HEARD AND SEEN BY 'POP'

Since being notified that I had been selected as a panelist next Monday during the public relations-public information session at the New York Hilton Hotel at the American Red Cross National Convention I've felt like a cat on a hot tin roof — I'm looking forward to the trip but I'm a bit dubious about being in such company — I'm supposed to leave the Asheville Airport at 1:05 Sunday, arriving in NY in time for supper — I hope — on the return trip, I leave the Newark Airport Wednesday at 5 p. m., and I'm back in Asheville by 7:30 p. m. — fast going for a fellow my age — anyway, I hope to visit the World's Fair while there if I survive the panel experience — being in three meetings, playing the organ at a funeral and visiting the Marshall school Tuesday, plus trying to prepare "copy" for the paper has me bushed — I got through work at the office at 7 p. m., without supper, and was supposed to "cover" the Girl Scout meeting at the Presbyterian Church — I was so tired, nervous and hungry, I called on Vader Shelton to be my photographer and "Pug" Sprinkle to be my reporter — they both agreed and I'll forever be thankful — it was a hectic day Tuesday and I haven't gotten over it yet — I was sorry to miss the Girl Scout Court of Honor but a fellow can't be in two or three places at the same time when he's peoped — I received an ENGRAVED card Wed. a. m., which read, "The Bureau of Catastrophes wishes to inform you that all the elastic in your underwear is scheduled to break at the same time on Thursday at 10 a. m." — no name was signed to said engraved card but after a little investigation I discovered my old buddy David McElroy was the sender — David, who helps us around the shop every day, is a good-natured fellow and we all like him very much — he's always up to some sorta prank — and he loves poetry — right, David? — Earl Davis, who is one of our "right-hand" workers around the office announced Wednesday a. m. he was leaving for Charlotte to take a job which had been offered him — something to do with building fences — I told him something was "fishy" about such an offer but he said he'd made up his mind — I paid him for working this week and bade him farewell — sorry to see him leave but nothing I could say would change his mind — in about ten minutes he came bursting back into the shop and said he'd changed his mind — said he didn't want any part of the job nor the Queen City — glad he's back 'cause he's a fine fellow and worker — was awakened early Thurs. a. m. when "Ham" Crowe phoned about the arrival of a son — could it be a new fire chief has arrived? — I'm glad it's a boy and I feel almost as excited as "Ham" and Belva — was glad to see old buddy Howard "Big Chief" Jervis walk in the office this a. m. — he and Helen certainly do have two fine daughters — Howard will probably get in some ping-pong while on a two-weeks' visit at least I hope he will — don't guess there'll be a H&S column next week — anyway, you readers will be glad — I'll be seeing you soon — if I get back in one piece.

Virgil Smith President Of EMAC In Korea

In a release from Pusan, Korea, it is reported that Korean youngsters in the Pusan area discovered recently that they have "relatives" they hadn't known about.

Their unknown "relatives" appeared last month in the role of "Big Brothers" — U. S. soldiers who visit orphans and schools and in turn invite the children to their compounds for American games and fun.

"What we really have in mind is a cultural and social exchange on a people-to-people basis," explained Pfc. Virgil Smith, of Marshall, who is stationed in Korea. Pfc. Smith is president of the Enlisted Men's Activities Council (EMAC) of the Idle Hour Service Club, sponsors of the project.

Smith said, "... we are trying to encourage the soldiers to spend more time with the children in orphanages." He points out that a friendly game of handball or soccer is most important in establishing better understanding of the children and the U. S. soldier.
