the hospital from June 19 to October 13, 1962. He had been saved from suffocation by a tracheotomy performed at the hospital in his home county where doctors discovered that his windpipe had been impaired, possibly since birth. It collapsed soon after his arrival, and the long road back to health began. Round-the-clock nursing was necessary to keep the tube in place, and Jeffery has never been alone an instant since. He is returned to the hospital frequently for progress checks and treatment.

Today, except for the tube in his throat, he is a normal, mischievous youngster, full of life and energy. And by Mother's Day, even the tube may not be necessary any longer.

Posters and Mother's Day materials were sent to the 3,467 Baptist churches and missions in the state. Mrs. Crowe and Mr. Fish said. Funds from the state-wide offering, they added, are used for only one purpose, care of those who are sick and without funds. They are never used for general hospital expenses.

help campaign for it. However, I would expect it to be promoted by General Assembly members, and especially by county commissioners and local school board members on a bi-partisan basis for school construction is the primary responsibility of these local officials.

The governor said the Nov. 3 election date decision "is based on conversations with many school and legislative leaders and county commissioners. It is announced as a definite date so local officials might make necessary construction estimates and programs now." Sanford said construction needs will have dinners available for those taking the second sugar cube. In Marshall, the 4-H Club and the Marshall Lions Club are co-operating in serving a delicious barbecued chicken dinner from 11 o'clock until 2:00 o'clock. Tickets can be secured for only $1 from any member of the 4-H or Lions Club. In case of rain, the dinner will be served inside, it was explained. It was also announced that hamburgers will be available for those who do not care for chicken.

At Walnut, the Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a chicken dinner at the school from 11:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m., Sunday. Plates are $1 for adults and 50c for children.

At Spring Creek, a chicken dinner or supper can be secured at the school. The 9th grade is sponsoring the meal with advance tickets for 75c and $1 on Sunday. An electric percolator will also be given away on that date.

SAME FEEDING STATIONS

The same eight schools will serve as feeding stations: Marshall, Mars Hill, Walnut, Spring Creek, Laurel, Hot Springs, Ebbs Chapel and Beech Glen.

stated Fred Boss, assistant county agent, this week. This is a very helpless and expensive thing to have happen to you and the only way to insure that it doesn't happen again is to plan now to increase the amount of winter feed that you will be producing this year. In order to insure grass at the earliest date next year, plan to topdress early next spring. Most of our dairymen are growing corn silage for winter feed. To insure good yields from silage corn, we are recommending at least 500 pounds and preferably 700 pounds of 30-10-0 and 200 lbs. of potash per acre. If you do not use these materials, you should fertilize at the rate to obtain 180 pounds of N, 60 pounds of P, and 120 pounds of K per acre. To give grass a good start in the spring, 100 pounds of ammonia nitrate and 200 pounds of super phosphate per acre or some other high nitrogen source and phosphate will bring your grass on 10 days to two weeks earlier than in unfertilized pastures. A second application at the end of the spring growing season will extend this grass into the summer when it usually dries up and stops growing.

showed a classroom shortage of at least $350 million. It was on this basis, he added, that the General Assembly felt the state should aid in school construction to the extent of $100 million. "This appears to me to be a reasonable construction by the state," the governor stated. "I hope this effort by the state to help in local school construction will be of considerable benefit, but I hope it will not cause the counties to lessen their efforts."

cial support of the community. Goodall-Sanford opened the plant as a yarn-spinning operation in early 1954. Later that year, the Hot Springs unit became a part of Burlington Industries when it acquired the Goodall-Sanford Company.

The type of yarn production was changed in 1957 to worsted and Dacron/worsted blends following installation of new equipment throughout the plant. The plant supplies yarns for Pacific Mills weaving operations, in Raeford, N. C., and Drakes Branch, Va. Yarns made in Hot Springs go into light-weight worsted suiting fabrics for men's wear, such as the nationally known Raeford 2/80' fabric.

One of Madison County's largest industrial employers, the Hot Springs plant has an annual payroll ranging between $350,000 and $400,000.

Mr. Ross said the picnic, which will be held on the plant grounds, would be held during the afternoon of May 30. Special recognition, he said, will be made of the 10-year employees.

I believe the most important thing to remember in buying linens, is to be sure and examine each article for texture instead of looks. Also in buying linens, it isn't in every purchase lected District Chairman. Clyde Roberts spoke to the group on the virtues that have made America great. Honesty in elections and government is conducive to faith in free institutions, he stated. Competition is a healthy thing and leads itself to a vigorous two party system. Stagnation results from one party being in power too long, and history fails to record a single precedent in which nations subjected to moral decay have not passed into political and economic decline. Thus, no dishonesty or moral indifference should be permitted to creep into our elective process or our government operations. An informed electorate will vote in-times between the Brooks farm and Hot Springs. Some of the road bed still carries the marks from the iron shod wagon wheels. A small school house was located about 200 yards north of the recreation area on the old wagon road. It served the folks of the upper Hot Springs and Bluff areas. The schoolhouse was abandoned in the early 1900s, and the area where it stood is now growing up in walnut trees. Except for the old wagon road, there's nothing here now to remind folks that this was a pioneer homestead. The Forest Service has turned it into a popular recreation area as modern as day after tomorrow. It's a far cry from the days when Jim Brooks lived and worked here.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Some men never outgrow the need for a wagon

A wagon has a way with men. Always has. Always will. Especially when it's a Dodge Wagon. Case in point: that Polara shown above. As rugged and handsome a carryall as you've ever laid hands on. Inside—saddle-grained vinyl that resists cracking, scuffing, shrinking, stretching. Hand-fitted carpeting on the floor. A center streamer in front that snaps down solidly under your arm. And there's room. Big, open room you can cram to the roof. Seating for six or nine passengers. And underhood—a choice of engines ranging from a frisky Six to an optional, rip-roarin' 425 cubic inch V8. It's a tough combination to beat. Look 'em over at your Dodge Dealer's. The wagons that have a way with men—Dodge Wagons. Man-sized. Man-powered. Eight versions to pick from. (And you might as well bring along your better half. Seems the gals prefer the big, strong, silent type, too.)
