Having voted in November, 1918, to divide their government in the midst of a world crisis, the American people now find themselves without a government that can function.

ALL THAT IS LEFT IS REGRET.

"I am very sorry," ex-President Taft told a Daily News reporter when he was informed of the result of the treaty fight.

The more one considers it, the more appropriate the remark of the former President appears. After all, what can a man who loves his country better than his party say, except that he is very sorry?

The peace treaty was defeated for no reason on earth except that the senate feared that it would increase the power of the President to the degree that the senate would have no control whatever over him.
