Book Notes

THE THOMAS REGISTER OF AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS in seven volumes with a Product Finding Guide to the volumes and an index to Advertisers is now in the Madison County Public Library in Marshall. This is an authoritative product source reference work. You can use this set to find the manufacturer of any product, to find the address when you know the name, to find branch offices, to find the manufacturer of a special trademark, etc. As an example: if Carpenters' Tools are wanted, look "Carpenters" and it will refer you to the specific names of the articles.

A MATTER OF ACCOUNTABILITY: The True Story of the Pueblo Affair by Trevor Armbrister Coward, who is a leading journalist. In this book he has put together some 300 interviews to produce an account of the Pueblo incident. He interviewed Dean Rusk, Nicholas de B. Katzenbach and Clark Clifford as well as ordinary clerks and crewmen. He also has had discussions with Commander Bucher. This true story will be found at the Madison County Public Library in Marshall.

THE DAY THE SUN FELL by Robert L. Duncan, is an absorbing World War II adventure of three soldiers who are dropped by parachute near Nagasaki shortly before the atomic bomb is dropped. Their mission is to persuade the Catholic bishop to evacuate the city. The pace of the action and high suspense make this a very enjoyable novel. This fascinating story may be found at the Madison County Public Library at Marshall and at the Mars Hill Branch.

It's official! The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association advises using soap or detergent suds to scrub dirt and grease from walls before ever dipping a brush into enamel. "A clean surface is a must for a successful job," explains the Association.

Apples—"They've got a lot to give!" If an old adage is true, there are indeed enough apples produced in North Carolina to practically put our doctors out of business!

We rank 7th in apple production on a national basis and last year, according to our Horticultural Science Department, apple production took 9th place in North Carolina money crops. Each kind has its own distinguishing characteristics and the homemaker should choose them according to the use she expects to make of them. A favorite, the red delicious, usually leads other varieties in production; a close second is the Rome Beauty.

The USS North Carolina, now a memorial and tourist attraction at Wilmington, N. C., was the first American battleship to fire into Japanese territory during World War II.
