WNCHA Met At Haywood Tech; Cornwell Cited
The Western North Carolina Historical Association met at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 19 at Haywood Technical Institute. Miss Mary Cornwell, home economics extension agent for Haywood County and an authority in the field, spoke on the mountain craft's industry. The recipient of the association's Achievement Award was announced by Joe L. Morgan, chairman of the WNCHA. It honors distinguished service in any cultural area, or general service to the mountain section. Morgan presented this year's Achievement Award to Miss Cornwell, who organized the N. C. State Fair Craft Division in 1951 and who has served as director each year since that time. Miss Cornwell has received fourteen citations and awards for her work in crafts on the county, state and national levels.
Mrs. Frances McDowell, chairman of the Heritage Center Committee, reports remarkable progress on the Smith - McDowell House in Asheville. It is being converted into a regional heritage center through the efforts of numerous individuals and historical and cultural groups in twenty-three counties in WNC.
The summer meeting of WNCHA will be held in July at Fort Defiance, near Lenoir, known as "Happy Valley."

Wolf Laurel Golf Course Opens May 2

The management of Bald Mountain Development Corporation recently announced that the Wolf Laurel Golf Course (the highest course East of the Rockies) will be opening to the public again this year; the first opening day of the 1975 season being May 2nd. Improvements have continued at Wolf Laurel including the enlarging of the existing Pro Shop.

One of the greatest steps forward for the golfers of this area has been the hiring of a Professional Golf Manager. It was recently announced that Rod Carter - a Class A member of the PGA assumed his duties at Wolf Laurel on April 1st.
Rod was born in a small town named El Dorado, Ill. in 1947. He moved to Fort Myers, Fla., with his family at the age of 10. He went to school at Fort Myers High School. After graduating from high school he received a baseball scholarship to Edison Junior College. It was there that he got his start in golf. Upon graduating from Edison in 1967, he decided not to pursue further schooling and to turn to golf. He became involved in the Professional Golf Association apprentice program in 1967 at the young age of 19 and was given his first start in golf at the Royal Palm Yacht and Country Club in Boca Raton, Fla. where he stayed for four seasons as an Assistant Professional under the well known Long Island Professional, Tom Niepart. During this time Rod finished his apprenticeship in the Professional Golf Association and became one of the youngest ever to receive a Class A membership. He participated in many state tournaments during this time, thus gaining much needed tournament experience. From there Rod played on the Far East Tour from February 1972 until April 1972 and also on the Florida Winter Tour. Participants had to be accepted by the Professional Golf Association to play in the Far East Tour; 29 players from the United States began the tour and 13 finished, including Rod. After touring nine different countries, Rod returned from the Far East Tour to become the head Golf Professional at the Dodger-town Golf Club in Vero Beach, Fla. where he has spent the last three seasons. It was there he met Patti Shulock, during a golf tournament in Vero and this meeting ended in marriage eight months later on April 19, 1974 Just after announcing his new position to the people of Vero Beach, a couple of weeks prior to his leaving for the Carolinas, he won the John's Island Invitational Golf Tournament over a very strong field of golf professionals.

So, from May 2nd Rod will be looking forward to meeting the many golfers that play the challenging course at Wolf Laurel.
