

HYGIENE CAMPAIGN AUSPICIOUS START HERE YESTERDAY

More Than 1,000 Men And Women Hear Lectures

WORK HIGHLY PLEASING TO ALL WHO ATTEND

Dr. Gillette and Hughes Talk on Prevention of Diseases and Show Interesting Pictures - Campaigners At Angier Today and Lillington Tomorrow.

More than 1,000 men and women heard the social hygiene lectures yesterday under the auspices of the United States Public Health Service, the American Social Hygiene Association, the State Board of Health and the County Commissioners.

At the White Way Theatre in the afternoon more than 200 white women heard the lectures which were shown the pictures portraying methods through which social diseases may be avoided.

Those who attended the lectures speak in glowing terms of the campaign that will have a very beneficial effect upon the health of future generations in the community, it is estimated by those who are interested in the public welfare.

When the town council meets next Tuesday night it will be asked to appropriate $100 to pay one fourth of the cost of four additional days work in the town.

Dr. W. H. Gillette, regional consultant of the United States Public Health Service, lectured to the white people yesterday. Dr. W. J. Hughes, colored, of the North Carolina Board of Health, lectured to the colored people.

Dr. Gillette was a surgeon in the army during the late war and was recognized as the closing of all red spots along the Atlantic seaboard.

Dr. Hughes, according to Dr. Gillette, is one of the brightest and most efficient physicians ever to have commanded his observation.

Mr. Fitzgerald served with the Red Cross in the war and operated motion pictures for soldiers in the trenches along every front of battle.

Harnett is the second county of the nation to be visited by the campaigneers. They are in Angier today and will be in Lillington Wednesday.

Dr. Charles W. Herdlicka, U. S. P. Henderson of Madison Confesses To Murder

Henderson Breaks Down in Duncombe and Tells Sheriff He Killed His Wife

Ashville, Aug. 20.—Surrounded by two sheriffs in his cell in the Buncombe county jail, where he was brought for safe keeping, Frank Henderson of Madison county, broke down under the constant torment of his conscience and confessed to the murder of his wife in the little village of Canton on the night of August 24, according to Sheriff Mitchell of this county, and Sheriff Bailey of Madison county, who visited him late this afternoon.

Madison county sheriff made no effort to put Henderson through the old program, but that when he was asked to tell all he knew of the case he broke down and confessed, stating that the murder followed the alleged infidelity of his wife.

Thirteen Stills Are Captured In A Week

While Officers Break Up Many Stills They Can't Keep Pace With the Moonshiners

North Wilkesboro, Aug. 20.—With the breaking up today of two moonshine plants, prohibition officers stationed in Wilkes county have a total of 13 captures to their credit during the past few days.

Stories of damage all around came in today, but no intelligent estimate is made of the total.

MEN TO MAKE A STATE

(George Washington Doane.) The men, to make a state, are made by faith.

A man that has no faith is so much flesh. His heart is a muscle; nothing more. He has no past, for reverence; no future, for reliance. Such men can never make a state.

There must be faith to look through clouds and storms up to the sun that shines as cheerily, on high, as on creation's morn. There must be faith that can afford to sink the present in the future; and let time go, in its strong grasp upon eternity. This is the way that men are made to make a state.—Mansfield's Ideals of Heroism and Patriotism.

Economics Committee Meets With Fair Secretary

Miss Marian Swain, who succeeded Miss Fannie Brooks as home demonstration agent for Harnett County, with several of the young women who are to assist her with the home economics department of the Dunn fair, were here yesterday in conference with T. L. Riddick, secretary of the fair.

Those who were here yesterday in conference with T. L. Riddick, secretary of the fair, to arrange preliminary details of the work, Miss Brooks came from Lillington with her to assist as much as her time would allow in making the department a real success.

Those here with Miss Swain were Miss Alda Ennis, Miss Bertha Sorrell, Miss Nettie Sorrell, Miss Lucretia Parker, Mrs. T. L. Riddick, Mrs. L. H. Dupree and Miss Alva Turington, the two other assistants assigned to Miss Swain, were detained and could not attend the meeting.

The young women were enthusiastic over the work and were confident that they would attract one of the most notable collections of exhibits ever seen at county fairs.

There are 106 first prizes offered in the home economics department, according to the premium lists just being mailed out by Secretary Riddick. These aggregate several hundred dollars and cover all varieties of canning and food saving.

E. CARL DUNCAN DIES AT BEAUFORT

Republican Leader And Business Man Passes Away at Beaufort

E. C. Duncan, former Republican National committeeman from North Carolina and prominent business man of Raleigh, died Sunday morning at 3:30 o'clock at the Davis House in Beaufort where he had been critically ill since his return from the Republican National convention in Chicago last June.

He had been in bad health since last spring when he went to a Baltimore hospital for treatment. He remained an active interest in affairs until about ten days ago when it was realized that the end was near.

Edward Carlton Duncan was born in Beaufort, North Carolina, March 28, 1862, son of William B. and Sarah A. (Ramsey) Duncan. He was educated in public schools of Beaufort and began life as a fisherman and a farmer.

He was a licensed pilot and boatman in the waters adjacent to Beaufort harbor. At this time Morehead City and the Atlantic Hotel was the summer capital of North Carolina, and this began Mr. Duncan's large acquaintance with the most prominent people in the State.

In 1890 he was appointed Collector of Customs of the Port of Beaufort, and served until 1894. Was elected member of the North Carolina Legislature and served during sessions of 1895 and 1897. Was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue at Raleigh in 1898 and served until he resigned in 1908 to become one of the Receivers of the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

Mr. Duncan for many years was active in politics, dating prior to the time of his appointment as Collector of the Port of Beaufort in 1890. He was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1890, 1900, 1904, 1912, 1916, and 1920, was Republican National Committeeman from North Carolina for twenty years and was high in the party councils and is the only Southern man who has ever been selected to help manage a Presidential campaign, being one of the Sub-Committee of five who successfully managed President Taft's campaign in 1908.

In June, 1920, although at that time not fully recovered from a serious operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Mr. Duncan attended the Republican National Convention at Chicago as delegate-at-large from North Carolina, and took part in the proceedings, his counsel being sought by the party leaders, whose sorrow at his sickness and death have been evidenced by many letters and telegrams from men of prominence, including Presidential Candidate Harding and others.

Ralph De Palma Wins Elgin, Ill., Aug. 20.—Ralph De Palma won the eighth annual National Road race of 250 miles here today. He covered the course of 251 miles, 2,850 feet, in 8:09:54, breaking lap and race records in the process and averaging 79 1/2 miles an hour.

Unearth Indian Village Close To Cemetery

Workmen Uncovered Bed of Arrow Heads And A Wooden Mortar

Ten feet below the surface of the little stream near Chiono Cemetery, workmen under H. C. McNeill who were digging the foundation for a bridge pier uncovered a wooden mortar used by Indians for grinding corn and a quantity of arrow heads last week.

Although a large piece of the mortar had been broken from the upper edge it was in a perfect state of preservation and showed evidence of remarkable skill in its manufacture. It evidently had been broken before it was discarded by its users. The thing is certainly 500 years old, since at least that time must have elapsed to have allowed so much to accumulate over it.

It is believed by Mr. McNeill that this point was that at which many of the flint arrow heads were manufactured, since there is a great pile of flint scraps and many finished arrow heads.

Before the Scotch settlers came up the Cape Fear the sections around Beaufort were inhabited by the Chiono Indians. It is believed that this tribe had one of its principal villages near Chiono.

The mortar found by Mr. McNeill is displayed in the Hood and Grantham show window. It will be exhibited with other Indian relics at the Dunn fair.

WIDE PRICE RANGE IN COTTON MARKET

Net Changes for Week On N. O. Advances of 180 to 209 Points

New Orleans, Aug. 20.—Fluctuations were unusually wide in the cotton market last week, prices ranging over 258 to 401 points, October showing the widest range, trading at 24.54 at its lowest, 28.55 at its highest and closing 28.45. Net changes for the week were advances of 98 to 182 points.

At the lowest level prices were 180 to 209 points under the close of the preceding week. The close was within 10 to 20 points of the top, in the spot department prices closed 175 points on middling, which closed at 30.75.

Weakness in the spot markets of the interior was the main cause of heavy selling in the early sessions of the week, but as spot markets gradually steadied with them until finally it met the bullish showing of private bureau reports on August 19, while at the end of the week the excessive rains in Texas caused general alarm and put prices to their highest levels.

This week the main event will be the government's report on the condition of the crop August 25, which is due Wednesday. Thus far private bureau reports have ranged from 68 per cent of normal up to 72.5 and indicated crop figures have ranged from 12,760,000 bales up to 13,750,000.

The weather returns from the belt over Sunday may on the opening of the week detract somewhat from the interest that is felt in bureau day but before the week is very old the bureau report will be the dominating influence.

Following bureau day many brokers seem to expect a quiet and trading market, because both of the large American markets, as well as many of the smaller ones, will end the week Friday evening in observance of the usual triple Labor Day holidays.

Six Persons Killed In Belfast Saturday

Worst Night City Has Had Since the Battle of Kashmir Road—Sinn Feiners Unusually Active

Belfast, Aug. 20.—Belfast's Saturday night was the worst since what is popularly known as the battle of Kashmir road. Six persons were killed and nearly 40 wounded, many of them seriously. All the killed were young men, the victims of gunshot wounds.

Ballymacarrett, a suburb of Belfast, responded to the lord-mayor's appeal and remained fairly quiet, but Saturday afternoon Cullinstree road, abutting Grosvenor road, the unionist district, and from which side streets radiate to the falls, became the storm center.

Later in the evening the battle shifted to the northern part of the city by way of Townsend street, a long thoroughfare extending from the falls to the Old Lodge road. The latter and the upper parts of Crumlin and Old Park roads were the center of the fiercest fighting of the whole night, especially at narrow-bones, the nickname of the nationalist encampments at the top of Old Park road.

Sinn Feiners in this neighborhood made an organized descent on unionists in Crumlin road, smashing windows and firing into houses. Failure by the police to hold them back led to the summoning of military aid. For several hours armored cars were in action together with squads of police and soldiers and volleys were poured into the crowd. After two hours of stiff fighting the Sinn Feiners were driven back into their own quarters, but slipping into the unionist quarters continued far into Sunday morning.

Cleveland, Aug. 20.—R. H. Bunn, of Venice, Cal., won the Columbus Ga. cap, awarded the shooter with the highest average during the week of the grand American handicap tournament here. He broke 790 out of 800 targets.

ASSAULTS BY COX PUT REPUBLICANS ON THE DEFENSIVE

Democratic Candidate's Dynamic Reputation To People

WINS YALE FACULTY BY HIS POSITION ON LEAGUE

Both High Brow Ideals And Men On The Streets Attracted By Straight Forwardanner of Old Man; Labor Healthy To Old Guard Causes Cause.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Governor Cox is proving himself a veritable revelation to the American people and a terror to the Republican party, the verdict of some of the persons who witnessed the candidate's reception in New York yesterday. He has put the enemy on the run with his fierce assaults. Chairman Will Hayes dipped out of town and is now closeted with the leaders of the Republican party on the Marion back porch.

At New Haven, Conn. over the Republican faculty of Yale almost in a body, Prof. Irving Fisher, who had just returned from an interview with Senator Harding on the League of Nations, said that he was an independent Republican; that he had never voted for a man for President who was not elected, and that he intended to vote for Cox. He said Cox would be elected because the great independent element that always elects for Cox, Cox is winning the educators and the teachers and churchmen everywhere on the League of Nations issue. Practically every Episcopal clergyman in the State of New York is working for the Democratic candidate.

Winning Multitudes Also But the candidate is not only winning the high brow idealists but the man in the streets. He is corraling the great multitude. In meeting and handling a crowd Cox has shown himself a real marshall. At his reception at the New York Democratic club yesterday he used both hands and shook hands of 2,500 people within less than an hour, an achievement that no one ever got through with with such speed before. At the end of his task the Governor was as fresh as at the beginning. In his double handshaking he employed what is known as the "Australian Crawl" with his right hand. This crawl is a sure prevention of pneumonia. He shook hands with people almost as fast as he could get to them.

There are Democrats who say that Cox in his charging the Republican with the raising of $15,000,000 to buy the presidency, fired his big gun too soon; that he ought to have waited till much nearer the election so that the Republicans could not have time to meet the charge. The Governor's view is that the Republicans should have all the time they want to give the Senate investigating committee the necessary time to show the American people that what he has stated gives only a hint of what may be revealed. He tells the Senate committee to get the names of the Republican chairmen and down to the county organization and it will learn the amount of money being raised and the sources from which it is coming. What the candidate is after is to show the enormous amount of money being raised and the taint on it.

Another thing that is giving the Republicans much uneasiness at this stage of the campaign is the practically open hostility of organized labor. Cox in his speeches has emphasized the point that big business is pouring its money into the Republican treasury to install a party in the Federal government that will use the bayonet against strikers. Gumpers fears this. He has already made a speech almost openly endorsing the Democratic candidate and for nearly two weeks there has been a paper editor in Cox's belt, being an ally of both Cox and Harding's records on labor by the leaders of the American Federation of Labor.

This analysis shows that in almost every instance the Democratic candidate while he was in Congress and Governor voted to favor labor in legislation. On the other hand Harding's record shows that he voted against the interests of labor in fully 75 per cent of instances. Gumpers calls this a comparison of the two candidates records a non-partisan one. He is too clever a politician to try to force his organization to take sides. But he says look for yourselves, there are the facts.

The Republicans are saying that the hostility of organized labor will cause interests that are hostile to organized labor to consolidate in favor of their party. But the Republican party monopolizes every interest in this country that opposes organized labor. The Republicans cannot look with equanimity upon hostile labor.

Empty House Greet Men Who Answer Call

Chief Beats Men To It And Makes Off With The Equipment

Dunk! Dunk! Dunk! The sultry air of midday yesterday was rent with the clang of the big bell that hangs 'neath the water tower. Volunteer firemen scattered about town hopped onto automobiles, wagons and bicycles in a mad rush for city hall where is quartered under ordinary circumstances the truck which carries the fire fighting equipment.

They arrived in record time. But Consternation. Ye Gods and it! fishes. The truck was missing. It had vanished. Deep, dark and dank mystery. Had Sinn Feiners, Bolsheviki or woman suffragists accomplished their fell purpose to wreck the town. Nobody knew what had happened.

Pearl Harris, Doc Sexton's man Friday, volunteered the information that Chief John Thornton had appeared on the scene and with his boy Roscoe had made way with the machine. So the company followed to the scene of the usual fire—Pope's mill.

Chief John, however, had overlooked the slight incident of hose and was having a time with the boys when the boys arrived. While they were rushing back up town to get a few sections, the fire went out.

DEFINITE TREND TO LOWER PRICES

Committee Reviews Crop And Business Outlook

Washington, Aug. 20.—Business and industrial conditions during the remainder of the calendar year will be marked by a "definite trend to a somewhat lower level of prices, according to a semi-annual report upon crops and business given out today by the United States Chamber of Commerce. The committee which prepared the report added that financial opinion in the country was that the readjustment would be accomplished without "financial disorder or any sudden economic calamity."

Tight money, unrest of labor, the loosened bonds in some phases of social life, the Russian-Poland war, and the high cost of necessities are enumerated as disturbing business factors, but there is no need for the country to become panicky over any of these matters.

Trend to Lower Level "Amid all the cross currents and eddies of the industrial situation, a definite trend seems to be slowly developing toward a gradually increasing gain of supply upon demand and a somewhat lower level of prices," the committee reported.

"Here and there mills have shut down. Here and there they are running on reduced time. It is a scattered and local matter rather than a general proposition."

Auto Output Slower "The automobile industry seems to be headed toward somewhat lessened output. Also the jewelry business in New England is slowing down. Conversely paper mills are busy and full of orders. Equally is this true of the metal lines."

Construction and building have slowed down because of high prices and scarcity of both labor and materials.

Coal mining as usual has its flock of troubles—strikes and lack of cars being the principal ones.

Religion Enters Into All Things In Falcon Town

Mayor Opens Court With Prayer—Also Prosecutes Men Says Dunn Lawyer

Falcon folk are consistent. It is religious settlement they have there and religion plays its part in everything they do.

James Best, junior member of the firm of Young and Best, lawyers, went down there the other day to defend Roland Goff, C. L. Tew and J. A. Edwards, who were charged with having exceeded automobile speed laws. The case came up before Mayor Autry. Jim was much impressed when his Honor opened the little court with prayer. He was confident that here justice would certainly be meted out—Jim, of course, believing that justice would discharge his clients.

But, said the young lawyer when he returned to town, "the mayor seemed to mistake his role. Instead of being judge of the facts he undertook to be prosecuting attorney."

The result was that the alleged speeders were fined ten bones and the case. Jim couldn't see it that way and appealed the case to Cumberland Superior Court.

Mayor Autry, however, was not to be swerved from his determination to make it as hard for speeders as he conscientiously can.

Both the Democratic candidates are well known in the district. Mr. Grady has been a State figure for a number of years, is an able lawyer and a brilliant campaigner. Mr. Williams is a member of the law firm of Williams and Williams, of Sanford.

Sugar Price Falls 5 1-2 Cents

New Orleans, Aug. 20.—The wholesale price of granulated sugar was reduced 5 1/2 cents today by the Henderson Refinery, making the price to retailers 17 cents.

Cox Almost Certain To Speak At Fair This Year

It now seems almost certain that Governor James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for President, will speak here at the opening of the Dunn Fair on Tuesday, October 12. George K. Grantham, member of the Legislature, who is aiding T. L. Riddick, secretary of the fair, stated that he had enlisted the aid of Tom Warren, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, in the project and was confident that success would attend the effort.

Governor Cox is to make three speeches in North Carolina this fall, according to information given Mr. Grantham by Mr. Warren. Dates and places have not been fixed, but Mr. Warren is confident that he can get the candidate to come in October. If he decides to visit the State during the week of Dunn's fair, Mr. Warren will endeavor to bring him here.

The aid of Representative Edward Fou also has been secured by Mr. Grantham, who is a close personal friend of the congressman. Robert N. Page, former congressman, and Chas. Ross, his campaign manager in the recent Democratic gubernatorial campaign, also are among those who are helping to bring Governor Cox here. Mr. Rose is chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Christmas Toys Arrive Tacoma, Aug. 20.—Seven thousand cases of Christmas toys from Japan are being unloaded here from two Japanese steamers. The toys are said to be almost every important article in the United States. A total of 875,000 articles is in the shipment.

THIS STATE GETS BIG PAPER PLANT

Ohio Concern With Fibre Mill at Canton Build Finishing Plant

Cincinnati, Aug. 20.—Official announcement was made at Hamilton, Ohio, main office of the Champion Coated Paper Company, the Fibre Trust Company of America that the corporation had decided to soon begin the erection of an extraordinary comprehensive paper mill in North Carolina, owing to the exceptional power supply to be found in that State suitable to the purpose of that corporation.

Champion interests have at present a vast plant for the manufacture of paper fibre at Canton, N. C. The pulp mill at once be taken from the fibre plant to the new paper mill which it is expected will be the largest in all America. The new mill will manufacture the finest book and magazine paper. The new plant will only have mammoth paper making machines especially designed. It is expected that at least three thousand hands will be employed at the beginning and this number increased as the occasion requires. The annual payroll is expected to go over three million dollars.

The Champion Coated Paper Company started from a small beginning at Hamilton a few years ago but as a result of securing the largest U. S. government and New York magazine contracts now occupies many city squares in that suburb of this city.

Peter G. Thompson, of College Hill Cincinnati, is its president. The new interest in the ports of Southern states and their advantage in shipping to South American countries has a decided weight in the selection of North Carolina for this mammoth paper making plant, according to the Champion Company officials as also North Carolina has an abundance of labor. Building operations will begin in the fall. The North Carolina water power facilities so necessary in the paper making trade has also been a deciding factor in the decision, favoring that State.

POPE REUNION On Wednesday, August 25th, 1920 there occurred an event that will long be remembered by the family of George F. Pope, when his kindfolk gathered together under the shade of the old trees on Rhode's Pond dam to celebrate his 50th birthday. The crowd assembled about 11:30 a. m. to pay respects to the barbecue, fried chicken, ice cream and various other good things to eat, which had been prepared for the occasion. After grace had been said by M. B. Pope of Wallace, dinner was served.

When dinner was finished they talked about the days when they were jads, walking to school via the dam on which they were standing and how they stopped and skated on the pond when it was a field of ice.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pope and son George, of Mount Olive; M. B. Pope and son, Marcellus, of Wallace; P. F. Pope and family, of Mayville; J. D. Pope and family, of Coats; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pope, of Godwin; R. W. Pope, of Dunn; Mrs. Lou Mabry, of Wilson; Chris McClellan, L. A. Tart, and Walter Jones, of Dunn.

Resulted From The Disastrous Touring Of Hughes

DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM IS MOST PROGRESSIVE

Vice-Presidential Nominee Asserts Governor Cox's Exposure of Republican Party's Campaign Money Methods Demonstrates Its Tendency To Go Backward.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 20.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, Vice-Presidential candidate, speaking at the Union Pacific station here today, declared the Democratic party this year offered the most progressive program presented to the American electorates. The front porch rocking chair plan of presenting issues by the opposition party, he said, resulted from the disastrous "Isn't it awful, Mabel" touring of Hughes in 1916, and he added that the disclosures of Governor Cox with reference to campaign expenditures would demonstrate to the people that the Republican party's proposed road would mean going backward, placing the reins of the country's affairs largely in the hands of the selfish few.

Big Campaign Issue This contest between progressive and reactionary ideas, he declared, was the biggest issue before the people.

"It was a handful of reactionaries which elected the Republican nominee. Not only in our domestic affairs but the platform appeal to the stomachs of men like an old full dinner pail slogan, but in international affairs it also evidences hope and progress—the hope and aim that with the nations of the world gathered around the table with the purpose of averting war, wars would be averted."

Special stress was the point that "Germany herself looked forward to the League of Nations for reconstruction and justice and it was America's high duty to aid the German people themselves, now that the war was over, as well as it was the duty to aid other European nations."

Turning to the question of party organization, Mr. Roosevelt said he would devote more attention to that in his address at Omaha tonight. He declared that unquestionably a certain amount of publicity was legitimate and required funds; but that the fund being raised by the Republicans was so vast as to warrant the fixed conviction in advance that it could not all be expended legitimately.

Time Not Passed Yet "And this was attempted at a time when the public had begun to believe we had got by the lavish expenditures of money in a political campaign and the contributions of corporations and individuals for selfish purposes."

Mr. Roosevelt received some applause on the League of Nations reference but more on his remarks addressed to campaign expenditures. MAORIE MARRIED 1600.—N. N. Bachelors Say Bonedicts Have More

Post-War Immigration Records Again Broken Nearly 19,000 Aliens Pour Into Ellis Island in Week; Much Congestion

New York, Aug. 20.—Arrival here of 18,691 aliens during the week ended today broke all immigration records at Ellis Island since before the war. Inspections of 16,438 of them were completed up to this morning, with 2,253 yet to be passed upon.

Probably the worst congestion in the history of the immigration station confronted Ellis Island authorities tonight when considerably more than 2,000 must be housed and fed.

In a statement tonight Commissioner of Immigration Wallis said: "Judging from information received from steamship agents, I must conclude that next week will bring more aliens to New York than the record-breaking figure this week. Every ship is coming loaded, and some big stowage-carrying vessels are due to arrive."

"From now on it will be merely a matter of ships. Hundreds of thousands of people in various parts of Europe are clamoring for a chance to come to America. The passport regulations, although restrictive in their nature and operation, are having nothing to do with the number of immigrants, for there are thousands more who qualify with passports than our limited number of ships can bring here."
