Frank S. Cullum, of Sanford, is here on business.

Miss Kathryn Allen has returned from a visit to her mother in North Emporia, Va.

Mrs. J. B. Hobgood of Louiburg, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Wade this week.

Miss Donnie Honeycutt, of Buies Creek, was here this week to visit her sister, Mrs. Jesse M. Wilson.

Mrs. J. T. Guy and her mother, Mrs. Susan Early, left yesterday for Norfolk to attend the funeral of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams, of Astryville, spent Sunday here as a guest of her sister, Mrs. Jesse M. Wilson.

Misses Myrtle and Fannie Harper, of Wendell, and F. F. Grimes, of Wilson, were here last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. McD. Holliday.

Ellis Goldstein will leave Saturday for New York where he will complete purchases of spring and summer goods for the Goldstein stores.

Mrs. J. B. Long continues very ill at her home in Lillington. Mrs. J. C. Goodwin left Dunn yesterday to be with Mrs. Long in her illness.

Mrs. Lizzie Monds was carried to a Richmond, Va., hospital Thursday night. Her condition is not considered serious but she will probably remain at the hospital for several weeks for treatment.

J. S. Warren, who has held a position with the J. L. Thompson Company for the past several months, has given up his work with this firm and is now associated with the Johnson Cotton Co.

E. J. Nobles, manager of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, spent a short while in Lillington this week. He says the company's automatic service in Lillington is giving satisfaction.

Sam M. Byrd, of Bunnsville, returned home Sunday from Richmond, where he had been in a hospital for treatment for several weeks. His many friends will be glad to learn that he has recovered his health.

James Augustus Poole, of the United States Internal Revenue Department, will transfer his office to Raleigh next week. He will remain there for some time assisting in the listing of corporation income taxes, etc.

News was received by relatives in Dunn today of the serious illness of Isaac W. Wade, an old resident of the town. He is ill at the home of a daughter in Smithfield. He has suffered a second stroke of paralysis and is not expected to recover.

If telephone users want a continuation of their telephone service after the fifteenth of this month, they had better get their bills paid before that time. Manager Nobles has been instructed to discontinue service to all who have not paid by that time.

George K. Grantham attended a meeting of the financial committee of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association in Raleigh this week. The committee arranged for the holding of the annual convention of the organization in Winston-Salem in June.

M. H. Spears, deputy collector attached to the federal revenue department, has been here for three days assisting income tax payers with their returns. He will complete his work here today, but hopes to return again soon. His offices here have been established in the Commercial Bank.

Oscar W. Johnson, sixty-five years old, died yesterday morning at his home near Duke. Funeral services are being held this afternoon and burial will be made in Greenwood Cemetery with Masonic honors. Mr. Johnson was well known in Dunn and had many warm friends among his people. He was connected with the Dunn Oil Mills Company at one time. He is survived by his widow.

No bid low enough to suit the board of trustees has yet been received on the proposed grammar school building which is to be erected on the property recently purchased by the board from P. T. Massengill. The board thinks the structure can be erected for less than $60,000. Contractors seem not to be able to agree with the board members. The lowest bid yet received is slightly over $66,000.

Agent of the Federal department of revenue will be in Dunn on Monday, February 20th, to assist individuals and corporations in making their income tax returns, according to a circular just received from Gilliam Grissom, collector of internal revenue. The agent will be in Clinton on Wednesday, March 1, and in Fayetteville on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 21 and 22. All returns must be made on dates named to have advantage of expert assistance.

Dunn's basketball team was defeated by Fayetteville in the second game of a three game series when the teams met at Fayetteville Wednesday night. The score was 43 to 19. The first game, played last week, was won by Dunn, 23 to 15. The Dunn boys have a perfect alibi for the last game, however—it was played in the dark to which their opponents had accustomed themselves, and on an indoor court. Had Willie Newberry not carried his flashlight in his pocket it is unlikely that our fellows would have found the basket at all, a-tall.

Work on the mammoth cotton storage warehouse being built for the General Utility Company has been completed to the second floor, and the company is hopeful of having the structure completed before April 1. This will be the largest building in Dunn when it is completed. It will have a 200-foot front on Railroad Avenue and a 100-foot front on E. 1st street. The building is to be practically fire proof and will be equipped with the Grinnell fire extinguisher system. It will have storage room for about 10,000 bales of cotton.

Friends of Ben O. Townsend are gratified over the recognition which came his way at the initial meeting of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association directed his week. He was chosen secretary and treasurer of the association and a member of the executive committee of the board. The position of secretary and treasurer probably is the most important in the whole association and folk in Eastern Carolina who know that a better man could not have been found for the job. The association is now almost ready to begin its functions as the agency through which the cotton farmer is to be given a square deal. The organization of its executive officers and employees will be perfected within a short while. Six hundred Harnett farmers are members of the association.

Although clothed in the armor of gridiron gladiators, Lillington's basketball team refused to play the Dunn quint when it appeared on the county seat court yesterday afternoon for the second clash of the season between the two teams. As a result the game was forfeited to Dunn 2-0. The Lillington Lilies protested against the playing of one of the Dunn high school students, questioning his eligibility. When the Dunn fellows insisted that he play the Lilies refused to meet them. There was some bad feeling before that, however. The county seat boys were out for Dunn's blood. They contended that they had been roughly treated in their game here several days ago, forgetting that they had knocked out three of Dunn's fellows before the locals started retaliating. They were prepared for rough stuff, according to Professor Bunn, who coaches the Dunn quint, if the game had been played yesterday—they had all the regalia of footballers.

In Memory of Geo. E. Prince

Having been appointed a committee by the Wesley Bible Class of Divine Street Methodist Sunday School of Dunn to pay a tribute of respect to Bro. Geo. E. Prince; we do well indeed to pause from the problems of the present to recall the memory of one of Harnett County's most noble and worthy sons. Our town has lost one of its best men. Brother Prince moved to Dunn in 1898, he was a loyal member of the Methodist Episcopal church, south of this place, was elected Superintendent of our Sunday School in 1904, which office he filled with honor until the time of his death. During this period of eighteen years he was not absent more than a dozen Sundays. He joined the Church when a small boy and like that good mother of his, was a man of great faith. He was a member of the male quartet of our church and a great lover of sacred music. He was one of the leading merchants of our town and widely known as a business man over the state. In all of his dealings he was strictly honest and upright and won the confidence of our people at large. He was never heard to speak ill of another, would seek out that which was good in a man and enlarge upon that side of the individual's character. He was kind and sympathetic and drew to himself a host of friends whose love and loyalty for him grew greater as the years passed by.

We will always cherish the memory of Brother Prince and bow our heads in sorrow over the loss of our beloved Brother, but are submissive to the will of Him who doeth all things well realizing that our loss is his eternal gain. The Master has transplanted that pure and beautiful life into the great beyond, where there will be no sorrow, suffering, heart aches or pains, where the flowers will bloom forever and the sun will never set and where Brother Prince will never, no never grow old. Those of us who are left to follow on can see his great life as a beacon light along life's pathway and a stepping stone to a nobler and higher life.
