

Back Quit Hurting

"I was in a very weak condition from a serious sickness," writes Mrs. I. Leonard, 571 Joseph St., New Orleans, La. "I was so weak, I wanted to sleep all the time. I did not have strength to do anything. My back ached nearly all the time. I was just in misery. My mother told me I must arouse myself from the sleepiness, and take something to help get my strength back. She had taken Cardui and had been helped, so I decided to take Cardui, too. After my first bottle, I could see that it was helping me. I took four bottles at this time. My strength came back and I gained weight. Pretty soon, I was my old self again. My back quit hurting, and I haven't had any more trouble since I took Cardui."

SPRING CREEK HIGH SCHOOL

Judging from the many favorable Of course the place was Hannah of the Commencement program Sunday was an entire success. The Rev. Mr. Wilson's sermon was brilliant, interesting, full of oratory and truth, and very instructive to young people and old as well. Mr. Wilson was accompanied by Mr. Radford of the Education Board of Yancey, and the Principal of Marshall High School, Douglas M. Robinson, who introduced Mr. Wilson as speaker. Mr. Gordon Woody, the very useful musician of our community, assisted with the musical program.

On Wednesday evening of last week the Seniors and their friends enjoyed a weiner roast and other features given by Miss Nannie B. Meadows. Of course the place was Hannah Springs, on Highway 209, toward the top of Haywood Mountain, where so many picnickers go. Everyone enjoyed Miss Meadows' feast.

Mr. Brintnall and Miss Crafton, County Agents, were with the school last week in the interest of club work. Mr. Brintnall was also giving valuable suggestion on the work needed to be done on the school grounds.

Superintendent Blankenship and Chairman Ebbs were meeting the committee of the school last week in the interest of selecting teachers for the next year.

The show Friday night, presented by Mr. B. Johnson, the magician, ventriloquist, clairvoyant, etc., was again reported a good success with a large audience. Mr. Johnson is scheduled for another in two weeks.

Pupils and teachers are practicing hard for the grade program on Thursday of this week.

High School pupils, teachers and parents are also working hard on the Class Day program for Friday morning. Lieutenant Governor, R. T. Fountain, as has been announced, will deliver the Commencement Address at 11 o'clock, following the Senior program.

Miss Pauline Woody, daughter of J. Roy Woody, and a student of the ninth grade is ill and out of school at this writing. We are sorry to have her absent and wish her a speedy recovery.

Sickness has hindered many children in their work and prevented several from making their grades this year, as well as adding doctor bills to the family expenses. Both parents and school authorities, should ask if there has not been too much that could have been prevented. There must be a cause somewhere.

MARS HILL

Changes in the Mars Hill College Faculty

The Asheville Times carried an article last Thursday saying that Professor P. L. Elliott of Mars Hill College had resigned his work there to take up work with the Cullowhee Normal next session. Professor Elliott is well known throughout this section, and it is with regret that we give him up. And last week's Biblical Recorder carried an announcement from President Moore saying: Dr. O. E. Sams, president of Bluefield College, will be connected with Mars Hill College after June 1. His first work as Vice-President will be to help lay plans for the securing of additional loan and aid funds for helping worthy poor boys and girls, and a large income for the College. A native of the hills, a graduate of the school, a graduate of Wake Forest, with wide experience as a pastor and school man, and with a devotion to the school rarely found, he is fitted as few men are to give a dynamic interpretation to Christian education and to lead in a program of enlargement of the school's facilities and service as it rounds out seventy-five years and starts on the last quarter of a century of achievement.

—R. L. Moore.—We are happy to know that Dr. Sams is to come back to the State, and it is according to the "eternal fitness of things" that he should come to Mars Hill. We congratulate President Moore upon securing such a capable man to aid in the great work at Mars Hill.—Editor.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Owen and Mr. and Mrs. S. Lee Carter made a trip to the Roan Mountains recently and brought back a nice load of shrubbery.

Mrs. Marshbanks of Paint Gap is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jason Briggs.

Miss Verdi Mashbanks, student at High Point College, has been spending the spring holidays with relatives here.

Mrs. R. C. Martin and little daughter, Virginia Louise, of Gastonia, were guests of Mrs. O. C. Crowder during Commencement.

Professor Douglas Robinson, of Marshall, was a visitor here Tuesday. Clarence Patrick, student at Wake Forest, is home for a few days.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the High School commencement are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sams of Flag Pond, Tenn., Mrs. J. T. Redmon of Marshall, Miss Sarah Elmore, of Morganton, Miss Flossie Murray of Laurel, Dr. W. A. Sams of Marshall and the Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Teague of Marshall.

The sermon preached by the Rev. G. C. Teague Sunday evening was full of inspiration for all who heard it, and especially for the graduating class.

Professor and Mrs. Frank Jarvis and Frank, Jr., of Rutherfordton, visited relatives here, over the weekend.

Mrs. P. C. Stringfield and children, Calvin and Mary, are visiting relatives in Rutherfordton this week.

Mrs. G. M. Juredine has gone to Lexington, Ky., to take up work in connection with a hospital there.

Mr. Carringer, of Robbinsville, spent the week-end with his daughter, Mrs. P. L. Elliott.

The International Relations Club met last Thursday night at the home of Professor and Mrs. I. N. Carr. Nine of the twelve student members were present. Invited guests of the faculty were President and Mrs. E. L. Moore, Professor and Mrs. R. M. Lee, and Professor and Mrs. Wm. Grubbs.

Commencement at Mars Hill High School

"The Hill" was fairly humming with commencement activities from Friday evening thru Tuesday noon. The exercises Friday evening included practically all of the children in the grades, either in songs or in one of the operettas. The Peter Rabbit operetta, which had been given in the fall, was repeated and "The Spring Glow," a very appropriate one for the season, was added. The whole program was well gotten up and presented and was worthy of the large audience which greeted it.

Saturday evening the play "Be An Optimist," as given by the high school students. Although this did not take in so many pupils, it was well presented and was heartily enjoyed by the large audience.

Monday was given over to the Declaration and Reading contests, the boys having the morning and the girls the afternoon session. The medals for the winners in the contests this year were offered by the Bank of French Broad of Marshall. Much enthusiasm and interest was shown and there was a large number of contestants. The Seniors had charge of the exercises Monday evening for their class day program. Their songs, class history, prophecy, declamation and poem were all interesting and enjoyable.

The climax of the whole affair was reached with the program Tuesday morning, which meant graduation for twelve girls and thirteen boys. The speaker for the occasion, Hon. George A. Younce, of Greensboro, was introduced by McDevitt of Marshall. Mr. Younce made a plea for the cause of education, noting North Carolina's education program which began with Governor Aycock, and in closing he urged these young people to go forward and take advantage of the opportunities offered by our state.

Following the address, the awards were presented. First in order were the awards for perfect attendance for the year. There were 30 of these ranging all the way from Billy Huff in the first grade to June Ramsey, a senior.

Twenty-one seventh grade pupils, having completed the work prescribed for that grade, were given certificates admitting them to the high school.

The Asheville chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy had offered a medal to the student writing the best essay on The Life of General Wade Hampton. Mrs. E. R. Elmore, being a member of this organization had charge of this award and asked Mrs. W. E. Wilkins to present the medal. Mrs. Wilkins, being a native of South Carolina made a beautiful talk on the life and character of General Hampton and presented the medal to the winner, Miss Hazel Sprinkle.

At this time the Rev. Mr. Teague of Marshall was asked to present the medals offered by the Bank of French Broad to the winners in the Declamation and Reading Contests, who were Bruce Sams and Doris Gibbs.

A list of those completing the high school course and receiving diplomas follows: Hazel Sprinkle, Shirley Gibbs, Rosalie Bailey, Juné Ramsey, Dorothy Allen, Kathleen Ammons, Robbie G. Elmore, Violet Navy, Robbie Hamlin, Orla Ramsey, Evelyn Silver, Gwen Chandler, Clive Whitt, Karl Carter, Bruce Sams, Glenn Jarvis, Troy DeBruhl, Zeno McMahan, Reeves Colville, Brown Ammons, O. C. Crowder, Jr., Herrin Edwards, Jennings A. Ball, Flavel Howard Corn, and James Dewey Phillips. This class is distinguished for having more boys than girls.

Mainchow—Well, she can make her gum pop louder. The Pathfinder.

Twenty-seven poultry growers of Person County entered 370 chickens of the Plymouth Rock, Leghorn and Rhode Island Red breeds at the recent poultry show held in Roxboro.

Little Clifton, who had been taken into the country for a day's outing, saw a spider spinning a web between two tall weeds.

"Hey, pop!" he yelled, "come on over here and see this bug putting up a wireless!"

Caswell County farmers, impressed by reports of the value of lepedeza as a soil improving and hay crop, will plant a few acres this season for demonstration purposes.

In spite of the outlook, farmers of Cumberland county plan to increase the acreage to tobacco this year.
