Did you ever stop to think... BOONE R. WAITE

THAT it is sensible economy to read the advertisements before you buy.

THAT advertisements bring information to you that will save you time and money.

THAT the business concerns that serve you best are the ones who continuously tell you thru the printed page who they are, where they are and what they have to offer you.

THAT continuous advertisers are the ones who do everything in their power to satisfy your every want; they always offer you reasonable merchandise reasonably priced.

THAT local dealers always serve you best because they know local conditions and local needs much better than any firm in a distant city could know.

THAT you can get what you want and see what you get when you buy from local dealers.

THAT there is no long wait and no transportation charges to pay when you buy from the home dealers.

Home dealers will serve you quickly with the best that can be procured.

It has always been and always will be safer and more profitable to buy at home.

Money saved is money earned. Save by reading the local advertisements and buying from local dealers.

Big Singing Convention Held In Madison

Marshall, Sept. 23—One of the largest congregations in the history of the singing conventions of Madison County gathered Sunday at the Mount Zion Free Will Baptist church in an old-time get-together singing of both old and new songs.

Between 300 and 500 persons were present. Among the classes present were: The Marshall Class, Dry Branch, Mount Zion, Laurelton Chapel, and the Laurelton Chapel Junior Class, and the Marshall Quartet.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Mount Zion church, which is being conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George Briggs, the Rev. Johnny Franks of Whitney, S. C., and the Rev. Ervin Sluder. Services are held both morning and evening, and much and lasting good is expected from these services.

It Does Just That "Mother," said young Edwin when he first heard a bound bray, "that dog barks and then just lets it coast." —The Pathfinder

FROM MARS HILL

A revival started here Sunday at the Baptist church. The pastor is being ably assisted by the visiting minister.

The Marshall-Mars Hill road force has now passed through the street of Mars Hill and the shovel is moving on towards the Ivy Bridge. Our people are delighted at the prospect of having a good road out of Mars Hill in two directions.

Mrs. L. D. Edwards is reported satisfactorily convalescent, at the Aston Park hospital in Asheville.

Mr. Fred Jarvis has received from the printers the Minutes of the French Broad Association.

BOONE—PLEMMONS

Friends of Miss Orla Plemmons, formerly of Marshall, lately of Fulton, Ky., will be interested to know that she and Mr. Edwin Boone, of Fulton, were married Saturday, Sept. 21, at 10:30 P. M., at Clinton, Ky., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Hood of the Methodist church. It is hoped they will be in Marshall to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Plemmons, about Thanksgiving.

Does Capital Punishment Prevent Many Murders?

No evidence has been offered to show that capital punishment acts as a deterrent or hindrance to murderers, declares Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician of the Prudential Insurance Co., after a study of the 1928 homicide record in the United States.

On the contrary, according to his contention, the death penalty tends to deter swift and adequate justice, imposes heavy burdens upon the taxpayers as the result of long trials, and fosters sensationalism, with its false emphasis and its degrading influence on the public.

"For the country as a whole," Dr. Hoffman states, "it is doubtful whether the total number of executions of all kinds reaches 200, against a total estimated murder death-roll of possibly 12,000. If we are not willing to enforce the death penalty, it would certainly be much better to do away with it."

As an initial step in the reduction of the homicide death-rate, Dr. Hoffman suggests a more drastic regulation of the traffic in firearms. —American City Magazine.

Annual State Sunday School Convention To Be Held

Beginning Wednesday night, October 2, and continuing through Friday night, October 4, the Annual State Sunday School Convention under the auspices of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, will be held at the First Baptist Church in Raleigh. General sessions of the convention will be held on Wednesday night, October 2, and Thursday and Friday mornings and nights, October 3 and 4. The afternoons of Thursday and Friday will be given over to departmental conferences.

Among the out-of-State Sunday School specialists who have already accepted places on the convention program are Dr. Percy R. Hayward, Chicago, Ill., Director of Young People's work for the International Council of Religious Education; and Miss Elizabeth McE. Shields, Richmond, Va., Director of Children's work for the Sunday School Board of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Other outstanding leaders in religious education who have agreed to appear on the program are Dr. W. A. Harper, President of Elon College; Rev. Lawrence Little, Director of Religious Education for the General Board of the Methodist Protestant Church; Prof. Duane McCracken, of Guilford College; Mrs. Chas. L. Van Noppen, Greensboro; Prof. John W. Myers, Salisbury, Professor of Religious Education in Catawba College; E. B. Crow, Teacher of the Vanguard Men's Bible Class in the First Presbyterian Sunday School of Raleigh; Rev. J. E. Pritchard, Asheville, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church; Thos. P. Pruitt, Hickory, pastor of the First Baptist Sunday School. Several other prominent religious educational leaders have been invited to participate in the convention program and will be announced later.

The Raleigh Committee on Arrangements for the Convention is as follows: J. Henry Highsmith, Superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday School, General Chairman; J. Charles Phelps, Superintendent of Central Methodist Sunday School, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee; Clarence E. Mitchell, Chairman of the Finance Committee; Dr. R. W. Lieby, Superintendent of the Lutheran Sunday School, Chairman of the Ushers Committee. Other members of the general committee are J. S. Holmes, Superintendent of Good Shepherd Episcopal Sunday School; John M. Foster, Superintendent of Hillyer Memorial Christian Sunday School; Miss Maud Reid, of Tabernacle Baptist Sunday School; H. H. Milner, Superintendent of First Vanguard Presbyterian Sunday School.

The program for the convention is being arranged by a committee composed of the following officers of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, with Miss Flora Davis, General Superintendent of the Association, serving as Chairman; J. B. Ivey, Charlotte, State President; L. W. Clark, Spray, Chairman of the Executive Committee; E. B. Crow, Raleigh, Treasurer; and Vice Presidents, Dr. John B. Wright of Raleigh, Dr. C. M. Van Poole of Salisbury, T. W. Costen of Gatesville, Thomas P. Pruitt, of Hickory.

CARD OF THANKS

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation the kindness and sympathy shown us by friends during our bereavement. Especially do we appreciate the effort Dr. W. A. Sams made to relieve mother's suffering during the few hours she was ill; also for the sympathy and many kindnesses he has shown the family. Thanking you, C. M. Burnette and children.

Not to Mention Pruning Anyone could tell that he came from one of those family trees that needed pruning.—The Pathfinder.

The City With A Civic Consciousness

What is a city? It is a place where men of very various types, fulfilling diverse functions, live together in a real community life. It should be thoroughly mixed, business men and professional men, merchant princes and craftsmen, thinkers and doers, making their several contributions to a common life in which all legitimate human interests may flourish, including not only commerce and industry, but also the arts, music and the drama, and religion. In it the non-productive members of the community will be cared for, children have plenty of open spaces for physical development and be nobly trained in mind and spirit; the halt and the maimed be sheltered and protected; and the aged find the evening of their days filled with peace. It will be a place of dignity and of fellowship. In it the things of the spirit will be pursued with as much zeal as the material goods of life. There will be in it such variety of interest that every citizen will find it possible to live an ever-expanding intelligent, satisfactory life, for body, mind, and spirit. Each will labor for the good of all. The aim will be the instruction and enlightenment and well-being of every citizen, the loosing of chains and the unbinding of burdens, and a free course for righteousness everywhere.
