profit sufficient to attract capital to be used for the much needed expansion of our facilities.

We feel sure our subscribers are willing to pay a reasonable amount for their services, and a reasonable profit that is required if we are to attract new money whereby we can improve our present subscriber service and serve this fast-growing section of North Carolina.

The North Carolina Utilities Commission has our application for an increase and will investigate the necessity and the fairness of rates asked.

We ask for your help and cooperation whereby we may better serve you.
