

Congressman James McClure Clarke

Our previous Congressman voted to cut Social Security. Jamie Clarke voted to protect it and make the system sound.

None of the differences between Jamie Clarke and our previous Congressman is more dramatic than their records on senior citizens' issues.

The previous 11th District Representative voted to cut Social Security benefits and, until intense pressure forced him to back-track, he voted to eliminate the minimum monthly benefit. And he voted to cut disability benefits, Medicare, Medicaid, Meals on Wheels—even pneumonia vaccinations.

Jamie Clarke did things differently. He voted for the Social Security reform bill to protect the system and make it fiscally sound.

And every time Social Security is threatened in the future, Jamie Clarke will vote to save it.

Every time.

Congressman James McClure Clarke Democrat

Your man in Congress. Nobody else's.

FmHA Begins New Program

The Farmers Home Administration will soon begin accepting applications from farmers for a new program to restructure farm debt according to FmHA administrator Charles Shuman.

In an announcement made last week in Washington, Shuman said the FmHA will begin a review to determine which farmers will be eligible for assistance under the program of farm credits announced recently by President Reagan.

The new program will allow farmers with an FmHA loan to set aside up to 25 percent of the principal and interest, up to $200,000, for five years. No interest will be charged on the amount set aside.

Farmers with loans from commercial lenders may receive a guaranteed loan if the lender will write down at least 10 percent, up to the amount necessary to restore a positive cash flow.

Farmers with FmHA loans who think they might qualify for assistance under the restructuring plan should contact the Madison County FmHA office at 649-2821.

Grand Jury

custody of Robert and Jean Hensley.

Ray McCullough was indicted on a single count of common law robbery in connection with the theft of a 1972 Datsun pick-up truck belonging to Randall Rathbone.

The grand jury also indicted both Calvin Smith and Eddie Franklin on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon. Denny Payne was also indicted on charges of false pretense.

The grand jury refused to return true bills on charges of discharging a firearm into an occupied property against Ray Litrell, Gary Higgins and James Jones.

During the afternoon session of Superior Court, a jury of six men and six women heard testimony in the trial of Billy B. Woody, charged with manufacturing a controlled substance. Testimony in the case was expected to continue on Tuesday. Superior Court Judge Charles C. Lamm, Jr. is presiding over this week's session of the court.

Small Business Workshop Offered

Western Carolina University's Center for Improved Mountain Living and the Land of the Sky Regional Council will offer small business counseling sessions on Oct. 30 at the Land of the Sky office on Leicester Hwy.

The sessions are free and involve one-on-one counseling with businessmen experienced with small business operations. The one-hour sessions are open to individuals who operate existing businesses or are planning to open small businesses.

The workshops are sponsored by WNC, A-B Tech, the Asheville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Cherokee Business Development Center and the Western Economic Development Organization.

To make an appointment, contact Jean Sluder or Robin Lytle at 254-8131.

A-B Tech To Offer Computer Workshop

Asheville-Buncombe Technical College will offer an introductory class in microcomputers beginning on Oct. 25.

The 12-week class will meet each Thursday night from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. on the A-B Tech campus.

The course will assume students have no prior experience with computers and will cover information on computers uses and capabilities.

Cost of the class is $35, plus $3 for a computer diskette, payable at the first class meeting. For more information, or to pre-register, call A-B Tech at 254-1921, extension 138.
