HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

You might wonder why I often mention the weather around here— you say, I live here and know what it's like — why write about it? — well, believe it or not, there are many readers far, far away who are curious enough to want to know "How's the weather there?" — I have even received letters asking why I don't mention the weather in my column — so there — now you know — incidentally, the weather here for the past week has been both, dry and wet, warm and cold — most of the days have been perfect Spring weather with plenty of sunshine — right now, however, the river is "full" and muddy, caused by heavy rains up the river as well as here for the past two days — word from Las Vegas, Nevada, is that Dr. Sams and his new bride are having a wonderful time — the honeymoon must be affecting Dr. Sams — in a letter addressed to this writer, he had neatly addressed it to Honorable James Story — gosh, Doc, when did I become Honorable? — anyway, it made me feel important — glad you and Esther are so happy and enjoying your trip — will be looking forward to you'uns returning — congratulations to Jackie and Natalie on the birth of a daughter last Friday — heard that Fain and Mary Ruth "suffered" about as much as mother and daddy did during the "ordeal" — the fishing season is too young to have heard any tall tales — but rest assured — I'll soon be hearing some whoppers — come on, folks, let's hear from you — if you know any bits of "heard and seen" items, drop me a line and I'll pass 'em on.

Just A Woman's Observations DOROTHY B. SHUPE

Did you watch the Academy Awards program the other night? I sure felt left out as far as being up to date on my movie going! I hadn't even seen one of the pictures that was nominated! Don't believe I had ever been so far behind in keeping up with Hollywood "goings-on." I did know Bob Hope. That guy that crashed the gate was a dandy, wasn't he? It just proves that if one has nerve he can do most anything. I read the next day that he plans to get into the winner's circle of the Kentucky Derby! Wonder if he'll get by this time? Sure hope it stops raining by Friday. My history class is to make the annual trip to Kentucky and we do so want to have good weather. The group will see Andrew Johnson's home, workshop, and grave in Greenville, Tennessee; then to Lincoln Memorial University to visit the Lincoln Room there which has the second largest collection of his things in the world; then to the Pinnacle, Cudjo's Cave, and many other interesting places. Our Journalism class has just put out its fifth paper of the year. I'm very proud of them. They did all of the work except for the headlines and I must congratulate them for an excellent job. I don't believe any other school in the county is having a paper this year because we send them all copies of our paper and so far have received no exchanges. If any of you have a paper, we'd be delighted to get one from you. Jani Woodard is our editor, and her assistant is Calvin Brown. Sheila Rice did quite a bit of the typing, I believe. Observed — The seniors are all agog about their trip to Washington and New York — Understand Coach Wallin is to accompany them along with Mrs. Robinson — Heard some woman telling of all she had planted in her garden — must get Shupe interested in starting us one — Hope all the men and boys who fall from the trees — What's this about a Bikini, Eloise??
