Project Share Begins

Carolina Power and Light Co. has begun its annual Project Share to raise money to help low-income, elderly and handicapped people in the Carolinas pay their heating bills this winter. The utility hopes to raise $300,000. CP and L customers will receive information on the project with their December bills.

CP and L is accepting donations from its customers and employees and will match the contributions up to $150,000. The utility's contribution will come from shareholder funds. CP and L and local agencies will absorb the cost of administering the program.

Funds collected through Project Share pay heating bills for needy individuals in CP and L's service areas regardless of whether the energy source is oil, gas, wood or electricity. The program is administered locally by the N.C. Dept. of Social Services.
