

Just What Does The EDISON TONE TEST

Demonstrate?

This is an effort to explain in simple lucid language exactly what the Edison tone test demonstrates. When you have read it we want you to have as clear an idea of just what the test signifies as though you personally had witnessed one.

We have repeatedly asserted that in the New Edison the great inventor had perfected a device which Re-Creates the artist's voice with such complete fidelity that no human ear can detect the slightest shade of difference between the living artist and the inanimate instrument. The tone test is conducted merely for the purpose of proving the truth of this statement.

The demonstration is simple in the extreme. The instrument is placed upon the stage; an artist stands beside it. The instrument begins to render one of the singer's own songs. After a few moments the artist begins to sing the same song with the instrument. Suddenly the singer ceases and the New Edison continues alone. Can you distinguish the difference? That is the question.

Over 1500 of these tone tests have been staged. Over 80 great artists: Anna Case, Marie Rappold, Marie Sundelius, Alice Verlet, Thomas Chalmers, Arthur Middleton, Giovanni Zenatello and others of similar eminence have participated in them. Of the more than 2,000,000 people who have been present not one has been able to detect any difference between artist and instrument: between a singer's living voice and the New Edison's Re-Creation of it. With the lights lowered to hide the singer's lips not one of the 2,000,000 has been able to say when the singer ceased and the instrument continued alone.

In plain, everyday English the foregoing is a description of an Edison tone test. These tests have convinced more than 2,000,000 people that Thomas A. Edison has achieved what was believed to be impossible. We are publishing this not only to convince you of the truth of our assertions about this incredible instrument but also to urge you to call at our store and learn for yourself what we mean by the phrase "Music's Re-Creation."

MEET ME AT THE HINDENBERG LINE

On July 4th!

IN LILLINGTON

Major F. P. McLendon, who helped to break the original Hindenberg line, will speak. And two of our own boys, who helped to take the "man" out of German, will also tell their home folks how it was done.

EVERYBODY WILL ENJOY THEMSELVES

The tank is on its way, and with its crew of two veterans will show how it scrambled over the famous (infamous) line and made the Hun hunt Berlin.

THE SOLDIERS WILL TAKE RENEWED PRIDE IN THEIR NATIVE COUNTY

The Band—hear that bass!—will be here and even the old witches' joints will forget their rheumatism.

A PICNIC WILL FEATURE THE DAY

And the Dinner! The soldiers munching barbecue and sipping Brunswick stew, and the people devouring whole poultry farms of spring chickens—

GEE! I'LL BE THERE!

MEET ME AT THE HINDENBERG LINE JULY 4th!

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:

L. M. Chaffin, Chairman.

A GREAT STEP FORWARD

The county commissioners and the county board of education of all the counties meet about a county superintendent of public welfare before July 15.

Any reader of this paper can get a free copy of the Bulletin of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, Raleigh, N. C., by writing for it on a postcard. This issue contains a copy of the state-wide juvenile court law, the compulsory school attendance law, and the county superintendent of public welfare law.

Public Welfare is required to appoint three persons in each county who shall serve without pay and act as a county board of charities and public welfare. It is probable that two men and one woman will be appointed in each county. The county board meets with the county superintendent of public welfare and advises with him as to his work of general welfare in the county.

The people of this State have determined that every boy and girl born within our borders shall have a fair chance in life to become a useful man or woman. To this end they have prepared for a six months' school term, with compulsory attendance, a change in the juvenile court with a probation officer in every county, and a county board of charities and public welfare to aid in social conditions and find remedies for social evil.

After July first of this year, after the law goes into effect, every child between eight and fourteen years of age must attend school for the term of the public school, which is to be six months hereafter. If a child is unable to attend on account of poverty he may be helped from the public school authorities and the child attendance officer of the county to see that the law is complied with.

17-YEAR LOCUSTS EMERGE FROM GROUND ON SCHEDULE

After 17 years underground the periodical cicadas—"17-year locusts"—of brood No. 10 began emerging in the latitude of Washington in considerable numbers the night of May 21. The great swarms were expected to come out during the next few nights. During the next few days tree trunks, bushes and chimneys were thickly studded with cast pupa skins. The period during which the cicadas do damage to trees by splitting the branches to deposit eggs would not begin for 10 days or so, said entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture. "Within that period it would be easily possible for the individual orchardist or farmer to determine whether or not the insects were present in sufficient numbers to make protective measures necessary."

The one sure means of protecting young trees, the entomologists say, is to place a bag over each tree. Spraying measures have not been found particularly effective.

The entomologists of the Department of Agriculture undertook a series of cicada studies in connection with this emergence, to determine what points not fully investigated elsewhere. Additional experiments will be made with sprays. A great deal of material was gathered, particularly during the activities of the insects during the night. A series of light studies were made also to determine just when and under what conditions the insects emerge from the ground.
