MEMORIAL DAY
Today in every county of North Carolina men and women are gathered to pay homage to the immortals who followed Lee and Jackson and Johnston through the battles of that most terrible of all conflicts, the War Between the States. It is fitting that they do this, for in the annals of history there is not to be found a record so filled with heroism, devotion to duty and love of country.

Those men who trekked through desolated fields of the Southland and carried their tattered banners to borders of Pennsylvania—those boys, hungry and ragged through four years of war—fought for a principle that still lives in the heart of every true American. Though vanquished they were victors. Today every American youth is proud to feel that the blood of such men flows through his veins.

It is on this day that the minds of those of us to whom they have handed down a priceless heritage turn to their deeds. We honor the dead. We are proud of their achievement. In our pride we are prone to forget that many of their brothers are still with us; that many of them are trudging through the evening of life in need and are given too little attention. In the more impoverished days of our State the men who were our defenders in that great war could not be given much. They then were strong and vigorous—most of them were. Now the decrepitude of age is upon them. Fortunate most are in comfortable circumstances, but we perpetrate a crime so long as we allow one of them suffer want. The State should provide a home and comfort for every man who wore the gray and is unable to provide it for himself.

THE NEW BOARD
Dunn is peculiarly fortunate in the choice of its Mayor and Board of Commissioners by the electorate last week. It would be hard to find a more evenly balanced set of men than those five who are to guide the municipality through the next twelvemonths. It is true that each of the defeated candidates was a man of genuine worth, fully up to any of the board's genuine patriotism, but it is not probable that the choice of either could have made an improvement upon the administration as it is now constituted.

With Richard M. Warren and P. A. Lee as members of the board we have an excellent balance wheel for the energy of Ellis Goldstein and the progressiveness of William H. Newberry. In Mayor J. Lloyd Wade we have a man who can be trusted to do the wise thing at all times. Neither of these men can be rashly off his feet by the fool notions of fanatics; would take a step calculated to damage the welfare of the community.

The Dispatch is certain that the administration of this board will be one of the most popular in the history of the town. It is confident that the board will strive to make the town move forward in every helpful way. And that, too, economically and efficiently.

A COMMUNITY CENTER
That is an excellent suggestion made by Secretary T. L. Riddle to the effect that Lucknow Square be made the site of a community building to contain rest rooms for our visitors, offices for the Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club, American Legion and other organizations of the town, and a public auditorium.

No better use for the square could be found, and The Dispatch is confident that officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad could be induced to cooperate with the community in this direction at least to the extent of abandoning its effort to acquire title to the property.

Dunn needs such a building as this. It would provide an assembly place for its young and old folks and would concentrate the effort of all its civic agencies in way that a great good would be accomplished. At present our young folk are without a meeting place that appeals. They are obliged to frequent the streets, the restaurants, drug stores and other unsuitable places where they are some times unwelcome.

In a community building proper supervision could be given the town's youth and the youthful mind could be turned into helpful channels. By all means, let us work for Riddle's idea.

Crop Information For Farmers

A farmer asked an employee of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture today this question: "Why is it that the farmers are not better posted on agricultural conditions and fall to make a business success of it?"

The successful farmer, as well as other business men of North Carolina has been and will be the man who studies his business and its relation to other branches bearing directly or indirectly upon it. Thus playing the game from start to finish and watching for every break. For future operations can only be based on past and present tendencies.

The farmers of North Carolina have at their service a medium through which they can get a more comprehensive view of the basic industry of agriculture in the State. This medium is the Crop Reporting Service of North Carolina. From thousands of voluntary reporters over the state, this office disseminates to many farmers and business concerns, substantial and dependable statistics on agriculture, showing condition, tendencies, and future prospects. These monthly conditions and prices, yearly averages, yields and total productions of major and minor crops; also reports on livestock. Thus aiding the farmers to understand more concisely the tendencies along agricultural lines. All reporters get the benefits of the consolidated results showing present conditions and averages for periods of five and ten years. Of course it's an old adage that figures are cold and uninteresting, but claim supported by facts are valuable, while substantial facts are valuable and are fundamental to success in the business world.

The Crop Reporting Service is ever ready to aid the farmers who want to aid themselves and suggests that they investigate and secure the advantages of this Service. To produce the body of a murdered man in court as evidence, a Canadian Northwest Mounted Police officer "manahed" by dog team four hundred miles south to the nearest justice's court on the Slave River judging the body at the trial of the murderer who was captured deep in the northwest wilderness.

A engineer and fireman on a transcontinental train left their engine recently to rescue from a burning farmhouse near Cochrane, Ont., an invalid mother and her son. The boy jumped from the second story into their arms.

Chicago police will use wireless telephones in their war on crime. A wireless is being installed on the roof of the city hall for constant communication with fireboats, rifle squads, fire engine houses, patrol wagons and police stations. Officials hope ultimately to have every policeman equipped with receiving apparatus, weighing but a few ounces.

The Maine blue-sky law is so strictly enforced that many companies which have no difficulty in securing licenses to offer their securities in other blue-sky states have to resort to the medium of the mails to transact business in that state.

Pythians Plan Big Time Here Thursday

Grand lodge officials of North Carolina Knights of Pythias and scores of other members of the order are expected here Thursday to attend the district meeting to be held with the local lodge. E. W. R. McCoin, of Henderson, Grand Chancellor of the order will be among the visitors. An elaborate program of entertainment is being arranged by Ellis Goldstein, chairman. E. T. Lee, Frank Draughon, H. S. Freeman, James Best and G. L. Cannady, who comprise the entertainment committee. This program includes a big fish fry at Rhodes Pond at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. After the fish fry the company will return to Dunn and begin at 7:30 o'clock to initiate twelve candidates into the mysteries of Pythianism.

The degree work will be done by an especially picked team of initiators and a full complement of full-blooded Angoras.

The program open at 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the lodge rooms will be opened for reception of the visitors and for the investigation of applications.
