Just A Woman's Observations by DOROTHY B. SHUPS

I meant to mention last week about the young people conducting the whole supervision of our Walnut Baptist church the previous Sunday, but as usual, I forgot it in trying to get ready by "Press Time." Anyway, they did an excellent job in filling the superintendent's place, pianists, teachers, and all positions. Sherry Davis our T. E. L. Class and did a very good job. Rozella was super-intendent, and I just can't remember all the others. Some teacher remarked that we should have the young folks do the classes at least once a month!

We had another treat this past Sunday. Charles Buckner and a group of his friends from Carson-Newman College conducted all the classes, etc., and Charles delivered the sermon at 11 o'clock. This was my first time to hear Charles and he was very good. My, I can remember the first year I taught at Walnut and had Charles as a student in the eighth grade. He was an excellent student and nearly wore the set of encyclopedias out by reading them during his spare time. I know hard work in school is going to pay off in future years as he preaches to people in foreign lands as well as here at home. Best of luck, Charles.

We had a dandy time on our trip to Kentucky. It just snowed on us practically the whole day! When we first started it was raining—water gun, that is, but after getting rid of the guns, it really did start snowing on us in Greenville. The farther northwest we went, the more it peppered! When we stopped for a picnic (?) lunch, it was too cold to eat outside, so we ate in the bus.

You should see that Lincoln room at the University. You just can't imagine the many mementoes that are there, gathered from every place, that Lincoln had used, or were a part of his life. We sat in a couple of chairs that he sat in, saw roses that were taken from his coffin, a replica of the gun that killed him, what he carried the night he was killed, and a picture of him for every occasion of his life. They also saw much about Andrew Johnson in Greenville — all in all, it is a very educational trip and I think the juniors enjoyed it very much.

Observed — Good to see Elbridge Leake and Craig Burnette home for the week-end — What's this about Richard enjoying gin-gerbread? — Why does Sandra ponder about going on another trip? — Is Judith getting dewey-

MHS SENIORS LEFT MONDAY FOR WASH., N. Y.

38 Marshall High School Seniors, plus the chaperones — Mrs. Earl Robinson and Mr. J. C. Wallin — boarded a chartered bus early Monday morning here and happily headed for the nation's capital on their annual Senior Trip. The group arrived in Washington Monday morning and spent Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday visiting many interesting places, such as the Capitol, Smithsonian Institute, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, Library, Treasury Building, White House, Cathedrals, zoos, etc. They are also expected to enjoy a cruise down the Potomac River.

Another highlight is viewing the cherry blossoms throughout the city.

Wednesday night they left for Annapolis, Md., and New York City.

They are expected to return to Marshall late Saturday night.

Revival Mission At Walnut Presbyterian Church, April 22-29

Special Good Friday Service At Walnut

Rev. Charles Heier announces a special Good Friday service to be held at the Walnut Presbyterian Church on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. All are welcome to attend this service that will include a special communion service.

eyed these days? — Just picked up those queries from sons of the juniors after the trip — Glad the steel industry changed their mind about an increase — Had a lovely crowd out to PTA Monday afternoon and the devotions by Mrs. Clyde Roberts were very good and appropriate for this pre-Easter time — sorry Mrs. Nix fell down her basement steps, but don't worry, Hattie Ella, the talk on safety was postponed and you can hear it next time, maybe — So long, Eloise.

HOT SPRINGS STUDENTS NOW AT S. C. BEACH

Twenty students — Juniors and Seniors — from Hot Springs High School boarded the activity bus early Monday morning and headed for the Isle of Palms, Charleston, S. C., on their annual trip.

The students were accompanied by Mr. Roy Reeves, principal, who also drove the bus.

Despite chilly weather, the group is expected to enjoy being at the beach and also visiting the many historical places in and around Charleston.

They are expected to return to Charleston Friday night.

OES Chapter To Meet Monday
