

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE TO SILER CITY

Changed From Dunn—Graded School Principal Elected—Notes.

The following news items of Dunn were published in Tuesday's Wilmington Star under date of March 27th:

The Fayetteville Methodist District Conference was scheduled to meet here April 27 to 30, but owing to the Presbyterian meeting which was announced to meet here at the same time in advance, the conference will be changed and will be held in Siler City. Dr. Gibbs, the presiding elder, thought best to change the place instead of the date. Siler City will be glad to entertain the conference and Dunn regrets to lose it.

Some weeks ago it was announced that Prof. J. B. Martin, superintendent of the graded school, had resigned his position to accept a similar one in Virginia, his home state. Since then about 30 applicants for the place have been received by the school board. At the board meeting Saturday night Prof. J. C. Lockhart of Apex, was selected from the list. All the applicants were well recommended and many of them are prominent in school work. Prof. Lockhart has been at Apex for the past three years, is a young man only 28 years old, a graduate of the University of North Carolina of 1912 and has been successful and prominent in school work ever since. He comes highly recommended.

The city fathers and Mayor Turnage have decided to do some permanent street improvement in the way of paving and graveling the streets. This was decided after holding their mass meeting in the city hall one night last week. The present board is determined to make Dunn a clean and pretty town.

Since Harnett has announced and decreed to go Democratic this year, candidates are becoming numerous and are looking up from all sections of the county. Much interest is being taken.

Mr. Herman Parrish, of Coats, who is a large dealer in autos, has opened the main office of the business. Mr. Bob Davis, a popular young man, will be in charge of the office. They will handle a line of high grade cars and both are active young men.

Letters from friends of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Cooper, who went to Tampa, Fla., some weeks ago state that Mr. Cooper is improving. He is president of the First National Bank here. He has been in failing health since fall.

Offered Mileage. Put Off Train. Given Verdict of $1,000.

GODWIN BEGINS FENCE MENDING IN MAY

Washington, March 27.—Congressman Hannibal L. Godwin who has who has five or six candidates working actively in his district to defeat his renomination does not expect to be able to get to his district to lay his own claims before his folks until about the first of May.

He will go to his district then, however, unless conditions in Congress are such as to make his presence here an absolute necessity and campaign right up until the primary on June 3.

"I expect then to go all through the district," said Mr. Godwin today, "making four or five speeches in each county."

BOARDS OF ELECTIONS FOR COUNTIES NAMED

Announced by the State Board of Elections at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., March 26.—The State Board of Elections yesterday named the following boards of elections for the counties below, the members and the third the Republican member:

Cumberland—John W. Judge, Fayetteville; Jack W. Hall, Autryville; D. N. Godde; Fayetteville.
Harnett—H. T. Spears, Lillington; E. R. Thomas, Duke; J. W. Wilson, Dunn.

BRYAN OUT FOR WILSON

"No Other Name for Convention." Saved Party in 1912.

William J. Bryan came out openly today for the renomination of President Wilson. He said there would be no other candidate at the St. Louis Convention.

"I am a candidate for delegate at large to that convention," said Mr. Bryan, "but if any of my friends who have suddenly become friends of Woodrow Wilson can serve him better than I can to the convention."

FOR NATIONAL SYSTEM OF IMPROVED ROADS

Washington, March 25.—Representative Small introduced today a bill authorizing the Secretary of War, through the Chief of Engineers to prepare a preliminary plan for a system of improved national highways extending through all the States of the Union, connecting the principal centers of population or focal points of communication.

WILSON APPRECIATES ASSISTANCE OF 'POU'

Washington, March 24.—The President appreciates keenly the good work of Representative POU as acting chairman of the rules committee of the house in recent weeks. He has just written him several very flattering letters. At a recent reception at the White House, when Mr. POU's mother, who is about 80 years old passed up the receiving line, the President detained her for a moment to say that he was under great and lasting obligations to her son for his excellent efforts in the House. Mr. POU is saving his letters from the President for the next generation of POUs.

UNIVERSITY LETTERS

Chapel Hill, March 26.—A bulletin issued "University on Student Employment at the University of North Carolina" has just been published by the University of North Carolina. The purpose of this circular is to set a fairly and fairly the problem, which confronts a young man with the determination to get a collegiate education, but with no necessary funds.

The Bulletin states that the first problem to be considered in the problem of completion. New students seeking work often have the idea that they belong to a very small group. This is far from true. Of the three hundred men to enter this year, 50 per cent applied for work to help pay their expenses. A casual canvass made last year showed that 70% of the student body earned, during the summer or during the college session, a considerable part of their expenses.

But as the Bulletin points out, a majority of the young men who want to work their way through want that they have had no training in any kind of expert labor, but that they are willing to do anything. The current pay for unskilled labor is from twelve to fifteen cents an hour. No student earning this rate of wages, as gardener, furnace-attendant, wood-chopper, waiter or similar grade work, can cover all of his expenses and have sufficient time left for study.

By such labor, many students earn their board and lodging, and so supplement sufficient funds; but a student should not come to college expecting to make his way by low-priced labor. In general, a new man should save at least a hundred dollars that can fall back on.

However, the Bulletin further points out, there is time for work, and there are forms of money-producing work that do not interfere at all with study, and there are forms of work that interfere only slightly. Among those mentioned by the Bulletin are: clerical positions and various forms of part-time employment.

Under the heading "A College Education As An Investment," the Bulletin showed that the average wage of a non-college man at twenty years was $10 per week. This average wage increased till the age of twenty-six, when it reached a maximum $18.50 per week. The average wage of the college man at twenty-two is $25; at thirty it is $45 per week, after which it continues to advance.

FAYETTEVILLE TO GET THREE FINE PRESENTS

Fayetteville, March 23.—This little city is to be the happy recipient of three worth while presents shortly—a new building and loan association, a roof garden, and a new office and store building. The B. and L. association is offered by some of the best and most substantial men in Fayetteville. Its first series will be opened on the first day of April. It has just been licensed by the State insurance department to do business in Fayetteville and its suburbs, with Dr. J. V. McGowan president, A. B. McMillan, vice president and Thomas H. Sutton secretary and treasurer.

A NEW CREDIT LAW

The last Legislature gave the farmers of North Carolina the privilege of organizing cooperative banks, to be known as Credit Unions. The Credit Union, as provided for in this law, is a savings society which lends its funds for short-time purpose. It should not be confused with the land mortgage association, which lends not to help to operate a farm, but to purchase and develop our land over a long period of years. This law also provides that the Superintendent of Cooperative Associations and Credit Unions from the Division of Markets of the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station shall help farmers to organize a Credit Union whenever twelve farmers shall sign a letter of application for his assistance. Any farmer is free to write to the Division of Markets to secure any one of the following articles, so far as these may be a supply of them on hand:

"Credit Unions, Where to Form Them"; "How to Organize a Credit Union"; "Recommended Form of By-Laws for Organizing a Credit Union"; "Recommended Form of By-Laws for Organizing a Credit Union".

Duke, March 23.—Late Wednesday afternoon the head of a supposed rabid dog was sent to Raleigh, to Dr. C. A. shore, in charge of the State Laboratory of Hygiene. The dog had bitten Hazel Dean, the two year old daughter of Mr. M. C. Dean. Although the dog showed no outward sign of being mad, the physician advised having the head examined. The child was playing in the yard and the dog snapped her it is thought without provocation.

Wednesday night at a social conference of the Baptist church, it was unanimously agreed to extend a call to Rev. Marvin Huggins of Newbern for the pastorate of the church. The deacons held a meeting Tuesday night and passed favorably on extending the call and placed the matter before the church Wednesday for the final vote. Mr. Huggins was here Sunday and Monday, preaching both morning and night, and spending Monday in town. He was liked by all who heard and met him and came very highly recommended. He started in life as a business man and for many years was connected with the A. C. L. Railway. Since entering the ministry he has been chiefly engaged in the evangelistic work and located at Newbern. He is a native of Wake county, is married and has five children. If he accepts the call, the pastorate is open to him at once. Rev. S. W. Oldham the former pastor has accepted the call to Hillsboro and will move his family there shortly.

BILL FOR TARIFF COMMISSION IS GIVEN TO HOUSE

Washington, March 27.—A revising bill for a permanent non-partisan tariff commission on lines suggested by President Wilson, and which, it is said, has received his full approval, was introduced today by Representative Rainey, of Illinois, ranking Democratic member of the ways and means committee.

The bill in its present form has the approval of the administration and will be the administration measure on this subject," Mr. Rainey declared in a statement accompanying the measure.

The bill would provide for the appointment of six commissioners at $10,000 a year each, not more than three of whom can belong to the same party. The first appointments are to be made for two, four, six, eight ten and twelve years after which the terms of office of all are to be for 12 years. The chairman and vice-chairman must be appointed biennially.

The duties of the commission are to investigate the administrative and fiscal effects of the custom laws of the country, relations between the rates of duty on raw materials and finished products, effects of ad valorem and of specific duties, all questions relative to the arrangement of schedules and classification of articles in the law and to put all information in its possession at the disposal of the President, the house ways and means committee and the senate committee on finance.

The need of protecting trade secrets and process is recognized in a provision of $1,000 fine or imprisonment for one year for any member or employee of the commission who divulges any secrets of the commission.

Representative Rainey said the bill would not be submitted to a party caucus, although to save time, it probably would be added to the omnibus revenue bill. Because it is hoped to make the commission permanent, he declared, the bill provides for an annual appropriation of $300,000 to meet its expenses.

The measure, in my judgment, insures in the future tariff stability and whenever revisions appear to be necessary, it will make it possible to make them intelligently," said Mr. Rainey. "If enacted into law, it will come as near removing from the tariff, unfair and unreasonable partisan action as any measure yet conceived."

STATE CONVICTS FOR PUBLIC ROADS

Asheville Board of Trade Urges People to Demand of Candidates Declaration on this Important Matter.

Asheville, March 27.—The Asheville Board of Trade again strongly urges the working of all state convicts on the public roads of the state except such number as may be required for the proper maintenance of the state prison at Raleigh, and for the state farms, an equal division of the convicts to be made between the Coastal Region, the Central and Piedmont Regions, and the Western or mountainous region of the state, taking into consideration of course the greater difficulty of building roads in the mountainous than in the level country.

The people are also urged to call on the candidates for the legislature and senate to declare themselves on this important subject before the election in November, and demand that such legislation be enacted.

Georgia has been building roads with her state convicts for nearly three years, and the talk of motorists coming through Georgia to Asheville indicates the enormous value of policy of road building. Motorists state that they can drive from forty to sixty miles through Georgia without changing the gears on their machines.

Everyone admits that good roads attract much capital. Virginia is also adopting the system of working state convicts on their public roads. North Carolina should not be behind in this important movement.

What The Children Should Eat

1. Sandwiches with sliced tender meat for filling; baked apples; cookies or a few lumps of sugar.
 2. Slices of meat loaf or bean loaf; bread and butter sandwiches; stewed fruit; small frosted cake.
 3. Crisp rolls, hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish, moistened and seasoned, or mixed with salad dressing; orange, apple, a mixture of sliced fruit, or berries; cake.
 4. Lettuce or celery sandwiches; cup mustard; jelly sandwiches.
 5. Cottage cheese and chopped green pepper sandwiches, or a pot of cream cheese with bread and butter sandwiches; peanut sandwiches; fruit cake.
 6. Hard boiled eggs; crisp baking powder biscuits; celery or radishes; brown sugar or maple sugar sandwiches.
 7. Bottle of milk; thin corn bread and butter; dates; apples.
 8. Raisin or nut bread with butter; cheese; orange; maple sugar.
 9. Baked bean and lettuce sandwiches; apple sauce; sweet chocolate.
- The provision of a bottle of milk is suggested in one of the menus, but of course taking milk to school in warm weather would be impracticable unless means were provided for keeping it chilled until it is consumed.
