

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

At the opening of the polls at 6:30 a. m., the public counter on the face of the machine near the top in the left hand corner should show three (3) zeros. The counters by the candidate's name or by the questions should also show three (3) zeros. Every elector is entitled to view the machine and to see that these counters are set on zero. We urge you to do so. When the voting commences, the counters by the questions or the names of the candidates will be covered and will not be visible again until the polls close at the end of the day. Immediately when the polls are closed, these counters will be uncovered in the presence of everyone at the polls. The public counter will indicate accurately the total number of persons who have voted on the machines. The protective counter, which is on the side of the machine to the right, will also check with the public counter. The protective counter will not be set on zero, but will at all times show accurately the total number of votes cast on the machines. Both of these figures should check accurately with the number of names on the poll book. We would invite all voters to check these simple safeguards in order that every voter know that the election has been honestly held. The counters by each issue or candidate will be left open and locked in that position for at least thirty (30) days following the election, so that any questions arising can be readily determined. Demonstration models will be installed at each polling place in the county, and will be available for use on Saturday, October 23rd, and Saturday, October 30th. We hope that you will use these models, and learn how to vote on the machines. We will, if possible, put some of these models in other public places within the county before November 2nd.

Necessary assistance will be rendered both at the demonstration machines and at the polling places on November 2.

MADISON COUNTY BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Elymus Payne Is Awarded Degree For Farming

Elymus Payne, 20, of Marshall, was awarded the American Farmer Degree in a ceremony at the National Future Farmers meeting held in Kansas City, Missouri, October 12-15.

The award is for efficiency in farming in a program directed through high school years in the Future Farmers of America Club and continued for two years following graduation. Jack C. Cole is adviser for the Marshall High School chapter of which young Payne is a member and accompanied him to the convention.

Payne graduated in 1963 after making an outstanding record in the FFA. He was district Star Farmer in Western North Carolina in 1963. He was also on the dairy, tool, beef, and land judging teams, and the parliamentary procedure team.

Other activities included serving as president of the 4-H Club, and membership in the science, business and French clubs.

Talking informally before the dinner meeting at the Waynesville Country Club Monday afternoon are, left to right, Mrs. Faye Brumbly, representative from Cherokee County; State Highway Commission Chairman Joseph B. Hunt, Jr.; Jim Story, editor of The News-Record and chairman of the Governor's Better Roads Committee for Madison County; and Clyde Jackson, chairman of the Henderson County board of commissioners.

the great equalizer

RURAL ELECTRICITY

More than any other single factor, electricity has helped to "equalize" living conditions in rural America with those in urban America. The many benefits and comforts made possible by electricity are available to all. As pioneers in the electrification of our area, we are proud of having contributed our share to the progress and prosperity of our people and this community.
