Extra Gasoline Dangerous

Concern for the shortage of gasoline is rampant throughout the nation, especially now that summer has finally arrived and long-awaited vacations draw nearer. Some fuel stations are limiting the quantities of fuel which can be purchased; others are simply closing early because gasoline is no longer available to suppliers in the necessary quantities. Many motorists have solved the gasoline availability dilemma by taking extra cans of gasoline along while traveling. The Office of Safety and Emergency Planning has advised against such transportation of this highly flammable fuel. According to G.R. Fleming, the WOODROW NORTON, installer-repairman for Western Carolina Telephone Company at Hot Springs, has completed a course in station repair at the Continental Telephone System Training Center, Dulles International Airport, near Washington, D. C. Each student that completes the 10-day course is able to effectively analyze, troubleshoot, and repair customer telephone equipment, including station carrier systems.

On Dean's List

The following Madison County students have made the Dean's List at Warren Wilson College for the spring semester:

Deborah Karen Ponder, daughter of Mrs. Betty D. Ponder, Route 1, Marshall; Phyllis Ann Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Cooper, Marshall; Joyce Goforth Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Goforth of Laurel, Md.

A certificate has been received by Miss Catherine L. Reese, certifying that "In recognition of the excellence of her Academic records, her name has been included in the Dean's List of The Duke University School of Nursing, at Durham, for the Academic year, 1972-73."

Miss Reese is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Reese of the Walnut Creek Community.

She will be a Junior at Duke University this fall.

Decoration

"The North Fork Baptist Church in the Big Pine section will have its annual cemetery decoration and home coming June 17. All Christian singers and visitors are invited to come and take part. Services begin at 10 a. m. with lunch on church grounds and singing in the afternoon."

Help Build This Church

One might ask why Madison County citizens should make contributions to build a church in Nevada. At first, it sounds rather foolish but when a person learns what it's all about, he will realize what a great opportunity there is to do a genuine Christian act.

It will be recalled that E. J. Jenkins, Superintendent of Missions for the French Broad Baptist Association, and a group of members from the Association traveled to Twin Falls, Idaho, where they erected the Eastside Southern Baptist Church. They had no church in which they could worship and learning of this, Jenkins stuck his neck out and told the pastor that if he would use the money secured from the Southern Baptist Convention that he (Jenkins) would rake a crew from WNC to build the church. They did just that. One of the "crewmen" who helped build the church was Walter Harrell, an active member of the Madison Seminary Baptist Church. Harrell later wrote an interesting article which was published in the October 26, 1972 issue of this newspaper.

Since we have access to so many churches in our area, it is difficult to understand that in some areas of Idaho and Nevada there are no churches whatsoever for miles and miles. Members gather in various business places for worship and to learn that a "real church" is going to be built thrills them beyond imagination.

Such is the case concerning an appeal for funds to build a church in Jack Pot, Nev.

So moved by the need for a church in this small town, Harrell has prepared an impressive pamphlet explaining why local Christians should donate for this worthy project.

Following are excerpts from the pamphlet: "In a town that doesn't have a church, only gambling houses and casinos. A out 600 people live in this town and the nearest church is 42 miles away. "Sometime ago Eastside Baptist Church of Twin Falls, Idaho, started a mission in Jack Pot, Nev. The only facility available was one of the casinos. There are slot machines all around and pictures of dancing girls on the walls but this does not distract these people. They have Sunday School and worship service on Tuesday nights because the casino is open for gambling Sunday. Under these adverse conditions they have made amazing progress.

"What kind of church do you attend? Is it a sacred place to you? The children of Jack Pot have never had a place to worship like we enjoy but they are eager to go to a casino once a week for Sunday School and worship.

"Jesus said, 'Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not. For of such is the Kingdom of God.

Please help us to build for these people A REAL CHURCH."

Give generously and receive a blessing.

INSECT STING REMEDIES

Man's "eyeball to eyeball" confrontation with stinging insects is no laughing matter for several thousand Americans who are dangerously allergic to their toxic poisons. We all fear the piercing stings from these irate "critters."

Potentially fatal reactions in some individuals can be headed off by quick first-aid action. The application of a cold compress, for example, will retard venom absorption while helping to reduce pain and swelling. In cases where severe allergy is suspected, special insect sting kits are available on R from your doctor. Severe cases of itching can be relieved by various O-t-c preparations. Whatever the ailment, depend on a health professional for advice.

Hensley Wed To Norton

Miss Debra Ann Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hensley of Barnardsville, was married to Donald Marcus Norton Saturday June 2, 1973 in North Black Mountain Baptist Church at Barnardsville.

The bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Steve Norton of Mars Hill. His father and the Rev. Howard Hudson conducted the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long Empire gown of satin and bridal lace with a waist-length veil attached to a cap of lace and pearls.

Miss Kathy Hensley was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a long Empire pink dotted Swiss dress. She carried a nosegay of matching flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Evonne Thomas, of Mars Hill, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Teresa Allen and Mrs. Sara Dillingham, both of Barnardsville. Miss Judy Lunsford was junior attendant. Their dresses were like that of the honor attendant in blue, yellow and lavender. The dresses of the bride and her attendants were made by the bridegroom's mother.

Steve Allen of Asheville was best man. Ushers were Jimmy Thomas of Mars Hill, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Loy Lunsford of Barnardsville and Melvin Cole of Weaverville, Phillip Cole of Weaverville, Chris Hensley of Barnardsville, brother of the bride, and David Lunsford of Barnardsville were junior attendants.

A reception followed. The bride is a 1973 graduate of North Buncombe High School. The bridegroom is employed as an electrical apprentice at M. B. Haynes Electric Corp. and attends Asheville - Buncombe Technical Institute.
