PAINT-UP, CLEAN-UP

Elsewhere in this issue can be found a Proclamation by Mayor Wade Huey proclaiming next week — April 16-21 — as Paint-up, Clean-up Week in Marshall.

Mayor Huey emphasizes the importance of making our town more attractive. We agree.

The Marshall Garden Club has accomplished wonders in the past few years by planting beautiful flowers in the courthouse yard. Many merchants have repainted their stores and others have improved their yards and homes. Maybe still others will join in next week and help in this worthwhile cause.

Greatly adding to the appearance — and safety — of our town is the new solid guard rail from the Free Will Baptist Church to the intersection at Mashburn's. There are other improvements which can be made. Will YOU Cooperate?

THE ASHEVILLE TOURISTS

With the opening of the baseball season at hand, our thoughts go to the diamond, especially McCormick Field, home of the Class "A" Asheville Tourists. It is a grand feeling to know that soon we'll be watching the Sally League Champions again in action. Ray Hathaway, popular and successful Tourist manager, is again at the helm and he never fields a team that is uninteresting and doesn't hustle. We welcome Ray back and from all indications, hundreds of Madison County fans will soon be headed to McCormick Field.

The first home game is slated for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. If it's a pretty day we'd wager that Madison County has more baseball fans there for the opening pitch than any other Western North Carolina county, except, of course, Buncombe.

BOYS' BASEBALL HERE?

If our boys are to enjoy playing baseball in our county this summer isn't it high time that adults start making plans?

Several years ago much interest was shown in the organization of Babe Ruth and Little League ball here. The results were most successful with splendid teams at Marshall, Mars Hill, Hot Springs and Walnut. It is needless to wonder if the BOYS want to play. They are most anxious, we are sure. The great need now is CAPABLE LEADERSHIP by ADULTS.

There are hundreds of youngsters, maybe some of them future major leaguers, rarin' to play but for the lack of volunteer leaders, they are forced to either play "unorganized" or simply not play at all. This is a shame.

Let's find out IMMEDIATELY if there are men available to coach and manage the boys. Call a meeting, make definite plans, adopt a schedule and get started before it is too late.

Are YOU interested? If so, drop a line to this newspaper and we'll see Frank Moore and others who have been so faithful and we feel sure that it won't be long until the boys are playing.

Dear Sir:

I thought you would be interested to know that Phil Willett, playing with the Spring Creek All-Stars against a men's team, the French Broad Lions Club All-Stars, last Saturday night, scored 26 points. This is the boy that was rejected for the Blue-White All-Star Game in Asheville recently. That boy has it and no mistake about it.

LOST EFFORT

New York — Mothers and Grammar teachers have for years tried to teach youngsters that they should not use "ain't."

Webster's second unabridged edition, published in 1959 lists the word "ain't," with this notation: "A contamination of 'are not,' 'is not,' 'am not,' etc."

Soon to be released, the third edition defends "ain't" as used. O-edition defends "ain't" as used. States by "cultivated speakers."

DAN S. JUDD, of West Asheville, has announced as a Republican candidate for Congress in the May 26 Primary.

THE CROSS CALLS US

Memory Selection: "I have been crucified with Christ; it is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me; and the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me."
—(Galatians 2:20)

Lesson Text: Titus

In this lesson we explore the meaning of divine grace, regeneration and renewal, and the call of the cross in terms of life today.

Titus, the shortest of the three pastoral Letters, is much like First Timothy in content. The situation reflected in the Letter, however, indicates a second-century stage in the development of the early Christian church. The purpose of this Letter was to set down the qualifications of bishops and to warn against false teachers. In contrast with the immorality tolerated by the latter, the author described true Christian behavior and spelled out the attitudes a Christian needs to possess.

"Grace," "Salvation" and "Regeneration" are the three words which stand out in our lesson for today. Grace designates the principle underlying men's salvation through Jesus Christ. Salvation is God's gift to all sinners. Although we do not merit it, God is unconstrained as he bestows it. Divine grace is given spontaneously and generously. In granting us his grace God completely sets aside all legal and conventional requirements. Grace is God's way of meeting and conquering man's sin. It excludes all thought that man can earn God's blessing by establishing a righteousness of his own. Grace also supersedes futile "Works" as a way of meriting salvation. This is made clear in Titus 2:11, where it states that "the grace of God has appeared for the salvation of all men . . ."

Yet the bestowal of God's grace does not mean that men are freed from the duty of doing good. It is customary, among some, to poke fun at "do-gooders," but the New Testament, while repudiating the doctrine of good works as the door to salvation, nevertheless encourages the save sinner to do good.

The word "regeneration" denotes the decisive spiritual change effected by God's Holy Spirit in which a soul, naturally estranged from God, is renewed in disposition, substitutes holy affections and desires for selfish gratification, and enters upon a life of increasing holiness, thus growing more like Christ.

This is Palm Sunday. Today we are thinking about Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem as the Messiah. But we must also realize that only a few days after the crowds hailed him as "the Son of David" and as the long-promised Messiah, they turned against him, screaming, "Crucify him." Thus the Messiah went to the cross.

On the afternoon of Good Friday many of us will go to our churches and take part in services commemorating the Crucifixion of God's only Son, who died for us. It should be a time of self-examination. We should each of us ask ourselves Am I helping to crucify Christ afresh by my indifference, my self-centeredness, and my preoccupation with the effort to make a living and establish a reputation?

Our lesson title suggests that "the cross calls us. It does indeed. It calls us to renewed loyalty to Christ, who lives today, not as a wandering Teacher garbed in robe and sandals, but in the spirit, everywhere present.

Look again at Titus 8:2. The ways of dealing with one another described in this verse constitutes one response to the call of the cross.

There's nothing like it — home is where the bills come.

Your Social Security

Monday, April 16, is a special date on the calendar this year, D. H. Butler, field representative of the Social Security Administration, said today. Since the 15th comes on Sunday, self-employed taxpayers have an extra day to file tax returns and report their earnings for social security. This report must be made, Butler said, if the self-employed person had a net profit of $400 or more in his business in 1961. The self-employment tax amounts to 4 1/2% on the net profit. All such reports should be mailed to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Greensboro, N. C.

Butler said that by filing timely and correct reports, a person can build for himself and his family valuable protection under social security. He also stated that each self-employed taxpayer should be sure to put his social security number on his tax return to insure getting proper credit.

Hot Springs Gun Club Makes Good Offers For Shooting

The Hot Springs Gun Club members are offering anyone $5.00 who can "break" 25 consecutive skeets at the Hot Springs Skeet Range. In fact, they are offering $10 for 50 skeets; $15 for 75 skeets and $25 for 100 skeets broken consecutively.

The range is open every Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to dark and J. B. Tweed challenges anyone to try to outshoot him.

Three county men have recently "broken 25 skeets. They are Charles Sumerel, M. V. Chandler and Mr. Tweed.

"If you are a crack sharpshooter, visit the range", Mr. Tweed says.
