SOCIAL HYGIENE

Harnett's commissioners and William A. Erwin did a good job for the county when they appropriated sums sufficient to guarantee the help of government social hygiene workers in a campaign for eradication of the deadly secret diseases. A two weeks' campaign is assured and it is hoped that all of Harnett's people can hear the lectures and see the motion pictures which will be a part of the campaign.

Data gathered through the army draft machinery revealed condition in regard to those diseases which are all the more dangerous because of the secrecy attendant upon them. Most of the insanity of the nation is directly traceable to these diseases, and a large number of other diseases have them as their foundation.

Dr. Charles V. Hardliska, head of the work to be undertaken here, is enthusiasite over the campaign, which is the second to be waged in the United States, and is confident that a great good will accrue the people of the county.

Dr. S. C. Atkins, principal of the State Normal and Industrial School for colored people at Winston-Salem, one of the foremost negroes of North Carolina, will speak at Dunn Fair on Friday, October 15. It was announced today by T. L. Riddle, secretary of the Fair Association. Dr. Atkins wrote that he had been compelled to decline several invitations to speak during the fall, but that he would gladly come to Dunn to speak before the big colored audience expected here for the last day of the Fair.

Secretary Riddle hopes to make "Colored Day" one of the most successful of this year's fair. On that day all colored school children under the age of fifteen years will be admitted to the grounds free, and an effort will be made to make of the occasion a great educational demonstration. It was for this reason the Dr. Atkins was invited to make the address. A committee of the leading colored men, headed by Dr. C. D. Godrington and Professor J. G. Smith will be appointed to arrange details of the day.

It has not yet been determined whether or not Governor Cox can be induced to speak here at the opening of the fair. Secretary Riddle is doing his utmost to persuade the campaign directors to send the Democratic candidate here, but has not been given any definite promise. Both of North Carolina's senators, Representative Godwin and Secretary of the Navy Daniels are helping Mr. Riddle and express the hope that they will be successful.

A catalog of premiums offered by the Harnett County Agricultural Fair Association is being mailed out by the secretary this week. Several thousand of these were printed and are being dolivered to the association as fast as they can be bound. They are products of The Dispatch commercial printing department.

There are 100 pages in the Fair catalog which takes up the twelve departments of the fair in detail. The premiums offered are more valuable than those of last year and will attract many more exhibitors, it is thought. The departments of the fair in detail. Otis P. Shell, of Dunn, engrossing clerk of the House of Representatives of the North Carolina General Assembly, was exonerated last week by a legislative committee appointed to investigate the charge that he had misapplied funds handled through his office. The charge was made during the 1919 session of the assembly when an auditor alleged that he had found a discrepancy of $102 in his accounts. Representative Rufe Doughton made the report exonerating the Dunn man, stating that he was blamed only with incorrect bookkeeping.

Members of Daniel McDonald Camp, United Confederate Veterans, have been called to meet at Lillington Thursday, September 23. Calls to the meeting were issued last week by Adjutant J. L. Smith.

---

Charles U. Skinner was winner of the prize offered by the Commercial Bank for the largest watermelon displayed in its windows this month. Mr. Skinner's melon weighed 66 pounds and was the most perfect specimen seen here this year. Several melons were entered in the contest, the smallest of which weighed 40 pounds.
