WHITE WAY THEATRE PROGRAM

MONDAY "Daughter of the Law" Universal Special Attraction

TUESDAY "Behind the Mask" with Dorothy Dalton. Paramount Feature—Pathé News.

WEDNESDAY "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" with Jack Pickford. Goldwyn.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Highsmith have returned from Baltimore.

Rev. T. Sloan Guy, of Wendell, was here this week to visit relatives.

Miss Clyde Snead has returned home after spending several weeks in Handeman.

Miss Reva Jernigan was a visitor to friends in Fayetteville Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. C. Hodges is spending the week in Mount Olive, visiting relatives and friends.

Former Sheriff and Mrs. J. McK. Byrd, of Coats, are here today to visit Mrs. Foy Pittman.

A. B. Naylor left Wednesday for Birmingham, where his son, Eugene Naylor, is reported to be very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Tilghman are visiting relatives in Norfolk and are expected to return home next week.

To get a medium-priced range without a fault, buy a Cole's Down Draft Range. They are made by experts.

Misses Helen, Vaughn and Ruth Westbrook and Fulton Lee returned Tuesday from a visit to friends at Wake Forest.

Mrs. Raymond Gainey and her little son, Raymond Gainey, Jr., have returned from a brief visit to friends in Wilson.

Morris Fishman has returned to Baltimore after spending several days with relatives and business associates here and in Fayetteville.

The first sacred concert by the Dunn Concert Band is scheduled for Sunday afternoon. The public is invited to hear it. Only sacred music will be included in the program.

L. H. Woolard has purchased the Winnifred Tart old place situated on Black River, from E. N. Tart. Norman May Tart and Winnifred Tart. The tract contains 52 acres.

Machinery for a large knitting mill at Falcon was unloaded here last week. It is understood that the mill will be in operation within a few days and that it will give employment to a large number of operatives.

Many of Dunn's people were in Clinton yesterday to attend the Sampson County Fair. All report that the attendance was much larger than they had expected to see and that the fair was one of the best they had ever seen.

Mrs. C. L. Alpha has requested The Dispatch to thank the Aversboro singing class, which participated in the County Sing at Lillington several weeks ago, for the donation of $25 they tendered her. The $25 was won by the class in the singing contest.

The Wesley Bible Class will be guests of the Dine Street Methodist Wesley Bible Class next Sunday, according to an announcement being mailed out to all members of the class today. Special orchestral music will be a feature of the morning's program. Every member is earnestly urged to be present.

William H. Morgan, once a tobacco warehouseman here and now located in Raleigh, passed through Dunn Wednesday en route from Fayetteville to Raleigh. He said that the tobacco warehouse business in Raleigh was very good and that he expected the market to become one of the leaders in the old belt.

Colonel Dave Gaster, who has been here for several days arranging for the reorganization of the Odd Fellows lodge, will leave tomorrow for his home at Hope Mills. Colonel Gaster is well pleased with the fine showing made by the local lodge and says that he believes it will soon become one of the strongest in the State.

William P. Surles has bought the large automobile garage until recently operated by B. B. Jernigan in East Broad Street and will soon employ a full force of expert mechanics preparatory to enlarging the operations of the business. Mr. Surles' business activities here now include merchandising, cotton buying and automobile repairing and selling.

A fellow cannot always depend on what he hears to be true. This has been shown on the local cotton market several times this season, but never more than on one day, this week when some touts for a neighboring market spread the report that buyers there were paying half a cent above the Dunn market. One good farmer had two bales of cotton on his wagon ready to dump on the local yard. He wanted that half cent, so, away he went to the other town. Three hours later he was back with the same cotton. He was a wiser man than he who drove away. The other market did appear to be higher, but the buyers graded him down until they offered less than had been offered here.

"Forbidden Love," scheduled to appear here last Tuesday night, was forbidden love indeed. It did not show up when the show down came to show. All of which was very embarrassing to Manager Earl Barefoot, who had billed the attraction in good faith, although at the last moment, after reading Raleigh press notices, he was somewhat anxious about the reception that would be given it here. It may be just as well. The young fellows who had "put out" the necessary to take their best girls to the show had their money returned and are now all set for the home talent offerings soon to be staged. Manager Barefoot has been unable to get in communication with the management of the subsequent company. The company was traveling in motors. It seems to have been spurious verisimilitude somewhere in the mud between here and Raleigh.

Assaulted And Robbed

Still dazed from a blow from a heavy stick on the back of his head, Joe Hunt, negro employed on the Dunn-Clinton highway, staggered into the office of Chief of Police Page Monday evening and charged that he had been assaulted by Henry Williams, fellow employe, and robbed of $178.

According to Hunt he and Williams were walking together to town. A short distance from the town limits, he said, Williams stopped behind him and struck him with a heavy stick, knocking him unconscious. When he regained consciousness his money and Williams had disappeared.

Fine Work on Streets

Compliments for the efficient work done by the street cleaning and maintenance department under the direction of N. B. Bass are many. Never have the streets and sidewalks been kept cleaner or in better condition than they have been since Mr. Bass was appointed superintendent of the department.

There is one stretch of street, however, that "Mister Jeff" wants looked after. It is that part of Wilson Avenue extending from the northern end of the pavement to the oil mills. Traffic over this part of the avenue will be heavy until the seed pressing season is completed. Mister Jeff desires that the commission and Mr. Bass provide the materials necessary for the repairing.

Bag Hundred-Pound Deer

John W. Draughon, Neill S. Green and Dr. R. L. Warren returned Wednesday night from the lower reaches of Black and Cape Fear Rivers, bringing with them the left hind foot and one quarter of a 100-pound doe killed by one of the party while on the expedition.

Deer and other game are plentiful below White Lake, according to members of the party. Wild turkeys are numerous, they say, but the season for them is still closed.

E. F. Young in Case

Ernest F. Young, of the local bar, will be associated with Godwin and Williams as counsel for the town in the Lucknow Square case which is to be heard in Superior Court Tuesday week. Mr. Young's services were sought by the railway company, but he refused to aid it in its fight against the town.

All members of the town's council are confident that they can convince a jury that the town of Dunn really owns the property now used as a cotton yard and claimed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company.

New Pastor Here

Rev. and Mrs. E. N. Johnson and their daughter, Miss Meredith Johnson, formerly of Reidsville, arrived Wednesday afternoon to make their home in Dunn and are quartered in the new parsonage in Layton Ave., recently purchased from Arthur Pope.

Mr. Johnson is the new pastor of the First Baptist church. He will preach his first sermon here next Sunday morning. His evening sermon will be heard by all Protestant congregations in town, since all pastors have announced that there will be no Sunday evening services in the Protestant churches and asked their flocks to welcome the new pastor.

Mr. Johnson conducted prayer meeting services in his church Wednesday evening. Those who attended these services were very favorably impressed with him.

Odd Fellows Organize

Reorganization of Lucknow Lodge No. 115, Independent Order of Odd Fellows under the name of Dunn Lodge No. 115 was completed last night when twenty-one new members were initiated into the mysteries of the order and a new charter was issued by the grand lodge. Officers were elected as follows:

Harper McDaniel, Holiday, noble grand; James W. Driver, vice-grand; H. Alley Parker, recording secretary; Mitchell Hargrove, financial secretary; Kidredge Lee, treasurer.

The lodge now has about fifty active members and will immediately begin an intensive campaign to enroll all former Odd Fellows in the activities of the lodge.

Headed by C. O. Baird, superintendent of the Odd Fellows Orphanage at Goldsboro the Goldsboro de-Zee team was here for the initiation ceremonies. Grand Secretary John D. Berry, of Raleigh, was also here to take part in the ceremonies.

GRIMES-HOLLAND

Clinton News Dispatch Miss Bessie Holland and Mr. W. H. Grimes were married on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Holland, in Solemburg. Rev. W. J. Jones, of the Pineal School for Girls was the officiating minister.

The room was decorated in the colors, white and yellow. Miss Sallie Naylor, of Dunn, played the wedding march.

The bride was unusually pretty, dressed in a traveling suit of navy blue broad cloth and a blue hat. She carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Little Miss Louise Holland, niece of the bride, was ring bearer. She was dressed in a dress of white organdie and carried a yellow chrysanthemum. The groomsmen were Messrs. Tom Core, Willie Clifton, Guy Hooks, of Dunn, and Monroe Holland, brother of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Misses Eva Strickland, Eleanor Grimes sister of the groom, and Lela Strickland, of Dunn, and Agnes Griffin, formerly of Dunn.

They were dressed of white and yellow organdie. Their flowers were chrysanthemums. The bride is a popular young woman, who has been employed in Dunn as stenographer by Smith and Turnage for several months.

Mr. Grimes was raised near Coats and is now head of the jewelry department of Butler Brothers' store in Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimes left for a brief visit to Washington. When they return they will make their home in Dunn.

FOCH TO LAY WREATH ON TOMB OF GEN. LEE

Lexington, Va., Nov. 3.—Marshal Foch today accepted, in a telegram to officials of Washington and Lee university, an invitation to visit Lexington and lay a wreath on the tomb of Robert E. Lee. Presentation to the marshal of the degree of doctor of laws, conferred on him by the university, will take place at the same time. It was announced. The date of the visit has not been fixed.

The Lost Card

Seated one day by the furnace, I was weary and fit to sneeze. And my fingers were aching badly. And I thought that I would freeze.

I do not know what I was doing. Only I was shaking then. And I needed ten cords of stove wood. Like thousands of other men.

So I started for the wood yard. And the woodyard number called. And the answer came like an echo. The woodyard man merely stalled.

He seemed perplexed at my meaning. And repeated again and again. That unless I sent the money I would order and order in vain.

So I sent the bucks from my savings. And ordered ten cords of pine. And measured it up very carefully. And found I only had nine.

I have regretted but seek it vainly. That one lost cord of pine. Which stayed in the yards of the woodman. But never entered into mine.

It may be that some time in buying I may buy that cord again. Or it may be I may find it in the yards of other men. Jack Dempsey Bullock.

SWEET SAMPSON LIMERICS

(A Cynic) A burly young man down in Sampson, As smooth as you e'er laid your lamps on. Went out and stole corn. As sure as you are born.

He'd a partner whose name was not Henry, Who had the corn ground fine a plenty; They'd a bulldog named Bill, And a nice copper still.

That of gallons would hold more than twenty. For fear that the fun will diminish. A we'd of advice and I finish; You needn't go far. In the Reddy Branch you can replenish.

FIRST PASSENGER TRAIN IN HISTORY OF HYDE COUNTY

Washington, N. C., Nov. 2.—For the past two weeks the people of Hyde county have been enjoying the first passenger train in their history. A daily train is now running from Wenaona, Beaufort county to New Holland, Hyde county. The train leaves Wenaona each morning at 7 o'clock and returns in the afternoon.

This train has already proved to be quite convenient to these good people. Hurrah for old Hyde county. This is something they have long needed.

THE "OLD RELIABLE"

THE DORFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Theford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Theford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Theford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Theford's, the genuine.

McCaskill Nominated

Washington, Nov. 3.—The long delayed nomination of Alexander L. McCaskill, of Fayetteville, to be collector of customs for the Wilmington, N. C. district, was sent by President Harding. The nomination apparently came as a surprise to former Senator Marion Butler, who has been opposing Mr. McCaskill, and he refused to comment upon the development, saying he might have something to say a little later.

President Harding also sent in the nominations of postmasters at three North Carolina offices, including Winston-Salem, the largest city in the lot. At Winston-Salem John T. Benbow is named postmaster. Laura M. Gavin was nominated postmaster at Kenansville. Yesterday the President appointed postmasters at Gastonia, Dallas and Williamston, and postoffice nominations for nearly all states are now coming in at a rapid rate.

While the ratings of the eligibles are not made public, it is reported here that Mr. Benbow did not stand highest on the eligible list. The department, however, reserves the right to select any one of three. Mr. Benbow is a Republican.

Reports that a selection had been made at Greensboro were not to be confirmed today. Instead, the postoffice department says the civil service commission had not yet graded the Greensboro applicants and no certification had been made. Consequently it was said the Greensboro appointment is not even in tentative shape.

The appointment of Mr. Benbow at Winston-Salem represents the principal postoffice appointment Mr. Harding has made in North Carolina since coming into office. North Carolina nominations to date have been for smaller cities than Winston-Salem.

The appointment of Mr. McCaskill as customs collector for the Wilmington district seems not so well won. Former Senator Butler, district chief, said he did not know it was going in today and seemed a bit startled and flabbergasted that it had come in.

"Just say that I have no comment to make at this time," said Mr. Butler. "I may say something later."

The arrival of long shirts may add hundreds of paragraphs to the ranks of the unemployed.—Nashville Tennessean.

Origin of Old Saying. The original quotation, "I fear the Greeks bearing gifts" appears in Vergil's Aeneid. The reference is to the city of Troy. The Greeks besieged the city of Troy without success. Finally they resorted to strategy, offering a huge wooden horse to the Trojans as a gift. The horse was taken into the city and while the Trojans slept, the warriors, with which the horse was filled, came forth and opened the gates for their Greek comrades. The conclusion is that one should fear an enemy when he seems friendly.

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead For Three Months. "I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Bykes Butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a cake of BATH-SOAP behind a barrel. Months later my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 36c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Hood and Cushman, Wilson & Lee and Butler Bros.

Fast Landlords will cheer the ruling of a New York court, that rents must be based on the landlord's investment not on present market value of the property.

It reverses a ruling made a few months ago by another court. It decided that the landlord, who bought at top prices, before the market broke,

Wedded Seven Sisters

Atlantic, Ia.—Fred Harris, 39 years old, has married the last of Peter Yost's daughters. The bride, aged 48, is the seventh of the Yost sisters to wed Harris. Her name was Miss Gustave Eidsman.

Years ago Harris began marrying the daughters of Yost, one time a sailor on the Great Lakes, when the eldest became his bride. He went down the line to the youngest, the former Mrs. Eidsman. She had been married three times before her wedding to Harris. Her last husband perished in the Minnesota forest fires of 1919.

Five of the Yost daughters were widows before marrying Harris. Years ago Harris drove a hack in Chicago, but recently bought a small farm here, on which he will pass his remaining years.
