THANKSGIVING SEASON

Since The News-Record will not get into the homes next week in time for Thanksgiving, we thought perhaps the following editorial would be timely:

As Americans — one should be specific and say as North Americans — we have much to be grateful for this Thanksgiving Season. Perhaps we are a little bit blasé about the matter. And perhaps some of us consider Thanksgiving just another one of the many holidays we celebrate in an offhand, casual fashion. To some of us it is the football day of the year. To others, it is "a day off," a welcome interlude to enjoy a lavish turkey dinner and then laze around the house in slippers and robe.

It might be wise to think for a moment and realize that this Thanksgiving Day will simply be another twenty-four hours of gnawing hunger for peoples of many climes. Experts say that by 1970 hundreds of millions of children and adults in Asia, Africa and Latin America will face slow death by starvation.

Our three great faiths, the Catholics, Protestants and the Jews jointly help feed many millions of undernourished men, women and children in scores of countries overseas. Every Thanksgiving Season, the three faiths unite in a public appeal and urge Catholics, Protestants and Jews to contribute to this vital humanitarian endeavor through their place of worship.

Once again this newspaper adds its voice to the Religious Overseas Aid appeal and asks everyone to mark their Thanksgiving for the abundance of America by helping those across the seas who are not as fortunate. These worthwhile appeals are: Catholic—the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection; Protestant—the Share Our Substance Program; and the United Jewish Appeal. Funds raised through these religious endeavors help feed and clothe the naked and hungry, regardless of race, creed or color.

RED CROSS DRIVE LAGGING

It not only concerns us but it disturbs us to think of the complacency of our people in connection with the American Red Cross. We cannot understand why this is so.

The Red Cross Blood Program, alone, is vital to our citizens and can only be continued under an active Chapter. We are a branch of the Asheville Area Chapter and it is necessary that we fulfill our obligations if we expect to reap the benefits of Red Cross Services.

Home Service, Water Safety, Home Nursing and the other services must be continued for our own good and safety. Once a year our county is asked to raise about $3,000 for all these services. A very small amount when considering the wide scope of Red Cross benefits.

Yet, it is terrifically hard to find a person who will serve as Red Cross Fund Chairman in our county. It is not that many people aren't interested. They are. Ample proof of this was shown last year when the county exceeded its goal.

The Red Cross Fund Drive is supposed to be in progress NOW.

A few people, such as Dr. William Lynch, John Hensley, James Gentry, Wade Huey, cannot do this job alone. Its going to take full cooperation from hundreds of people.

Let's get started before it's too late.

Let's again surpass our goal and show our appreciation of the American Red Cross. They are always ready to help — so must we stand by to assist them.

Revival To Start At Oak Hill Church On Next Monday

A series of revival services will begin at the Oak Hill Baptist Church next Monday and will be held nightly at 7:15 o'clock.

JOHNNY FORE, an Asheville policeman, was one of the fortunate deer hunters on season's opening day Monday. Fore shot this eight-point, 185-pound buck at 10 a. m., after four hours in the woods on private property in McDowell County. He made the kill with a .30-06 and worked for three hours dragging the animal out of the woods. The rack was one of the finest taken in Western North Carolina during the day. Fore is a native of Madison County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Fore; and his wife is the former Miss Nina Lee Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roby Edwards of Marshall.
