That the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, founded 25 years ago, still is a fundamental element in the building of a lasting world peace, guarding freedom, dignity, and security for all its member nations?

That NATO can be described best as a collective defensive security arrangement of 15 European nations pledged to bind themselves in a defensive alliance?

That the mission of NATO today is the same as it has been for 24 years to deter aggression but, if deterrence fails, to defend NATO nations as far forward as possible?

A balanced American force contribution in Europe one not substantially less than we have today is essential to the continued existence of a strong collective force, it is essential to the continued effectiveness of NATO, and, therefore, it is essential to our security interests in the United States.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement in the passing of our loved one, Mrs. Curtis (Bootsie) Lawson, Husband, Children, Mother, Sisters and Brother, Uncles

Leicester; Brant Johnson, of Madison County; Conley McKinnish of Brevard; Garrett Ramsey of Buncombe County and Jackie Ball of Madison County. Robinson is 93 and Blazer and Alexander are both 94. Present but not pictured were Ron Howell, Robert Hensley and Craig Edwards, of Madison County. The group stayed up all night listening to and telling their experience while fox hunting.

Susan Frisby Will Be Page In Raleigh

Miss Susan Annette Frisby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ray Frisby of Route 5,

SUSAN FRISBY

Marshall, will serve as a "Governor's Page" in the Office of the Governor James E. Holshouser, Jr. in Raleigh during the week of July 30-August 3, 1973.

Miss Frisby was notified of her selection by Phillip J. Kirk, Jr., Administrative Assistant to the Governor.

While in Raleigh, Miss Frisby will work in the Governor's Office. In addition, tours of the Capitol, Legislative Building, and museums will be arranged.

The "Governor's Page" program is an innovation of the Holshouser administration. Unlike legislative pages, those who serve in the Governor's Office do not receive any pay. Mrs. Dale Beaver, a member of the Governor's staff, co-ordinates the program.

Miss Frisby is a 1973 Honor Graduate of Marshall High School. While in school, she participated in many extracurricular activities. She is a member of Madison Seminary Baptist Church; and, sings in a group called "Singers For Christ."

Miss Frisby plans to attend Duke University this fall, where she will major in Nursing.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Donald N. Anderson, chairman of the Madison County Planning Board of Mars Hill, attended the recent third annual Conference on Community Appearance and Historic Preservation at Appalachian State University.

The conference was designed to provide the people of North Carolina and the Appalachian region an opportunity to study the problems the state and the region face in the rapid deterioration of the appearance of many of its areas and how to maintain and conserve its historical heritage.

The four-day conference was sponsored jointly by the Planning and Zoning Education Program for Western North Carolina, the Appalachian Regional Institute of Government and the Institute of Government, UNC-Chapel Hill.

SURVEY OF NC NUTRITION

A survey conducted by the North Carolina State Board of Health reveals that 25 percent of Tar Heel families plus 43 percent of pre-school children in the state subsist on inadequate diets. Deficiencies are particularly pronounced in vitamins A and C and calcium. Snack foods and colas seem to be replacing vegetables, fruits, and milk in our diets. The net result is poorer health for a large number of Tar Heel families.

With soaring food costs and changing eating habits, perhaps your family should consider low-cost, high-yield vitamin capsules and mineral supplements. Check with your County Agricultural Extension Office, or your physician, if you are concerned about your family's nutrition.

Highland Games Sat.-Sun. At Grandfather Mountain

Four outstanding pipe bands will be featured amid the pageantry of the 18th annual Highland Games and Gathering of Scottish Clans which will be held on Grandfather Mountain's MacRae Meadows on Saturday and Sunday, July 14-15.

The Atlanta Pipe Band, The Denny and Durpice Pipe Band of Washington, D.C., the Ogilvy Highlanders of Wilmington, Del., and the Charlotte Scottish Pipe Band will lead the musical portions of the traditional Scottish celebration which is expected to again lure approximately 25,000 spectators.

The Highland Games, which has become the largest tribute held yearly in the United States in honor of a distant motherland, will include such crowd-pleasing events as dancing, piping and drumming demonstrations, a sailboat regatta, and the Parade of Tartans in addition to the usual athletic competitions involving standard A.A.U. events and the typical Old Scottish contests.

The whirling kilts of the dancers, the shrills of the continuous bagpipe music, and the gasps and groans of the hardy athletes as they toss the cabars, sheafs, and stones, comprise to make the Highland Games a color spectacular which would rival a movie set for a film giant. John MacRae of Conchra, Scotland, who is the Chief of the Clan MacRae Society; and Peregrine Moncrief, also of Scotland and the son of the Chief of Clan Hay; will be the guests of honor for the 18th annual gathering.

Some 187 medals, 27 trophies and 13 cash awards will be presented to the first through third place finishers in practically all competitions.

Numerous souvenir shops, offering authentic Scottish goods, and several outdoor kitchens which offer a wide variety of food, will again be on hand to serve the thousands of spectators.

The phrase "catch as catch can" originally referred to a style of wrestling.

How would you react to a big jump in car prices?

That's why railroads are essential.

One way car manufacturers keep prices from getting out of control is with economical shipping. By rail. In fact, railroads move 76% of all new autos and auto parts.

Why do the auto industry and so many other industries ship by rail? They know it's usually the most economical way to go. Consider these figures for the thousands of things delivered by rail. The average cost per-ton-mile by truck is five times as much as by rail. Air shipping is fifteen times more expensive.

Now you know one big reason why you need railroads. And why you need Southern.
