which the pure food and drug had established a law of no tolerance level in the milk. One of the major chemicals that had caused dairy farmers to have to dump milk was heptachlor.

Precautions on container of most chemicals give the correct amount to be used for safety and have beneficial results. Agricultural Extension Service workers in every county in the United States repeatedly give the limits of safety for all chemicals which they recommend to farmers.

Farmers should also read instructions on all chemical packages in order to use the chemicals on the crops for which they have been cleared. An example of this is a new chemical, "Nemagon," which has been cleared for use to control nematodes on tomatoes, but is not safe to use on tobacco land.

first scheduled for trial during the October 1962, criminal term of Madison County Superior Court. Their cases had been continued since that time.

Others charged in the two counts are still continued for trial in Superior Court here are Paul Ballard, Geter Roberts, Herbert Baker, and Joe Fowler.

The jury convicted the three men on testimony that they took active parts in a physical effort to block the Marshall-Walnut consolidation in 1962, which had been ordered by the Madison County Board of Education and approved by the State Board of Education.

Guthrie, 56, is a resident of Walnut and operates a service station and grocery store there. He was the first president of the alumni association of the school, which was established in 1925.

Guthrie was the Republican member of the Madison County Board of Elections, which was ousted by the State Board of Elections following a lengthy probe in the wake of the 1963 primary election.

Eugene Thomas, 32, works as a distributor for an oil distributor. He lives four miles north of Marshall in the Walnut district.

Thomas was first to organize Little League baseball in Madison County, according to the testimony at the trial.

Huff said the appeal of the trio will be heard by the Supreme Court in October.

used against Pantego, Davis and his catcher, Rocky Grooms, agreed that his curve was working good and was used to a large extent at varying degrees of speed.

The victorious Wildcats got to Eric Harris, winner of 15 straight games for a run in the first and another in the third.

Wallin opened the bottom of the first with a fly to left and Davis drew a walk. Charles Tolley grounded to third sacker Clark Allen, who bobbed the ball but retrieved it in time to force Davis at second but too late for a try for a twin killing.

Wallin proceeded on around the bases for the final run and Davis reached third on the two-base error. The injury was such that Allen was replaced in the field by Larry Kelly.

Tolley grounded out second to first with Davis having to hold third. G. Hunter fanned for the second out and Larry Hunter popped to right to end the frame.

Mars Hill managed five hits off Harris, who failed to show as much speed as he reportedly possessed. He walked three and fanned six. No batter managed over one hit.

Tolley, who walked nine and fanned five en route to his sixth overall win of the season, put Pantego's lone run of the series on base in the first inning when he hit catcher H. Stoop with a pitch. Stoop moved to second and third, respectively, on a brace of passed balls, and then scored on Larry Black's sacrifice fly to left field.

Mars Hill stormed back in its half of the inning with what proved the winning runs. Ron Wallin who had a perfect day at bat with two for two walked, and scored on Steve Davis' double to right center. Tolley walked, and after Garland Hunter popped out to center, Larry Hunter was hit by a pitched ball to load the bases. Rocky Grooms and Don Clark walked forcing in the second and third runs of the inning.

Mars Hill accounted for two more runs in the third inning, when Garland Hunter was safe on an infield error, stole second and balled on Larry Hunter's first of three hits for the day including a triple. Larry Hunter, who had moved to third in two ensuing infield outs, scored when Grooms singled to left center.

A brace of Pantego errors, and singles by Larry Hunter, Ron Wallin and Steve Davis put three more runs on the scoreboard in the fifth inning, and a two-run outburst in the sixth completed the rout. After Garland Hunter singled in the sixth inning, Larry Hunter came through with a booming triple to left center, scoring Garland. Larry balled on a fielder's choice.

A crowd estimated at 400 sat under chilly overcast skies and watched the Wildcats turn three Pantego errors and nine Mars Hill hits into a state title.

the community in which they have spent their working years," Hill said. "This program also stimulates the local economy by providing jobs for workers engaged in the construction industry and customers for local trades and services."

In 1962 Congress authorized Farmers Home Administration to make direct loans and insure loans to individuals and corporations to finance rental housing for the elderly.

FHA direct loans for senior citizen rental housing in rural communities bear 2.75 percent interest, with up to 50 years for repayment.

But loans insured by the agency for rental housing currently bear 5.75 percent interest. Borrowers have up to 40 years to repay.

Additional information about the senior citizen rural housing loan program is available at the Farmers Home Administration office.

months in prison. The terms were appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Floyd Wallin, a bus driver who testified during the trials of this week, said Friday that he was misquoted by The Citizen Wednesday.

There were only three men, instead of eight, Wallin said, who boarded his bus during the 1962 consolidation dissonant. And he was not assaulted, as the report indicated, Wallin said.

The news report said he testified that eight men boarded a bus in which he was transporting students from Walnut to Marshall, assaulted him and forced him to park his vehicle.

olina for highway safety," Belk declared in an interview. "The only way to stop accidents is to educate the people to highway safety. This bill will bring results."

At present, driver education is available to only about 40 percent of the high school students who turn 16.

"The Motor Vehicle Inspection Bill was the most controversial legislation we enacted," Eagles said. Strongly backed by Gov. Dan Moore, the program calls for annual inspection of six safety features - Horns, brakes, lights, steering mechanism, directional signals and windshield wiper.

In all, about 25 bills relating to highway safety have been enacted. Others are to be acted on in the week before adjournment.

Still pending is a bill to provide 100 additional highway patrolmen during the next biennium. This has been approved by the Joint Appropriations Committee.
