Dorland-Bell Reunion Successful At Hot Springs

The annual Dorland-Bell Alumni Reunion held in the Dorland Memorial Presbyterian Church at Hot Springs August 16-17 was enjoyed by many graduates, friends and guests.

A picnic, scheduled to be held on Saturday at Glory Ridge was transferred to the Hot Springs church when rain made it impractical to be held at beautiful Glory Ridge. Clark Sawyer, head counselor at Glory Ridge and a group of girls quickly and efficiently transferred the picnic dinner from near Walnut to the Fellowship Hall at the Hot Springs church.

The main session of the reunion was held Sunday morning in the church with Mr. Sawyer presiding. Familiar songs were enjoyed and the service was followed by the homecoming picnic in the Fellowship Hall.

The Rev. George A. Moore, former pastor of the Hot Springs Church who has been so active during these reunions, was unable to attend due to other commitments at his present church near Erwin, Tenn.

Dewey Shelton, of Greeneville, Tenn., was elected, succeeding Mrs. Eugenia Lollar Elliott; Kenneth Burgin was elected vice president and Mrs. Agnes B. Ford, of Roda, Va., was reelected secretary.

"We are looking forward to another great get-together next August, so make plans now to attend", Mrs. Ford stated.

While I'm waiting for the birds to come, I'll try to write a word or two. In case you don't know about the birds, let me tell you. Every night around 7:30 they come from the east, west, north and south and roost over in Dr. Bates Henderson's pine tree forest. You should drive out here some night and just see these black birds arrive. They come in coveys - as few as two or three - and as many as one hundred! Last night, they landed for a few minutes on the electric wires near the Methodist church, seven wires in all, and crowded almost on top of each other.

They fly around for about thirty minutes, in numerous formations, some times very fast, some times slow, seemingly without a leader as they pass each other up and down, they go over to the Presbyterian church trees, over to Misses Lulu and Jennie Lee Chandler's trees, and about 8:15, they make one final swoop and back to Dr. Henderson's pine tree forest. Their chattering is enormous and is very loud in the mornings as they awaken. I haven't been up, nor here, when they leave of a morning so I can't report on that. Many people have shot at the rascals, but they still come back - every night!

The football game was a good one last Friday night. I thought the boys did well, even in defeat. They look like they will be a good team when they get settled down and iron out a few flaws. I don't believe in fussing and complaining about their loss. I'm sure each player did the best he could, but made some mistakes. Those of us who complain too loudly should remember that when we do something, we're not always perfect. I'm looking for a win this Friday night and how about encouraging the boys instead of kicking them? I particularly liked the play of Tim Hodge, Jeff Treadway, Ricky Caldwell, Ricky Harrell, Alan Rice, Kirk McWilliams and Harrell Wood.

My, our new school is just fabulous! Work is still going on and some things are not ready, but we are making the best of it all and the students are just darlings. And the teachers are getting along beautifully too. I think the work we did together last year in preparing for the curriculum helped a great deal in learning to know each other. And our principal is just as nice and cooperative as he can possibly be. He is carrying a heavy load, but I think he can survive!

I have all the freshmen girls in Health and Physical Education. And they are very pretty, very nice, and very cooperative. We haven't got on the gym floor yet, but will before too long. For the first few days we met in different classrooms, but we are now in the class room in the gym. I look forward to a good year and hope they are going to enjoy it too. I don't know how I can give you all 136 names of my girls, but will try before the year is over.

OBSERVED - Saw lots of people at the game Friday night - Ronnie Haynie said I looked as old as ever, but Woody Ammons said I wasn't getting older - just better - whatever that means - Mike Freeman and his wife had their sweet little boy there - Oh, Karen Ponder showed me a picture of Jimmy's little boy and he is just precious - I think Dean Shields looks a little like Rockefeller if he had a little more weight on him - Do you think Evel Knievel will make it across the Snake River - A trail of a cycle like the one he's to use didn't make it last week, but he said he is still going - Are you ready for the new fall programs on TV? - Better hush and get out to watch the birds - Have a good day!!!!!!
