THIS IS GOD'S UNIVERSE

Memory Selection: "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world and those who dwell therein."
 —(Psalms 24:1)

Lesson Text: Job 38:1-11; Isaiah 40:12-26; 42:1-12.

How can we demonstrate our belief that this is God's universe? A study of the Scriptures for today may, perhaps, serve to enlighten us in some measure. Certainly it should help each and every one of us to gain a new awareness and insight of God's sovereignty; of his faithfulness, and give us renewed confidence in him as a faithful and steadfast Creator.

Of supreme importance, down through the ages, is the fact that God created our world and is still the guiding power behind it. So it was in the past; is now in the present; and will be in the unlimited future.

From the moving and majestic sentence "In the beginning God created..." to the promise of Revelation that God will create a new heaven and a new earth, the sovereign power of God is indisputable. From the lowest form of life to the final God-like creation of man "in his own image" the hand of God lies upon the universe and all his creatures who inhabit it.

It is only in recent years that we have begun to conquer the horizons that have hitherto bound man and his knowledge. It is only in recent years we have learned to split the atom; have mastered the art of being airborne; have soared into outer space and have turned our eyes, our minds and our questioning towards the hitherto unexplored boundaries of God's universe. We are seeing, in our lifetime, a brand new world... yet we must remember that it is a world which has been in existence thousands of years before we dreamed of it... a world of God's creative powers.

And in "conquering it," or "discovering" it, or whatever we please to call it — we must ever guard against making the mistake that must inevitably follow... that of thinking that because we have DISCOVERED the dimensions of the universe, we have CREATED THEM.

If we are completely honest with ourselves, and with our Creator, we must freely admit that in some situations we find it extremely hard to hold to the basic view that the universe belongs to God, and to God alone, and is ever under his omnipotent control. But, we must always remember that we are not the first to have to struggle to hold on to this fundamental belief.

These were the doubts that plagued Job. Job, along with his own contemporaries, held on to the belief that God rewards a man fairly for all his deeds. Thus it was with dismay and a sense of (AHTNC) — Pvt. Randolph C. Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey R. Griffin, Rt. 1, Alexander, N. C., completed an eight-week infantry course at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga., March 23. Griffin received instruction in the various phases of highly technical skills his future work in the Army will require of him as an infantryman. The 23-year-old soldier entered the Army in November 1963 and completed basic combat training at Fort Gordon.

Marine PFC Lawrence W. Brady has just completed 18 weeks of basic training at Parris Island and Camp Lejeune. The training consists of 11 weeks of close order drill, classes on Marine Corps history and other military subjects, and 4 weeks of infantry training, where there were classes and demonstrations of many infantry weapons and technique, and he has been assigned to Marine Corps Engineer School, Camp Lejeune, N. C., for 20 weeks.

Army Pvt. Leonard R. Brady has completed basic training at U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga., and has been assigned to Fort Benning, Ga., to the 95th Evacuation Hospital as an ambulance driver.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Marshall, Rt. 2.

Camp Lejeune, N. C. (FHT) — Marine Sergeant Carl L. Buckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Buckner of Rt. 2, Marshall, participated March 1-13 in mountain training in Western North Carolina while serving with the Second Reconnaissance Battalion of the Second Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force based at Camp Lejeune. The battalion, the "eyes and ears" of the division gathers reconnaissance information and serves in advance units. Camp Lejeune, home of the Second Marine Division since the end of World War II, is the largest Marine Corps installation on the East Coast.

betrayal, that Job found himself the central figure in a series of great personal calamities. When, finally, his patience was at an end, Job cried out in anguish to his God — challenging Him for an answer. The answer he got was so challenging and so limitless in its logic, it brought Job up short, and brought him to an understanding of the greatness of God and his universe that he had hitherto missed completely. Job's God was not a "small" God... and in this age of ever-present threat of an atomic war, too awful and fearful for the mind of men to encompass we, too, have no need of a "small" God. True, like Job, in times of great physical anguish, or a mental distress that we feel is too great for one lonely human to bear, we may question God's purpose; but we have only to remember that as man continues to push his knowledge of the universe farther and farther, so he also continues to find order, laws and purpose.

Surely it is not too much to ask of us as Christians that we bear these great truths in mind? And in so doing, we must eventually become convinced that just as God had a purpose in creating the universe, so he had a purpose in creating man; that just as he has laid out laws and order for his tangible creation, so he has laid down the laws and order for the finest of all His creations — Man... and his immortal Soul.

Grapevine HD Club Met Friday With Mrs. Hensley

The Grapevine HD Club met with Mrs. Kenneth Hensley March 27 at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. James H. Arrington, president, presided. Following call to order, Miss Judy Gosnell had the devotions; following reading of Scripture, Mrs. Hensley Profit led in prayer. For our poetry reading, Mrs. Profit read, in keeping of the Easter season, "The Legend of the Dogwood."

A business session followed. Mrs. Ethel Wallin, our home agent, made two announcements. 1st, Our District HD Meeting to be held April 16 at Asheville-Biltmore College in the new Student Union Building (to reach the college, on Merriman Ave., going east, turn right on King Street). The meeting will begin at 9:30 a. m., with a coffee hour. We hope Madison is well represented, so please let us all attend who possibly can. This is the main event of our club year, when all clubs of each county in our district will meet together.

The second announcement being The Spring Council Meeting for 1964. This will be held Thursday, April 2, at 2 p. m., in the French Broad Electric Building. A program has been planned for us by our county council president, Mrs. Harold Worley. All who are able are urged to attend.

Mrs. Wallin gave a demonstration on meats, how to freeze, what to look for when buying, and the different cuts of beef—a guide to beef selection, care and cooking.

A social hour followed the meeting. Dismissed by all repeating together "A Collect for Club Women." Due to so much sickness we had only six members and three visitors present.

Our hostess, assisted by her daughter, served delicious refreshments, carrying out the Easter motif. Our next meeting will be with George Shook Friday, April 10, at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are always welcome.

DUCK HUNTER GETS FISH
 San Rafael, Cal. — Although Paul Jones, president of the Marvin County Rod and Gun Club, placed 51 decoys in Petaluma Creek, no ducks showed up. However, a decoy started thrashing around and Jones found a 20-lb. bass, hooked onto a broken fishing line tangled in the decoy's string.

Wiley Chandler Rites Held Sunday

Services for Wiley Chandler, 89, who died Wednesday, March 25, 1964 at his home, 244 Broadway, Asheville, were held at 2:30 p. m., Sunday at California Creek Baptist Church in Madison County.

The Rev. Robert Holt and the Rev. Wes Cannon officiated and burial was in Haney Cemetery. Pallbearers were Eugene, Voyd, and Paul Burleson, Orville Williams, James Radcliff, and Deebarris Chandler. Holcombe Funeral Home was in charge.

D. H. Culbertson Dies Thursday; Funeral Sunday

D. H. Culbertson, 86, of Hot Springs, died Thursday, March 26, 1964 in an Asheville nursing home after a long illness.

A native of the Candler section of Buncombe County, Mr. Culbertson moved to Hot Springs as a youth. He was in the lumber business for many years and then operated a general store. He was married to the former Miss Bessie Lusk, who died in 1960.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Georgia Ramsey and Mrs. Guy Sales, both of Asheville; Mrs. Joe Price of Waynesville and Mrs. John Higdon of Huntsville, Ala.; four sons, Harry, Paul, Neil and Billy, all of Asheville; 18 grandchildren, and 18 great-grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p. m., Sunday at Snow Hill Methodist Church in Candler.

The Rev. R. T. Houts officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were Roy Lytle, David and Johnny Price, Hammond Skrom Jr., Gerald Echols, and Harry Culbertson Jr. Bowman Funeral Home was in charge.

SMALL DOSES

People who marry for money frequently find that it is handed out in mighty small doses.

Livestock Sale For Dan K. Moore To Be Held April 11

E. J. Whitmire, of Franklin announces in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue that "Operation Grassroots," a unique livestock sale for the benefit of the Dan K. Moore for Governor Drive, will be held at the Western Carolina Livestock Yards at 12:00 o'clock, Saturday, April 11.

"All counties West and including Madison, Buncombe, Henderson, Rutherford and Polk have active workers who are nailing down cattle, sheep and horses for the sale. About all the effort that it takes to get an animal is to explain the purpose and to tell the farmer that DAN needs his help, but someone must make the effort, someone must care. An election can be won by one vote," Whitmire said. Each county is trying to outdo the other counties in delivering more animals to the sale. Moore workers in each of the above counties are also vying to see which county delivers the most votes for Dan K. Moore.

"OPERATION GRASSROOTS" will be a tremendous success because "Mountain Men" are driving hard and stating that they need DAN even more than they need their milk cows," stated Whitmire.
