FASTEN YOUR BELT

It seems this fellow was really brainwashed about using his seat belt - used it constantly. But one day he put his auto in the shop for minor repairs, and was given a beltless loaner by the garage.

Everything was fine until he reached his destination, unbuckled, and got out. His pants fell down.

total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each county or municipality includes ad valorem levies collected by either for special taxing districts. In turn, each county and municipality is required to share the proceeds with such special tax districts in the proportion that the district levy bears to the total levy of the county or municipality.

(b) 1/2 of the net proceeds will be distributed among all the taxing counties and the municipalities therein on a per capita basis. The per capita allocation figure is determined by dividing the remainder of the tax proceeds collected for the preceding quarter by the total population of the taxing counties plus the total population of all municipalities therein. The per capita figure is then multiplied by the population of each taxing county and each municipality therein according to the most recent annual estimates of population prepared by the North Carolina Department of Administration.

Following the November 4, 1969 election, the first quarterly distribution of the net proceeds from this tax would be made in August of 1970.

Girl Scout

Seattle, Washington. A summary of the action was given by those adults and by the two senior Girl Scouts from Pisgah Council who attended.

Miss Wilma Dykeman, author-ess of Newport, Tennessee, addressed the Council following luncheon. Miss Dykeman's inspirational message to adult leaders was based on a phrase from the President's Report on the Status of Women, "Work With An Expectancy of Excellence." Miss Dykeman emphasized awareness and imagination in working with the girls of the sixteen-county Pisgah Council, pointing out the uniqueness as well as the similarities we share with the world. Pisgah Council covers the sixteen western counties.

Representing Madison County were Mrs. Fred Boss, delegate and board member of Mars Hill; Mrs. Rev. Arthur Hensley, the Rev. J. J. Slagle and the Rev. Dearl Ammons officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were Sammy Peck, Larry Wyatt, Gary Ledford, Roger and Freddie Haney and Gary Sams.

Bowman-Duckett Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

truck driven by Mrs. Randall at a high rate of speed swerving into the left lane. Ramsey managed to straighten up and was quite a distance northward on the bypass when Sawyer's car collided with Bryan's car.

Ramsey has been charged with reckless driving and willful racing. According to reports, Sawyer, who had purchased his car, a '68 Ford Torino, about 6 p. m. Friday night, was racing with the car Ramsey was driving, both heading north on the bypass, when the accident occurred.

It was also reported that Larry Hughey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hughey, of Walnut Creek, was in the car with Bryan but escaped with only a nose injury. Hughey told Patrolman Feldman that when the car burst into flames, he (Hughey) pulled Bryan from the burning vehicle, thus keeping Bryan from burning to death.

Mrs. Randall was uninjured but the rear of her truck was damaged, it was stated.

Sawyer is out under $2,000 bond. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for next week's District Court here.

1-A Playoffs

14-6 victory.

"The boys haven't forgotten that," said coach Colvin, "it is just one more incentive for them to win."

"I've seen films of Mars Hill and they've got a pretty good team. They're big and quick. 'We'll have our hands full.' Offensively the Black Knights' attack has been led by senior Dale Walsh, who has blasted opposing defenses for six touchdowns in the past two games.

Quarterback Mark Manual, a junior, has come through in fine style for coach Colvin while fullback Larry Sawyer and running back Lonnie Waldroup have combined to give the Smoky Mountain representative a potent running game.

"It's hard to single out any one player," Colvin said. "They've all done a fine job this year. 'We're in good shape and we're looking forward to Friday's contest.'"

Mars Hill High, coached by Roy Ammons and J. C. Moss have shown good offensive output and defensive work this season enroute to a 7-2-0 record. The two losses were to 2-A Spruce Pine (28-6) and 3-A Ivy champs North Buncombe (56-12).

"With the exception of our center we're in tip top shape," said Moss about the Wildcats. Defensive center 220-pound Charlie Ammons might miss the game because of a knee injury. "He is mighty valuable to us," said Moss.

"I saw the game Robbinsville played against Andrews and think Robbinsville has a good club. I was impressed with their fullback, he can run that football," said Moss, no doubt referring to the three-touchdown performance of Walsh this past week.

"We've got a balanced attack and aggressive line," Moss said about his club. "I think the game will be won in the line."

Fullback Jack Brown, and backs Dave Thomas and Ken Castelloe, have been the mainstays of the Wildcat ground offense while Sigby Duck has handled the quarterbacking.

Robbinsville will be putting its 7-2-0 mark on the line come Friday night and like Mars Hill will be gunning for advancement in the 1-A playoffs.

For the winning team it could be the beginning of a trip to the state 1-A championship.

Gardner-Webb

is the way Shealy puts it.

"I think our defensive club can play anybody around a real good game."

"We've been real fortunate and our defense has pride and good class," Shealy said. The leading tackler is Strib Barton, a native of Greenville, S. C., while free safety Gerald Whitely has intercepted five passes and has returned them for an average of 16 yards per try.

Gene Radford, a defensive left end from South Carolina, Ted Williams, another freshman from Tennessee and Tom Percer have all contributed mightily to the defensive cause, according to Shealy, and are the primary reasons why the club has done as well as its has.

"The problem has been offense. 'I don't think our offense has been that bad,'" says Shealy. "We just don't have the speed."

"We'll break a man loose for a 10 yard gain and it should be a touchdown," said Shealy, pointing out the importance of speed. "Passing has been our strong point," stated Shealy. "However, in the past three games there have been 11 times that our receivers have been open and we've missed them by inches.

"This is the difference timing makes and the missing of spring practice. The timing isn't there." With three games to go the Mars Hill Lions' footballers have a fine chance to make a 4-3 record a 7-3 record.

Following their final home game Saturday the MHC Lions travel to West Virginia Tech on Nov. 1, and to Hampden-Sydney November 8.

funds diverted because some funds for primary and urban road work could not be used immediately because of the time required to get sub projects under way. "We need to show some results," the governor said.
