

FORDSON TRACTORS

Car load just received from the Factory
 Price $750.00 F. O. B. Dearborn

We will be glad to demonstrate the wonders of this remarkable machine to all farmers who feel the need of dependable power machines on the farm. We have a car load of them in stock and can make immediate delivery of all purchases. Your farm needs the Fordson. It will do work for you that is impossible to any other source of power obtainable at anywhere near the cost.

Come and Let Us Show You

J. W. Thornton

Dunn, North Carolina

LILLINGTON

Messrs. Marvin Edwards and Alfred McLean studied in Durham last Saturday. Misses Mary and Margaret McLean accompanied them as far as Raleigh, stopping over at the theatre for the play.

Mr. W. H. Gregory of Angler was in Lillington on business Wednesday. He remembered to call on the News while in town.

Mr. Joe Caviness returned home Tuesday for a few days' stay.

Messrs. A. L. Beahm and J. F. Tutor of Buckhorn were here this week attending court and renewed acquaintance with the News.

Judge O. P. Shaw, Hargett county, business caller in the countryside on Tuesday.

A large delegation of out-of-town people attended the auction sale of the Howard farm just across the river Tuesday. This was formerly the Sheriff Green farm which was sold at auction by Allen Bros. of Raleigh last January. It was cut up into small farms and auctioned again Tuesday by Carolina Realty Co. of Raleigh.

Mr. A. E. Holder of Broadway R. 1 was in town last week and made acquaintance with the News. The paper enjoys an excellent list of readers in the Broadway section.

Many citizens are taking advantage of court week to pay taxes. The sheriff's office is a busy place with those who like to get the discount of one per cent before December 1.

Mr. U. H. Parker of Durham, a former Lillington citizen, is here this week attending court. Mr. Parker is now in the insurance business in Durham. His daughter, Miss Pauline Parker, accompanied him and is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Caviness.

Mr. J. G. Layton, Hargett county's "busy man," was in the streets of Lillington Monday. Mr. Layton is much enthused over the great prospects of this section as a tobacco raising and marketing center. "We are coming into our own, and would be there already if some of our people did not sleep so much," said Mr. Layton, showing the editor a credit memorandum of sale of tobacco raised on his land which averaged a little better than a dollar a pound.

Mr. J. Bennett Barnes of Wilson was in town Monday on business connected with his tobacco interests.

SKINNERS HOOD

Nov. 17, 1919. The following are the names of the skinners who were licensed: Daniel Hood, John Smith, William H. Hargett, and...

The Things You Want!

Our buyers have searched the markets of the country to get into our store the big array of goods we are now displaying for your approval. These goods were hard to get. But we knew you wanted the best things the markets afforded—so they are here. The stock includes Suits and Coat Suits for Misses and Women, Suits, Overcoats, Shoes and Hats for Boys, Young Men and Men, Millinery, Dress Goods, Furnishings.

You must see this big display. Everything in it will interest you. Prices have been held down as low as we could possibly hold them, and our sales forces will always welcome an opportunity to serve you.

Johnson Brothers

NEW SALES STABLES

Best of Stock at Prices as Low as Possible

We Want to Give Satisfaction With Every Sale

Our new brick stables in North Clinton Avenue, opposite W. J. Jones' store, have just been completed. Into them we will place two car loads of fine mules and horses selected especially with an eye to their fitness for farm work in this section. These will arrive tomorrow, FRIDAY, NOV. 14.

We invite you to come and inspect them. They weigh from 850 to 1,350 pounds. They were selected from farmers who raised them and are known to be sound and dependable.

The prices are right. We will sell for cash or on easy terms arranged to suit the purchaser.

It will pay you to look this stock over if you are contemplating purchases.

J. E. Wilson - - - - - Dunn, N. C.