State University To Help Celebrate The Home-Coming Week

CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 26.—The University is planning to take an active part in the state-wide celebration of home-coming week to be held in October, when all native sons and daughters are invited to return and get better acquainted with the people and conditions they used to know.

The University will begin its part in the State-wide celebration on Saturday, October 19. Dedication of the handsome new Library will take place at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, with a speaker of national prominence to give the featured address. The Carolina-Georgia football game at 2:30 o'clock will be followed immediately by a reception to the University's guests at the New Library; and in the evening the University's guests will be entertained with a special performance by the Carolina Playmakers, nationally known folk drama group.

The program the next day, Sunday, will be featured by Union Services for all denominations in a general University convocation, at which Dean Shailer Mathews of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago will preach.

The University celebration will be continued during the following week with the Southern Conference on Educations and meetings of the Southeastern and North Carolina Library Associations, and of the Citizens Library Movement of North Carolina.

FRISBY GIVES FINE SHOW

The entertainment given last Friday evening by Ben Frisby, Magician and Ventriloquist, and sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, was appreciated and enjoyed immensely by a large crowd. Mr. Frisby has received many compliments and congratulations since the show, of which he is certainly deserving. His magic is first class stuff. It is hoped that he will put on another show here in the near future.

JACK RIDDLE DEAD

Mr. Jack Riddle age 58, of Little Pine, died at 9:00 A. M., Monday, September 23, at the Mission hospital in Asheville, after an illness of four months, death being caused by cancer of pancreas.

The funeral was at 3:30 P. M. Tuesday, conducted by the Revs. E. Sprinkle, Watts and Lanning, and the body was interred at Kirk Payne Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Harrison, Elbert, of Marshall; Adolphus, of Asheville; Eliza Payne, Bryson City; Emily Payne, Marshall; Naomi Ledford, Emma; and Alice Dockery, Cherokee. Also survived by his wife, Hattie Martin Riddle, and four sons and two daughters: Jonah, of Detroit, Mich.; Noah, Zettie, Clyde and Clement, all at home.

Mr. Riddle was a life-long member of the Baptist church. He was one of the best informed men in the County on Music, and had a host of friends all over the County, who will mourn the loss of this their friend, and he had taught singing schools all over the County almost.

Mr. Riddle had been sick for about four months, and was taken to Asheville to Mission hospital as a last resort of trying to do something for him. He was operated on last Friday, but physicians came from the operating room stating he had no chance of recovery as he had a very malignant condition of the Pancreas; however, all was done for the man that could be done under circumstances, and the family are especially appreciative to all doctors, nurses and friends, neighbors ministers and all for their assistance in this their great sorrow.

ZEBULON V. RECTOR DEAD

Mr. Zebulon V. Rector, age 72, died at his home in Weaverville about six o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 21, 1929. For the last two years Mr. Rector had been in feeble health. He is survived by two brothers, Mr. Crusoe Rector, of Walnut, N. C., and Mr. Wesley Rector, of Tennessee.

The following sons and daughters survive him: Mrs. L. Z. Eller, of Weaverville, N. C.; Mr. H. A. Rector, of Jacksonville, Florida; Mrs. Cleveland Smithwick, of Belhaven, N. C.; Mr. W. J. Wilson, of Asheville; Mr. Hobart Rector and Mr. Roland Rector, both of Charlotte, and Mrs. John McElroy of Marshall, all of whom were present except Mrs. Smithwick, of Belhaven, who could not be present. Funeral services were from the Weaverville Baptist church, of which he was a member, Sunday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Berry, interment following at the Weaverville cemetery. The ceremony was in charge of the Junior Order of Leicester, of which Mr. Rector was a prominent member, and of which Mr. J. Marvin Glance of Leicester and Asheville is councillor, Mr. P. B. Reeves, vice-councillor, and Mr. M. B. Reeves, chaplain. The pallbearers were Messrs. L. D. Meadows, G. F. Cole, M. M. Roberts, R. O. Gillespie, C. B. Hayes, and P. D. Israel.

DEDICATION

The new Spring Creek High School building will be formally dedicated on Friday, October 4th, at 10:30 in the morning. This is to be an unusual occasion. Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Education, will be present to make the principal address. Members of the County Board, Supt. Blankenship, and other officials, will be there. A cordial welcome will be extended to all visitors and it is hoped that a large number of people will attend. This new building is one of the finest in our entire section of the State; it is a credit to our county. The first year enrollment is fifty-six in the high school and over three hundred in the grades.

DEATH OF MRS. HERMAN GENTRY

The Death Angel visited the home of Mr. Herman Gentry and family and took away the loving wife and mother, Vernie, age 28 years. Mrs. Gentry was formerly of Marshall. She was taken sick somewhere near two months ago. When she was carried to the hospital in Asheville, where she died September 19, 1929, at 5:00 o'clock. Those left to mourn their loss are her husband and two children Edna and Bud., with many in-law relatives, her grandmother, and also a host of friends.

Mrs. Gentry professed faith in Christ and was living it up to her death. The statement she made on her death bed was, All I hate to leave this world for is my husband and two children. I think this is a wonderful statement.

She was laid to rest at the Rector Chapel Cemetery near Marshall, the funeral being conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Beechboard. We greatly miss her but we feel that our loss is Heaven's gain. She is gone but not forgotten.

DOUBLE WEDDING IN MARSHALL WEDNESDAY

Roberts—Hensley Cress—Murphy

About five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 25, in the office of Dr. W. A. Sams two couples were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. L. Smith, pastor of the Marshall Baptist church. It was not planned to be a double wedding, but one couple just happened to come in as the other couple was about to be married. Quite a number of people came up to witness the ceremony. The contracting parties were Mrs. Ida Hensley and Mr. John Roberts, both of the Big Laurel section. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hensley of Spill Corn. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roberts.

The other parties were from Tennessee and were passing through. The bride was Miss Gladys Murphy, of Charleston, Tenn., and the groom was Mr. Francis Cress, of Cleveland, Tennessee.
