Mars Hill College's adult-oriented evening program has announced its spring schedule for classes offered during the second semester.

The Center for Continuing Education, which sponsors the program, has divided the semester into two 10-week course offerings, and one 15-week course period. This allows students to take 12 semester hours of credit, thereby qualifying as a full-time student and becoming eligible for additional financial aid.

The schedule began Monday with the first 10-week classes. Formal registration will be held Monday through Jan. 16 at seven sites throughout Western North Carolina.

Classes will be offered in Burnsville at Glen Raven Mills and East Yancey Middle School, registration Jan. 15, at the Glen Raven Mills Training Room from 5 to 6 p.m. and in Mars Hill at the Peterson Conference Center, registration Wednesday from 6 to 7 p.m.

The Center offers degrees in accounting, allied health, business administration, education, psychology, religion and social work. Professional certification is offered in accounting/cpa preparation, management, gerontology and gifted education. Also offered for the first time this term will be a Weekend College program, which will offer students credit for one class in four weekends of study.

Additional information concerning classes, financial aid, or other programs is available by calling the Center at 689-1166 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, or write The Center for Continuing Education, Mars Hill College, Mars Hill, NC 28754.

Those classes offer a free opportunity for adults to study at any level from basic reading, writing and arithmetic skills through preparation for the GED exam.

Classes can be set up at any location in Madison County where a sufficient number of students and a qualified instructor can be found. Adults are urged to contact the center at 649-2947 regarding potential classes.

Women Voters Plan Discussion

The Madison County Unit of the League of Women Voters will hold a luncheon meeting at noon on Wednesday at Western Steer Steakhouse in Mars Hill. The Madison County Board of Commissioners will attend and participate in a discussion session. The meeting is open to the public.

Timothy Wilde completes training

Wilde Graduates

William Timothy Wilde, credit manager trainee of the Carolina Tire Company store located at 108 U.S. 64 West in Murphy, graduated recently from the company's management training program.

The announcement was made by Clyde Granberry, executive vice president of the company's retail division.

The four-week training session was held at the parent company's new training facility in Salisbury.

"We're proud to have Tim complete this basic course in management, advertising, sales and customer relations. This training emphasizes commitment to provide the highest quality service possible for our Murphy-area customers," said Granberry.

Wilde graduated from Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C., in December, 1984. He has been employed by Carolina Tire Company since September 1985.

He currently resides in Mars Hill.

Headquartered in Charlotte, the parent company, Brad Ragan, Inc., has two operating divisions-retail and commercial. The Carolina Tire Company outlets retail a broad line of new tires, home entertainment products and lawn and garden equipment in addition to providing automotive services such as brake adjustments, wheel alignments and engine tune-ups. Brad Ragan's Commercial Tire Centers provide a full line of new and retread tires and service for trucks and off-the-road earth moving equipment.

God's Etching

Man's ventures in art merely imitate the magnificence of God's designs. No museum can offer a winter landscape to rival God's own etching.

The works of the Divine Artist not only bring us beauty, peace and inspiration. They teach us fundamental lessons for every-day living. The love so evident in nature's beauty is a love we can all share. The ordinariness of creation inspires unity, trust, brotherhood.

For all our spiritual searching you and I cannot match the touch of the Almighty. But following lines He has drawn for us—perhaps one day our human scene will look more like something God etched.
