LOWER IN COTTON

afevorable Financial Devel ent. Furnish Selling Pressure

New Orleans, La. Jan. 8 .- The and was lower in the cotton marke last week the high prices being reach ed on the opening session while the lowest levels were reached toward the end. From advances of 10 to 15 points over the close of the preceding week prices fell to levels 97 to 122 points under. March traded up to 18 30 and then fell to 16.93. The close was at net losses of 74 to 83 points with the March at 17.32. In the spot department middling lost 50 points, closing at 17.25 which compared with 14.00 cents as the closing price a year ago.

Unfavorable financial developments, both on this side of the water and in Europe, furnished much of the selling pressure. In the early tending the bank troubles at Chicago were the main influence, the cloth fallure at Manchester caused selling in the later sessions while toward the close the stock market difficulties in Italy bad their effect although the closing sessions of the week had a much steadier tone because of mesages from Raly stating that the troubles had been smoothed over and hat the stock Exchanges would resume trading next week.

The statistics of the week were very bullish but had little effect because the attention of the trade was so taken up by matters outside the cotton industry itself. The export movement bulged across the three million bale mark, because of the large shipments of the week mill takings were 310,000 bales against 315,000,000 pounds 274,000 last week and 297,000 this been accounted for. week last year, while the visible supply of American cotton decreases 74,579 bales against an increase this week last year of 15,862 and a decrease this week two years ago of 18,362 over a year ago and a 18,376. At the end of the week the world's visible supply of American cotton was 4,420,358 blase against 4,490,-552 a year ago and 4,485,484 two years ago.

Considerable interest was taken in the ginning situation which promises to he a dominating influence during the week to come because of the report from the census bureau due on the opening Tuesday, carrying the crop down to the first of January.

GROWERS DECIDE ELECTION DATE

Cotton Association Organization Committee Meets; To-bacco Growers Today

Dates for primaries, conventions and elections for the selection of directors for the North Carolina Coton Grewers Co-operative Marketing Association were fixed at a meetir of the organization committee of the association in Ralsigh Wednesday County primaries will be held in the cotton growing counties of the State on January 16 at which time delegates will be elected to represent the prowers of the county in a district onvention which will be held in each of the ten districts two days later. At this time nominations will be made for directors, the nominees being ubmitted to the members of the asociation in an election by ballot to se held on January 31.
