Marshall Book Club Met Monday With Mrs. McKinney

The Marshall Book Club met Monday evening, April 27 at the home of Mrs. W. T. McKinney. The program, a lesson from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was given by Mrs. Clyde M. Roberts.

The topic covered famous paintings which have been rendered on walls and ceilings, both in Europe and in America. Delicious refreshments were served to members present.

HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

I'll bet more orange juice was drunk around here since Monday than ever before — a truck load wrecked near Laurel River Monday and they gave about 7,000 gallons away — as soon as the news leaked out (no pun) — many grabbed containers of all sizes and took off to get their share — I heard one local fellow stopped by a certain home to borrow a few gallon jars and when he found no one at the house, he picked up four jars — sorta lend-lease proposition — glad to see Bewley Tweed out again after breaking a leg a few weeks ago — heard that the Seniors of MHS had a wonderful time in Washington and New York — ditto the Seniors and Juniors of Hot Springs — I'll bet Roy Reeves and J. C. Wallin enjoyed watching Whitey Ford pitch a shutout — heard that Roy also saw Liz Taylor (Mrs. Richard Burton) while in N. Y. — heard he even got close enough to shake hands but didn't have the nerve — Roy says she's really a beautiful gal — noticed the American flag in courthouse lawn has not been flying in the breeze for a few days — could it be they are cleaning it — or, better still, getting a new one? — it's been sorta lonesome for the past few nights up at my house — "Bill" has been in the hospital. Mrs. White has been at her brother's at Woodfin, and "Scoop" isn't around anymore — I'm expecting Bill home today (Thursday) and I'll be glad — Joe Marler and I are still faithful Tourist fans but I do wish they'd start winning a few games — be sure to read the Madison Drive-In Theatre ad. this week — Your name may be one of those all mixed up — if it is, clip out advt. and present at boxoffice and you and your party will be admitted FREE — Don't forget that this Sunday is SUGAR CUBE Sunday — be sure to take the second cube and let's get rid of polio.

Needs For Baptist Colleges To Be Aired At MHC

A Christian Education Advance dinner to inform pastors and laymen of the World Mission Program with special emphasis on the needs of the seven North Carolina Baptist colleges has been scheduled for the cafeteria in Mars Hill College, on May 14, at 6:30 p. m.

The pastor and several laymen from each Baptist church in this area have been invited to attend. Dr. Hoyt Blackwell, President of Mars Hill College, faculty members, and administrative personnel will be present for the meeting.

Dr. Hoyt Blackwell will be the featured speaker. Dr. Blackwell is an ordained Baptist minister. The program will be led by Tom Greene, Secretary of Cooperative Program Advance of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

Community 4-H Program Allows Time With Members

The Community 4-H Club program is giving the adults an opportunity to take part in all the 4-H activities with the boys and girls. Adult members of the seven organized community clubs help the members plan their monthly programs and assist in seeing that the plans are carried out. Monthly programs are set up to meet the needs of the club members within the community. Most of the monthly meetings are conducted by the leaders or some other local person.

Local Boy Scouts To Spend Saturday Night Outdoors

About 34 members of the Marshall Boy Scout Troop will leave Marshall Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock and head for Piker's Hollow near Marshall where they will spend the night. Scoutmaster Vander Shelton stated that regular Sunday School and worship services will be held Sunday morning with Johnny Reed, Chaplain, in charge. Shelton also said that the Scouts will return to town Sunday afternoon to receive their anti-polio sugar cubes before returning to the campsite.

Also accompanying the group will be Assistant Scoutmasters, Charles Bishop and Jim McIntyre.
