Are You Discouraged, Blue?

This Advice Is of Vital Importance to You

Columbia, S. C.—"I was suffering with a breakdown in health, and became discouraged. I suffered with bearing pains and pains down through my limbs, my appetite was poor and I became frail and weak. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. One day my husband got one of Dr. Pierce's pamphlets and we soon decided to try the 'Favorite Prescription.' My husband bought a half dozen bottles to start with. I began to improve at once and before these bottles were gone I was perfectly well and have been well ever since."—Mrs. Hattie Wessinger, 209 Sumpter St.

Your health is the most valuable asset you have—do not delay but obtain this "Prescription" now. At all drug stores in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c for trial pkg. tablets.

Railway Presidents Get a Living Wage

Julius Kruttschnitt (portrait herewith), chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railway, with $100,000, is the highest salaried railroad executive in the country, according to reports to the senate interstate commerce committee in the Cummins investigation of revenues and expenditures of carriers. The report showed eight executives were paid $75,000 or more for the year ending June 30.

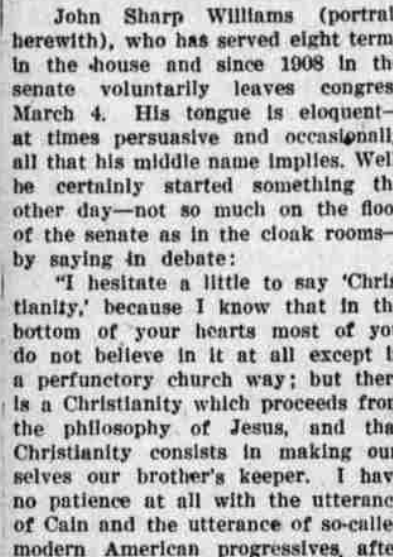

A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, who received $92,580, was second. His salary the previous year was $100,000.

These chiefs received $75,000: Robert S. Lovett, Union Pacific board chairman; Carl R. Gray, Union Pacific president; C. H. Markham, president Illinois Central; E. Pennington, president Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie; Hale Holden, president Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and affiliated lines, and William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific company, making a total of six.

Daniel Willard got $87,500 as president of the Baltimore & Ohio, while L. F. Loree received $37,500 as president of Delaware & Hudson and $35,000 as chairman of the Kansas City Southern.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul paid President H. E. Byram $60,000 while President W. T. Noonan of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and President N. D. Maher of the Norfolk & Western received the same.

Middle Name Is Sharp; So's His Tongue

John Sharp Williams (portrait herewith), who has served eight terms in the house and since 1908 in the senate voluntarily leaves congress March 4. His tongue is eloquent—at times persuasive and occasionally all that his middle name implies. Well, he certainly started something the other day—not so much on the floor of the senate as in the cloak rooms—by saying in debate:

"I hesitate a little to say 'Christianity,' because I know that in the bottom of your hearts most of you do not believe in it at all except in a perfunctory church way; but there is a Christianity which proceeds from the philosophy of Jesus, and that Christianity consists in making ourselves our brother's keeper. I have no patience at all with the utterance of Cain and the utterance of so-called modern American progressives after Cain, when they say, 'We are not our brother's keeper.' You may think you are awfully smart when you advise the American people to take care of their own interests and to let their brethren in Europe go to hell. You may think all that; but you are not awfully smart when you say it, and you are not awfully good when you say it. You are just common, selfish, mean men, and sometimes you will be swept away like—"

Senator Williams was born in 1854 at Memphis, Tenn.

Prince Caetani Is No Stranger Here

Prince Celasio Caetani, the new Italian ambassador at Washington, is no stranger in the United States. Moreover, his mother, the dowager duchess of Sermoneta, is an English woman. Soon after obtaining the degree of civil engineer in Rome at the age of twenty-four he turned toward America. He entered the mining school of Columbia university, enrolling himself as Mr. Celasio Caetani. After completing his course he went West to the mining country.

The prince then spent some time in mining districts between Alaska and Mexico, alternating manual work with designing and agriculture. In Alaska he held a job as constructor and engineer. He spent one Arctic winter in a hut on the Gulf of Taku.

After years of experience in practical mining he founded a firm of engineers who specialized in the construction of shafts and mining plants.

The prince made a success of this project and his four big ventures, the "Tomboy," the "Smuggler Union," in Colorado; the "Plymouth," and the "Mountain Cup," in California, are testimony of his work.

When Caetani was at the zenith of his mining career war broke out and he returned to Italy to serve his country. But Italy was then neutral. Accordingly he offered his services to Herbert Hoover, then head of the American Committee of Distribution in Belgium. Thereafter he served his country brilliantly as an aviator and engineer. In 1921 he was elected to the chamber of deputies. His family is one of the oldest in Italy.

Brookhart a Live Wire and Dead Shot

Col. Smith W. Brookhart of Washington, Ia., the new United States senator, is a farmer, soldier and lawyer. He is a rugged, physically powerful man. He is fifty-three years old, weighs more than 200 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches tall. He never tasted liquor or tobacco and never swears. Asked how he did it, the morning following election, he said:

"Visiting the people in every county. Spending no fabulous sums for posters. Individuals, farm organizations and labor organizations supported me at their own expense. My election was a victory for the farmers, labor, soldiers and mothers of Iowa."

One of the colonel's favorite wall-pops throughout the entire campaign was: "Seven billion dollars of watered stock must be pumped out of the railroads." The repeal of the transportation act was the biggest plank in his platform.

Colonel Brookhart is president of the National Rifle Association of America. He served in the Spanish-American war. During the World war he trained 10,000 officers and 6,000 non-commissioned officers in marksmanship.

Mrs. Gross Praises Tanlac for Overcoming Stomach Trouble —Says Results Are Priceless.

"Before I took Tanlac I only weighed ninety-four pounds and scarcely had strength to sweep the floor; but now I weigh one hundred and thirty-two and am as healthy and happy as can be." This remarkable statement was made, recently, by Mrs. Mabel Gross, 1137 Aldrich St., N., Minneapolis, Minn.

"For nearly two years I had been in a seriously weakened condition and suffered nearly all the time from headache and backache. My nerves were beyond my control and I was terribly dizzy. I couldn't half sleep and my stomach was so out of order that even the sight of food nauseated me.

"The benefits I have received from Tanlac are priceless. I am now a perfectly well woman and my friends often speak of how healthy I look. Health is worth everything, and that is what Tanlac has meant to me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Enormous Cost of the World War.

An estimate made in behalf of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace shows that the cost of the World war exceeded $335,000,000,000. This amount is equal to the combined wealth of the United States, France and Great Britain when the war began.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Why Bee Favors Blue.

It is believed that the bee's taste for blue flowers arises from the fact that blue is the color of the most advanced flowers.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster

Car Carried North Carolina License.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Although Thomas creek, 20 miles north of here, was dynamited four times following the finding of an automobile submerged at the end of a "blind" road, without any bodies being revealed, county officers were of the opinion that several persons perished when the car catapulted into the stream. The creek will be dynamited further downstream.

The automobile, which was removed from the water, bore a Greensboro, N. C., city license No. 207, and a North Carolina state license No. 40,735. There was a shriner's emblem on the front of the car.

A short distance from where the automobile was submerged were found a baby's tin horn, a pair of woman's stockings, a handkerchief, some oranges and crackers. These articles had lodged in some vegetation growing near the bank.

A farmer, hearing the automobile going down the "blind" road, went to investigate and found the machine in the water. The road ends at the stream.

Peacock to be Given Hearing.

Lakeland, Fla.—Dr. J. W. Peacock, who escaped from the criminally insane department of the North Carolina state prison and who recently was declared sane at Arcadia, Fla., will return to North Carolina without requisition papers provided he is assured no technical charge is placed against him and he would be tried only for insanity, it was reported.

The decision is said to have been arrived at at a conference between Dr. Peacock and his attorneys. Dr. Peacock has been visiting here but could not be located.

Forest Fires Raging.

Kinston, N. C.—LeGrange reports told of extensive forest fires in that section. Several thousand acres of wooded land have been burned over. Houses have been threatened in some localities. One farmer reported several hundred dollars' damage on his premises from a blaze started by rabbit hunters in an adjacent thicket. Rainfall over the district has been below normal for several months. The farmers have been compelled to quit work to cope with the fires in some places.

BRITAIN LIKELY TO ACCEPT PLAY

TENTATIVE PLAN WORKED OUT AGREEABLE BOTH COMMISSIONS.

RECALL BRINGS SURPRISE

Despite Departure of British Commission, Early Agreement Would Not Be Surprising.

WASHINGTON.—Although the British debt commission sailed for home with the mission which brought it to America uncompleted, well-informed officials in Washington are by no means pessimistic over the possibility of an early agreement for the refunding of the British war debt to the United States.

In view of the facts disclosed for the first time, some of those familiar with the recent exchanges between the British and American commissioners would not be surprised if British assent to settlement plans tentatively worked out here is given soon after Chancellor Baldwin and his colleagues of the British commission arrive in London.

While the greatest reserve is shown here regarding the nature of this tentative plan, it is known that it represents the well considered judgment of both commissions as embodying the maximum concessions that might reasonably be granted by the United States. In view of the advanced stage which has been reached in the discussions, the sudden decision of the British government to recall its commissioners to London for consultation, instead of authorizing them to conclude the agreement.

As the home government had been kept fully informed of every step in the progress of the negotiations, it had been assumed that the absence of objections to the plan as it developed could be construed only as forecasting assent to the final stages.

The conclusion has been drawn in diplomatic circles here that the grave change in the European political situation after the two commissions began their work caused the British government to hesitate to assume any new financial burdens at this time unless it was assured of the ability of the taxpayers to bear them.

Among the many elements of apprehension which thus may have influenced British officials, are enumerated the possibility of an expensive war with Turkey, heavy losses of trade as the result of the operations of the French in the Ruhr, followed by increasing unemployment of English workmen, unrest in India, and unsatisfactory conditions in Egypt, which might make it necessary to modify her present independent status. To tie up the government in such an enormous financial transaction as that contemplated by the commission under those ends is said to have been viewed as hazardous in the extreme.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Eldridge, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago... I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of CARDUI The Woman's Tonic and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, ... when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."
